Once in a while the journalistic blackmailer meets his match. In San Francisco one of 'em ran down the steps of a prominent hotel on Friday yelling "murder" at the top of his voice. He had been interviewing Senator Fair and offered to refrain from publishing a scurrilous article about the senator for the consideration of $5,000. Fair knocked him over with his fist.

Ballard's Horehound Syrup.
A single bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup kept about your house for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor bill, and perhaps death, by the use of three or four doses. For curing consumption its success has been simply wonderful, and for ordinary coughs, colds, sore throat, croup, whooping cough, sore chest hemorrhages its effects are surprising and wonderful. Every bottle guaranteed. (C. W. Price, agent.)

The democratic organs which only a few weeks ago were boasting that Gen. Alger of Michigan, would sulk in his tent and thus permit them to carry the state for Cleveland are now accusing him of having made an enormous contribution to the republican campaign fund. Gen. Alger is really treating these able organs very cruelly. He could save them a vast amount of discomfort and woe by giving them a certified programme of what he proposes to do in this campaign.

He knows what he is writing about. Mr. R. McLeod, druggist, Hammingford, Neb., says: "I keep in stock a great variety of so called cures for diarrhoea and cholera morbus, but from a personal trial of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, I regard it as the best of any medicine in the market, for diarrhoea and all bowel complaints. It saved the life of our banker here." Sold by F. H. Longley.

England still continues to send over arguments for the election of Harrison and Morton and the retirement of Grover with his free trade theories. The London Economist says: "On the adoption of free trade by the United States depends the greater share of England's prosperity for a good many years to come." The British Hosiery Review reiterates: "We venture to say that England will reap the largest share of any advantages that may arise from the adoption of the ideas now advocated by the free trade party in the United States."

A WARNING.
The modes of death's approach are various and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from disease of the throat and lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of tubercle germs into his system and when these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and then by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs, producing consumption and to the head, causing catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allow a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose for your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your throat, lungs or nostrils, obtain a bottle of Roche's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

Emperor William displays great independence of character in his decision and exhibits a feverish energy which excites apprehension. He gets up in the morning like a day laborer, says a Berlin paper, and never, until bedtime, does his energy seem to involuntarily relax. He manages to review some regiment every day, and, if it is cavalry, he leads the troops himself. He is always at the beck and call of his Ministers, and enjoys sport daily and the final wearisome state dinner with the utmost gusto. The night is well worked up with correspondence and flying orders.

$25.00 Reward.
The above reward will be paid for any case of rheumatism not benefited by Ballard's Snow Liniment. There is no pain it will not subside, no wound it will not heal. It is the most penetrating liniment known for all cases. It is made of heat it stands without parallel. Ladies who have backache should never be without it. Price 50 cents. (C. W. Price, Agent.)

Tim Campbell, the Apollo of congress from New York, has been widely advertised in the democratic newspapers as looking for some fool republican who will bet him from ten thousand upward against twice the amount, that Harrison will be elected. The other day Senator Ingalls handed him a written offer of $12,500 against $25,000 from a syndicate in Iuka, Kas. Tim promptly backed water. He said it was all lie. He was merely getting some very cheap advertising as an old Roman from the democratic press, but he wasn't such a fool of an old Roman as to bet on Grover's election that way.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the most successful preparation ever produced for summer complaint, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Diarrhoea, Bloody Flux and Chronic Diarrhoea and thousands of persons will certify that they believe their lives have been saved by this great remedy. It is the one preparation that every family and every traveling man should be provided with, especially during the summer months. Many cases of chronic Diarrhoea that had resisted all other treatment are baffled the skill of good physicians have been permanently cured by it. Sold by F. H. Longley.

"Three Mule" Barnum, captain general of the English candidates campaign forces, has announced "officially" that the banner his followers will march under this fall shall be the "flag bandanna," a piece of colored cloth to be used in opposition to the stars and stripes adopted by the founders of the United States one hundred years ago. Twenty-seven years ago the majority of the democratic party grew dissatisfied with the national colors and adopted one of their own. Then it took four years to persuade them that one emblem was enough for this section of the world. This time, however, the mode of argument will be different, but the result the same.

A merchant, after selling and using an article for years, knows something of its merits. Mr. W. D. Haller, druggist, Blair, Neb., says: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and do not hesitate to say, that I think it the best of all medicines for diarrhoea and bowel complaints generally." Sold by F. H. Longley.

Speaking of the case of poisoning at Curtis of which we referred to last week, the Record says: The party who got the belladonna, Mr. Morgan, brother-in-law of Miss Evans, was accustomed to take the dandelion, and it was at his suggestion that Miss Evans sent for it. Mr. Morgan noticed that the article did not appear like that which he was used to taking, and mentioned the fact to Mr. Baker. That it was thinner than usual. This was explained by saying that it was the warm weather that made it thin. Being thus convinced that the medicine was all right, he took it home with him and just after the institute closed on Tuesday, Miss Evans took a large dose, of from 15 to 20 grains, supposing it to be dandelion. One grain of belladonna is a large dose, and this only given in extreme cases. Mr. Morgan also tested the medicine and was made quite sick by it, although he soon recovered, not having taken as great a quantity as did Miss Evans. Unless some new complication arises there is no doubt that Miss Evans will shortly recover her full health, though her mouth, throat and stomach are severely parched by the terrible dose. Belladonna is an extract of the plant known as "deadly nightshade," and its poisonous effects are only equalled by those of our vomica or strychnine. Where the blame lies in this matter is yet to be determined, but the extremely narrow escape of Miss Evans should be a warning to all in the future to use the greatest possible caution in dealing out or taking deadly poisons.

AN EXPLANATION.
What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many now seem to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word malaria was comparatively unknown—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called biliousness, and are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the liver which in performing its functions finding that it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, malaria, bilious fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous.

The sufferings of the Scotch crofters from the exactions and cruelties of landlords have been hardly less severe than those of the people of Ireland. Whilst over 2,000,000 acres of fertile lands were grazing grounds for the deer, hundreds of families were huddled in old and disused kilns, unfit for human habitation; and when a raid recently made by them on a deer forest in order to kill and divide the animals many of them had not a grain of meal in their houses and their babies had not tasted milk for months. The crofter act which was passed by parliament two years ago, gives some little relief in the shape of fair rent and fixity of tenure under certain conditions; but it does not deal with the necessity for more land, and it leaves the grievance of the deer forests untouched. The real thing needed is a law based on the principle that the land shall be used for the benefit of the people, and that, subject to the payment of a fair rent, they shall be resettled on the land that is capable of supporting them. Unless this shall be done the English government will soon be confronted by a problem as dangerous as was the Irish question in its acutest stage.—Omaha Bee.

BRACE UP.
You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with headache, you are indigestive, nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whiskey, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you need is a healthy action of Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters and only 50 cents a bottle at A. F. Streitz's Drug Store.

The speech of Sitting Bull to the Indian council at Standing Rock agency the other day was very unique. It was received by the Journal in full, but lack of space prevented its publication. The following is a brief extract: "Chiefs and braves: The great white fathers are in a great hurry to get you to sign your names in their autograph albums, but don't let there be a mad rush to do it. So long as we are here we can have several square meals a day, which is better than sitting in our wigwams at home chewing willow bark and talking about the crops. The Manito made chiefs, warriors and women. Let us act like chiefs and warriors. It is for women we hurry. When the pale faced fathers agitate you to show your fine Spencerian hand, tell him that your amanuensis is away fishing, and that you only write before large audiences. We might as well stay here until cold weather sets in. That's the kind of a tuning fork I am. I have spoken."—Topics.

Their Business Booming.
Probably no one thing has used such a general revival of trade as A. F. Streitz's Drug Store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

Pretty Women.
All women look attractive when their color and complexion is clear. If your skin is sallow or dull, you are bilious, secure a box of Williams' Australian Herb Pills, as a means to clear the system and the feeling of languor will leave you, your eyes will brighten, and you are another woman. The Newspaper Revolution.

From the Rockford (Ill.) Register.
"The era of cumbersome blanket-sheets seems coming to an end, and newspapers like the New York Sun and THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS are the prominent journalistic successes of the period. The papers that give enough reading matter to fill a good volume in each daily issue are going out of favor with many people who have some other employment for their time than the search through mountains of straw for kernels of news. The sheets that give the news systematically and amply, and without unnecessary padding, are taking the lead in the great cities."

Forty years ago the chief duty of an editor, in view of his limited facilities, was to gather all the news he could and print it. Intelligence was transmitted slowly; many occurrences of interest were never heard of beyond their immediate locality; ocean mails were long in transit, and the overthrow of an European dynasty was not known here until long after the event. Suddenly there came a change. The railroad and the telegraph superseded old methods, and the newspaper was literally flooded with news. The death of a petty ward politician in San Francisco, the result of a Presidential election, the accession of a sovereign, the outbreak of a war, and notice that a shanty had been burden in Texas, all were hurried over the wires into the newspaper offices, and there being no idea of discrimination, all were printed. Thus originated the "blanket sheet."

The publisher who could send out the biggest blanket for a nickel was the most enterprising; the biggest paper was the best; it was a period of bigness. But after a time the very excess of the evil brought the remedy, and there began an era of discrimination, during which those newspapers like the New York Sun and THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, that the public appreciated the new departure is best evidenced in the fact that the Sun reached a circulation of 150,000 a day, and THE DAILY NEWS 175,000. The wonderful and constantly growing popularity of the condensed, low-priced papers has so far brought the cumbersome and high-priced blanket-sheets to their senses, that they have now somewhat reformed both as to size and price, but they are still too far removed from the true ideal of American journalism to meet the needs of the great majority.

In the west THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS has been the first to appreciate and meet the situation, and it now enjoys the results of its twelve years of pioneer work in a daily circulation averaging over three times that of any of its contemporaries, and considerably more than the circulations of all other Chicago dailies combined. It is hardly necessary to say that such a circulation could not be attained, much less maintained, except by a paper of high grade of excellence, as well as one sold at a popular price. To win such recognition the cheap paper must be as good a newspaper as the best of its higher-priced competitors. And this THE DAILY NEWS certainly is. It is a member of the Associated Press, and is the only paper in Chicago which possesses a franchise which secures to it both the day and night dispatches of the Association. In the general field of news-gathering it represents in the highest degree the progressive enterprise of American journalism: as a newspaper, it challenges comparison with any in the land. In its editorial columns THE DAILY NEWS speaks from the standpoint of the independent newspaper, and thereby escapes the temptation of impairing honest and honorable influence by condoning or defending the questionable under the pressure of party allegiance. It is not an organ, neither is it a neutral in questions of principle. It has the courage of its convictions. The organ of no party, sect or interest, it voices the united demand of all those better elements of society in behalf of purity, honesty and decency in all the relations of life. By just so much as it thus commends itself to the regard of the truly "best people" of the community does it voluntarily renounce any community of interest with all others.

So conspicuous a success must have its imitators, and THE DAILY NEWS has the endorsement such imitation always bestows. However as it is the only one-cent paper in Chicago or the West which is a member of the Associated Press—all other Chicago Associated Press papers cost 3 cents—all imitation must continue, so far as news giving value is concerned, to be but imitation. THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS is "the original," "the best."

Sold by all newsdealers at ONE CENT per copy, six cents per week. Mailed, postage paid, for one year, or 25 cents per month. Every farmer can now have his daily paper at little more than the cost of the old time weekly. Address
