Educational Notes.

R. H. LANGFORD, Co. Supt. EDITOR.

The fact is ever before us, and each day features with a firmer grasp, that most teachers endeavor to do too much, and consequently nothing is done well. With the pupils, they glide over the surface, but fall entirely to unlearn the grand facts, and shining beauties that lie hidden underneath. Teachers and pupils should dig and delve, never growing weary, till every particle of the soil is overturned and a rich reward is the result of their labor.

If the teacher cannot co-operate with the Superintendent in a reasonable way, the sooner that he or she resigns the better will it be for all concerned. Verily, it is a fact that one dissatisfied teacher, who knows more than the Superintendent and ten other men who can render a reason, can do more harm, and cause more trouble than a half dozen gossiping women in a community. If you feel that you cannot be loyal to the instructions of your Superintendent, resign and you will bestow a blessing on the county in which you reside.

If the County Superintendent cannot direct and control the teachers of his County, if he does not possess the knowledge necessary to direct them, he should immediately resign. If he is qualified and neglects to perform his duty, the people should search for, and elect, in his stead, one who has the qualifications, and sufficiently interested to devote all his energy to the schools within his jurisdiction. Failing in this, a lethargy will settle down upon the people, and such an indifference take possession of them, as will be most damaging to education.

It is not the easiest thing in the world always to use good "horse sense." In fact, this is a commodity of which most of us should possess a larger supply. The statement is frequently made, "If I had thought I would have done differently," and this too in the most common place affair in the school room. That is, if ordinary "horse sense" had come to the rescue the difficulty would not have arisen, or if trouble did come, it would be quietly and speedily removed by a vigorous application of that which we style "horse sense" or "mother wit."

Immediately after the Normal there will be an examination of all candidates who present themselves and who wish to teach in the schools of this county. All certificates, running beyond that time, expire on the 19th day of August, unless in certain cases where special arrangements have been made to meet emergencies. Directors will please pay particular attention to this, and hire no one who does not signify his intention of attending the Institute, for failure to attend means failure to secure a certificate.

A gentleman who has taught for several years in the eastern part of the State, but who came to this county to secure land and health as well, has been employed to teach the west school in District No. 14, Garfield. Mr. O. J. Curstead has had large experience in the school work of Nebraska, and judging from personal observation, he is one who will put forth every effort of which he is capable to conduct a good school and rapidly advance the pupils placed under his care. The faithful diligent teacher will receive a fitting reward.

One of the subjects which will be presented for the consideration of the teachers who attend our next Normal is, "The course of study prescribed for the schools of Lincoln county." The course is an excellent one and if teachers would follow it closely, the good accomplished would be greater than we can estimate. The course of study is not a "Keep-sake," says Supt. D. Almand, but is laid before the teachers of the county for their use and benefit, and should be put into active operation in the school. Teachers, if you have not seen it, communicate with your Superintendent.

Before the schools of the different districts closed for the summer vacation, the Superintendent visited as many of them as possible, and in making these calls, he made some startling discoveries which will materially effect some of those who have started out in the profession of teaching. One of them is that while all of the teachers possess sufficient education to teach the school in which they were engaged, several of them have not the most remote idea of what is conveyed in the words "to teach," and what is yet the more to their discredit they do not appear to care. Unless there is a change in some of them, this will be a good county for new teachers.

There was a time in Pennsylvania, years ago, when the attempt was made to abolish the office of County Superintendent, but failure was the result. Since that time to the present the people have not been slow to recognize the benefit to the schools derived from efficient supervision by an energetic superintendent—one who understands the requirements of the rural schools and is not slow to put his knowledge into active operation. The County Superintendent has come to remain with the people and materially benefit them if they are willing. To signify their willingness, they should act in accordance with his wishes so long as these wishes are reasonable.

homestead in the northern part of the county will teach the Whittier school, District No. 15, during the fall term. While the young lady is a stranger in the county, several facts point to her as one well adapted to take charge of this school. She comes holding a certificate of second grade from another county of the State, is well recommended, and the fact that she has come west to secure land in her own right is sufficient evidence that she has energy enough to teach. Do the best possible for the Whittier people, Alice, for they are deserving of it.

Miss Miss Mills called at the Superintendent's office a few days ago, and in the course of his conversation with her, she informed him that six different districts had spoken to her to teach their next term of school. There is no difficulty in a good teacher securing a position, and this is the reason for Miss Mills always being able to secure a school without any demand. Good teachers are always in demand, poor ones are not wanted at any price.

One, at least, of the teachers of Lincoln county is pleased with the Educational Notes. She says, "I find much in your column that a teacher can take into the schoolroom and use to invigorate and instruct her pupils. It improves THE TRIBUNE and aids in giving it a larger circulation." A director in one district says, "Before you started your column, I hardly ever looked at the outside of the paper but now the first items I read are your notes." A prominent resident of Garfield precinct says, "Langford, your notes are interesting to the people and are doing great good for our schools." Another says, "When you began your column, you made certain promises and you are splendidly filling them, and more than meeting reasonable expectations." One from the south part of the county says, "I have found more good sense in the educational notes than is usually gleaned from one column of a country newspaper." The above statements are only a few of the words of approval communicated to us from those who read THE TRIBUNE. You have the sincere thanks of the editor of these notes for your kindly words.

Second Annual Meeting of the Whittier Sunday School Association.

It may not be generally known that there is in the northern part of this County a Sunday School Association which has had two annual sessions and has been productive of considerable good. Such, however, is positively the fact, and if persons who are interested in this line of work had been on the farm of Mr. George Hughes one week ago last Sunday they would have been amply repaid for the trip by seeing over three hundred men, women and children assembled to discuss important questions connected with Sunday-school work. To nurture in the minds of the children a love for the Bible and its teachings, and through an interchange of ideas, to enable them more intelligently to discharge the duty due to the rising generation in striving to implant in their young minds those principles which shall influence their lives and convert them into noble christian men and women.

The exercises of the day were opened by singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," followed with prayer by Rev. Derberrey, of Gandy, and then after some matters of minor importance were disposed of the question "The duty of parents in having their children attend Sunday-school" was presented by Rev. Dr. Burbank in a plain logical manner, followed by a discussion in which Rev. Derberrey and Superintendent Langford participated. The subject was handled in a plain forcible way, calculated to arouse thought in the minds of those present and be accompanied by good results. After singing, dinner was announced and then began a regular stamped for lunch baskets well filled with delicacies calculated to tempt the appetite of an epicure. After ample justice was meted out to the lunch, and the physical man satisfied, the subject of "Lesson Helps and their proper use in the Sunday-school" was discussed at considerable length by Revs. Burbank and Brashers, and Messrs. Caran, Campbell, Langford, Roby and others. This discussion was conducted in a very spirited and yet friendly manner, and those present appeared to enter heartily into the subject and enjoy the efforts of the speakers.

The next question, "How can we best teach temperance in the Sunday-school?" was ably presented by Mr. Aaron Gregg, followed by Messrs. Honaker and Langford who gave interesting talks on this important subject. The exercises, of course, were interspersed with singing by the pupils of the different schools, also with recitation, readings and essays by children and older persons in which all who participated acquitted themselves in a way worthy of commendation. Among those present from North Platte were Misses Mertie Wilkenson, Jennie Adamson, and Lizzie Ferguson, members of the Sunday school class of R. H. Langford of North Platte. At 4:30 p. m., the audience was dismissed, and went to their respective homes, we believe, feeling highly pleased that the day had been devoted to the service of God and that they had assisted to make the second meeting of the Sunday School Association a success.

Nebraska to the front. There never has been in the entire history of Nebraska such grand crop prospects, taking the State as a whole, as the present season. The State Board of Agriculture recognizing this fact, is making extraordinary efforts to press to the front in all respects. Arrangements have been made to run excursions to Nebraska, from all important points in the East, during the State Fair to be held at Lincoln September 8th. to 18th. next. The object being to show the wonderful products of our state. Joining in this effort, all the Railroad Companies in the State, in keeping with their characteristic and unprecedented liberality in such respects, have agreed to transport all products to the State Fair free. It is now only a privilege, but a duty on the part of all producers, to join in this movement and do their part. Let each county in the State make a special effort, to advertise itself at the coming State Fair. All public spirited, enterprising citizens should consider themselves a committee of the whole to this end, and act as such, and thoroughly.

How He Became Famous. The Walker, Iowa, News, says: "Our old friend, Robert Baird, of Muscatine, Iowa, has been secretary of the state senate, and an active politician for years, but was never generally known until he had the cholera, and used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and got into one of their advertisements. 'Now he is famous.' Here is what Mr. Baird said: 'While in Des Moines, I was taken with a severe attack of bowel complaint. For two days I suffered intensely, trying several drug stores and paying them for relief, but in vain. I finally bought a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and two doses of that brought me out all right. It costs less than the drug store preparations and I have the balance for future use. I consider it a grand remedy.' 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. F. Stretz and Dr. Longley, North Platte, Neb.

There is a bill before Georgia Legislature proposing to sell to private parties between 350,000 and 400,000 acres of land at 12 1/2 cents an acre. The land is the Okefenokee Swamp. If this bill should get through it would be the cheapest land Georgia has sold in ninety-four years. In 1795 her Legislature sold 35,000,000 acres on or about the Yazoo River, in Mississippi, for a cent and a half an acre, and the people rose up and hurled that Legislature from power.

There is nothing uncertain about the effects of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The fact is, it is the only preparation in the market that can always be depended upon, and that is pleasant and safe to take. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. F. Stretz and Dr. Longley.

Senator Hearst, who is enjoying life at the Hollywood, Long Branch, says that he believes that the only good jockeys are negroes and Irishmen. The negro, he says, is naturally a horseman. Put him astride a horse and in riding a race he doesn't know what fear is. The Irishman is all heart and soul, and if he does know what fear is his enthusiasm carries him to the front before he has had time to calculate the chances. And so Hearst says: "Give me an Irishman or a nigger every time, and I don't care much which comes first."

John W. Mackay, the California millionaire of Bonanza and cable fame, says the New York World, is expected in New York in a few days. Mrs. Mackay, who spends the greater part of her time now in London, will also be here in a short time, bringing with her two bright, intelligent boys, who will be placed in Yale College. Mrs. Mackay has been accused of a lack of love of country because she chooses to spend much of her time abroad, but the fact that she chooses an American college for her sons shows that she still admires our institutions. The young Mackays are very intelligent. They have had great opportunities in the way of education, and only need the higher course of Yale to make them accomplished scholars and men of the world.

THE GRAND ARMY ENCAMPMENT AT MILWAUKEE.

It is estimated that fully 120,000 people will pass through Chicago enroute to Milwaukee to attend the Grand Army Encampment. As there are but two Railway Lines between the two cities, and this immense number of people will have to be transported in two or three days, it is apparent that the resources will be taxed to the utmost. Parties desiring to attend from points in Nebraska, will, by taking the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway from Council Bluffs (which is the only direct line to Milwaukee from Council Bluffs) avoid the crowd and rush at Chicago, and be sure of the best of accommodations in the way of free Chair Cars, Sleeping and Dining Cars to destinations, and will have the privilege of returning via Steamboat from Milwaukee to Chicago if they so desire. Half fare has been made for the round trip. Children between five and twelve years of age, half of the excursion rate. For further information apply to J. E. McClure, Western Pass. Agent, C. M. & St. P. Ry., 1501 Farnam St., Omaha Neb.
