

STEVENS & BARE, EDITORS AND PUBLISHERS

WEDNESDAY, JULY 31, 1920.

Picnic Time. Oh, pack a basket full of lunch, And take a hammock, too, And sneak into the deep cool grove, And lay around and woo; You there can make your girl believe That red and white are blue.

-During the warm weather the meetings of the Oxford League will be held every two weeks instead of weekly as heretofore.

-Sunday School every Sunday at 3 P. M. in the Unitarian Church. Lay services at 4 P. M.—subject next Sunday, "Spiritualism."

-A foot race last Saturday evening between George Hutchings and Frank Sullivan attracted considerable attention. George was an easy winner.

-Wellfleet is improving, three or four houses being in process of construction. The town will soon begin to put on airs of a city.

-An eastern subscriber wants to know if there are any hotels in North Platte. Ask us an easy question to answer, and we will rustle around and get the information.

-Strangers have frequently mistaken our townman Chas. Brooks for Gov. Thayer. There is a striking resemblance, and we don't wonder that strangers fall into the mistake.

-A card from Rev. Adam Stump informs us that he expects to fill the pulpit of the Lutheran church on Sunday August 4th. The pastor will be warmly greeted by his people after his summer vacation.

-This office recently received a large supply of envelopes and other stationery, purchased at very low figures, and we propose to give our customers the benefit thereof. Order your supplies now, while they are getting you cheap, for the active fall trade that will soon begin.

-Manager Lloyd says we are not likely to have a theatrical company for some time. Generally the season has been bad for shows and many combinations not well backed have been stranded. Showmen are hopeful that the coming season will be better.

-The quarter of a mile wash out up west of Big Springs caused delays of about 11 hours. One train narrowly escaped being ditched. Four passenger trains laid up at this place and the hotels were taxed to their utmost to supply the demand for grub.—B. S. Journal.

-Tuesday was Pioneer day at the Methodist camp at Kearney. The regular speech of the evening was made by Judge Hamer, but short speeches were made by Judge Church, of this city, and others. Revs. Clifton and Willis of this County were present. Gov. Thayer was present Tuesday evening.

-On July 17, the deposits in the First National Bank of this city reached the highest point ever attained—$139,847.65. According to recent statements, the banks of North Platte hold about $300,000 on deposit, with their capital will make over $400,000 actual money in the city. Is not that a very good showing, considering our population?

-The eleventh annual reunion of the soldiers and sailors of Nebraska will be held at Kearney, commencing August 12 and closing August 17. The encampment bids fair to be one of the greatest ever held in the West, but the old soldiers hereabout are this year taking more interest in the National Encampment at Milwaukee.

-Several farmers have informed THE TRIBUNE that hunters from this city have commenced slaughtering prairie chickens, and furthermore said that they proposed to prosecute anyone who hereafter find violating the game law. It would be well to make an example of a few of these hunters who insist in killing chickens before they are full grown.

-R. D. Thomson, who returned from Wisconsin last week, reports crops in parts of that state and Illinois very poor, and that business in the towns he visited seemed to be almost at a standstill. When compared with trade in other places, he thinks the merchants of North Platte have little reason to complain. Business is dull everywhere.

-Our local mechanics do not take kindly to the scheme of Richards & Co., contractors on the First National Bank building to reduce wages. Our mechanics should resist the move of the contractors by every possible means. In taking a contract, bidders should not bank on a reduced scale of wages. The carpenters and masons local scale is none too high.

-As has been the custom for several years past, the members of the Presbyterian Sunday-school held a picnic last Thursday afternoon, the ground used being on the lands of the Scott's Rest Ranch. From the number of baskets which the wagons conveyed, we are led to believe there was no scarcity of provisions. The afternoon was pleasantly spent by both the young and the old.

-W. C. Elder, Esq., who has just returned from a trip southward, we presume in the vicinity of the home range, says the corn in that part of the County is booming, the ears are now half as long as your arm, and if they continue growing he will not be responsible for their length, so corn is immense—never saw anything like it. Small grain already cut, is considerably damaged in shock by the wet weather. Potatoes are as large as three years old goose eggs and still growing.

-On the occasion of his nineteenth birthday last Friday, John Louigan gave a dance at the opera house to which were invited a large number of his young friends. It was a pleasant gathering and everyone attending enjoyed themselves immensely, both in the merry whirl of the dance and in partaking of the delicious refreshments so bountifully supplied. The participants left the ball as a noticeable hour, wishing their guests young and many happy returns of the day.

WANTED.—A girl to do housework. Apply to J. I. NEARBY.

-Now that the harvest is over, we hope our correspondents will send in their usual list of country news. What has become of our Garfield and Whistler friends? That portion of the county should have a letter in THE TRIBUNE every week.

-The matter in dispute between the county commissioners and C. F. Iddings relative to a bill for lumber, etc., was settled by arbitration, a prospective lawsuit being thus avoided. Sam Adams was selected by Mr. Iddings and G. T. Swelling by the board to do the work.

-The stone for the foundation of the Third ward school house is on the ground, but the contractor, P. Walsh, has been delayed in commencing the work for the wet of stone masons. In spite of this delay the contractor hopes to have the building completed in time.

-From reports the farm of the reform school at Kearney must be a valuable institution, Supt. Mallala having refused an offer of $5,000 for the products thereof, believing them to be worth $10,000. The aim of the farm is not stated, but it must be the most productive place of soil in the State.

-Contractor P. Walsh received notice Monday morning that his bid for repaving the City Hall grounds had been accepted, and he will have to commence the work in ten days. He was up Saturday accompanied by plasterer Wm. Johnson, and he is confident he has a good job.

-Two freight cars were derailed at the switch in the west end of the yard Sunday morning about 4 o'clock, caused by an accident to the trucks under one of the cars. The wrecker soon placed one car on the track again, but the other loaded with coal was dumped to one side. The morning east bound passenger train was delayed about an hour.

Day boarders wanted at The Ladies' Exchange, one door north of Mr. Grady's Store. Apply to Mrs. P. O'HARE.

-Saturday evening about fifty friends of Mrs. F. W. Lee gave her a birthday surprise at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Upright. She was made the recipient of several fine presents of silverware and table linen. The evening passed off pleasantly with games, music and refreshments, the guests departing at a reasonable hour wishing Mrs. Lee many happy returns of the day.

-The bicycle is giving way to the improved velocipede, a machine that is much easier to ride and from which it is impossible to "take a header." Some twenty years ago the velocipede had a brief run, but the power being applied directly to the front wheel, as a means of locomotion on a dirt road it proved impracticable. In the improved machine the power is multiplied by gearing and the old difficulty thereby removed.

-There are some pretty mean thieves in this rain world, and Ligipca county is not exempt from her share. A short time ago Geo. Galvin of O'Fallon precinct, had six calves stolen, the entire product of six cows for this year, all he had. We have heard the saying, "honor among thieves," but these fellows appeared to be entirely lacking in this ingredient, or they would have left one or two anyway. No trace of the young animals had been found up to the time of obtaining our information.

-Wm. McAvoy had a nice lot of turkeys, but recently the officials of the U. P. R. were riding by on a special, when the flock was promenading along the track, and in an instant the flock was knocked out killing the most of them. The aforesaid officials made up a purse of ten dollars to reimburse Mr. McAvoy and then took the dead turkeys aboard as toadmeat for official teeth. When they go home they will probably tell their wives and sporting friends about the killing wild turkeys up on the South Platte.—Big Springs Journal.

-One time a blind man was riding through the country looking for a fertile farm. The boy who was driving the team would describe the land. Finally they came to a cultivated field which had apparently produced a good crop, but the boy said the weeds were higher than the fence. The blind man said that would do, he would purchase that farm; if the land produced big weeds it would raise good crops. If that gentleman should come to North Platte at the present time he would be applying the same principle to the street commissioner.

The South Platte Bridge. The plank on the South Platte river bridge are pretty well worn out, and for some time there has existed a necessity for a new floor. The bridge too is inadequate to accommodate the large travel on that road. In view of these facts the county commissioners decided to replank the bridge, and at the same time, as the additional cost would not be very great, widen the structure to sixteen feet, thus avoiding the dead-locks that often occur at night on account of teams being unable to pass each other the roadway being so narrow. Although somewhat in doubt as to the funds available, the board decided to widen and rebuild, and advertised for bids. On the board's proposition, the following bids were received:

J. F. Hinman, $3.90 per linear foot. J. L. Means, $3.37 per linear foot. R. D. Thomson, $3.90 per linear foot. Mr. Thomson filed a supplementary bid, to the effect that if allowed to build on Mr. Means specifications, he would make a reduction of about 18 cents per foot, or $3.81 per foot.

The financial question being undeveloped, action on the bids was deferred until after the July settlement with the treasurer.

The board is in a perplexing situation. When asked a year or so ago to vote the necessary funds to rebuild the bridge, they refused. Now the commissioners have to grapple squarely with the problem—shall they close the bridge or shall they repair it. The former seems impossible, and to do the work without funds is likely to prove a formidable task. But "where there is a will there is a way," and we trust the board will find the way in this case.

-The Gandy baseball club will cross bats with the North Platte nine at the fair grounds next Saturday afternoon at three o'clock.

-Bricklayers have commenced on the walls of the Meyers building. The lot being sandwiched by brick walls there will not be much to do.

-The total rainfall at this place during the month of July was over six inches. Indications now point to a dry spell, badly needed to finish harvesting and for haying.

-Hershey & Co. sold a steam thrashing machine last week and it is now rattling out the golden grain. There will be three steam thrashers at work in the county this fall.

-The Address Circus will be here tomorrow (Thursday). Lovers of the saw dust ring anticipate a pleasant entertainment, this circus being pronounced inferior to none on the road.

-H. W. Fogel has just finished a fine delivery wagon for Urbach & Schuff, who will in a day or two make daily rounds of the city supplying fresh bread, cakes, etc., to their customers.

-The following gentleman at the session of the district court on Monday was admitted to full citizenship: Dean Lee, Frank Wilson, Omar L. Stone, Paul Johnson, Wm. Thomson, Carl Johnson, Fred Womack and Patrick Kelly.

-The thieves who broke open a freight car at this place last week were pursued by deputy sheriff Merriman and were captured on the North river at White Tail bottom. They gave the names of George Clark, of Beaver City and Frank Marks, of the same place. They had a preliminary examination yesterday.

-Where does the smoke come from has been a query on the lips of almost every person during the past four days. Although Saturday was cloudless, the sun appeared as a fiery red ball in the heavens all day and Sunday could be called an Indian summer day. In southern Dakota, Wyoming, Montana—in fact through the entire north-west—an unusual drought has prevailed, and forest and prairie fires have been raging for a month. The smoke came from those regions.

-There will be considerable loss of grain on account of the inability of the harvesting machines to cut it in time. Farmers are censured frequently for the reckless manner in which they sometimes reap, but several in this vicinity say they have lost money this year by not buying. Hershey & Co. sold two last week, one being set up on Saturday evening and started on Sunday. One farmer told a TRIBUNE reporter that he had engaged a neighbor to cut his grain, but perceiving that the man would not be able to reach his grain in time, hastily came to town, bought a machine, and by running night and day has cut 140 acres. In this way he saved his own grain and that of several neighbors.

-P. L. Harper, of the Wallace Security Bank, was in the city the early part of the week. While here he received a car load of twenty-one head of fine Oregon hogs which he had previously purchased. They were said by Mr. Burke to have been the smoothest lot of hogs thus far received from the west this season, several of them being trotting bred from a sire that last fall showed three consecutive mile heats in 2:30 and better. The owner of the latter offered to drive him three heats in 2:35 or better if he would receive the price he desired for the horse. This is remarkably good time when it is remembered that the animal weighed 1325 pounds.

Recommended for Commissioner. The people of Myrtle, Whittier, Garfield and Arnold precincts believe that they are entitled to the County Commissioner who is to be elected this fall. They have become aware also that they could not secure the nomination of a man unless they were united. Accordingly with the object of agreeing upon some one a meeting was called, by the commitment of the four precincts, which convened at Whittier on Saturday the 20th inst. Although it was a busy time with farmers, there was a fair gathering of representative men. Money Alexander of Garfield precinct was chosen chairman and Austin Burdick of Arnold secretary. There were delegates from Arnold, Garfield, Whittier and Myrtle. After discussion, Geo. W. Peterson was endorsed as the choice of the meeting for County Commissioner.

The South Platte Bridge. The plank on the South Platte river bridge are pretty well worn out, and for some time there has existed a necessity for a new floor. The bridge too is inadequate to accommodate the large travel on that road. State Levy. The county clerk has received notice that the following amounts have been levied on the valuation of Lincoln county to be collected from the assessment of 1920: General fund five mills, school fund four-eighths mill, university fund three-eighths mill, reform school fund one-seventh mill, institute feeble minded fund, one-eighth mill, total six and one-seventh mills.

The total valuation is $2,295,022.54 and the above levy will raise $14,102.02, which is the amount charged to the county by the state. In 1919 the levy was 7 1/2 in 1000, 7 1/2 and this year 6 1/2 in 1000, so it will be seen there is a gradual decrease in the state levy.

All Wind. The flow of natural gas which was supposed to have been struck by well diggers in Spearhead, product turned out to be wind. The air was forced out of the well by a tremendous pressure, sufficient to absolutely prevent the workmen from sinking the pipe. After the air had commenced to flow, the work of sinking the well was resumed, but very slow progress was made, on account of the pressure. Finally a depth of 490 feet was reached, at which point it was decided to abandon the effort to go deeper, only ten feet having been made in that number of days. So the tools were taken out and the pipe pulled up.

Will some of our geological students explain how it is that the accumulations of that depth in a sand formation?

P. H. McEvoy was indisposed several days during the week, having a slight "tussel" with malaria. It was only a half round, but Mac thinks that he would sooner stand up in front of Sullivan than to face old malaria for a full round.

The many friends of Miss Lizzie Ferguson exceedingly regret that she has taken her departure from the city to permanently reside in Avon, Ill. Should the fates so order it, that she may return again, numerous friends will extend to her a cordial welcome.

Jerry Brittingham one of the regular panel of jurors, made this office a pleasant call yesterday. We might omit the word pleasant, but Mr. Brittingham paid one year's subscription, consequently the quality of the visit cannot be expressed without it.

George Patterson is in Fremont for the purpose, we are told, of entering the examination class as a candidate to the West Point Military Academy, this congressional district being entitled to a scholarship. We hope to see George successfully pass the examination.

J. S. Hoagland and wife and Mrs. L. A. Stevens arrived home Saturday, somewhat fatigued and westerbeaten by their long travel, but nevertheless they enjoyed the excursion to the Pacific coast. In the twenty days they were on the road they traveled over six thousand miles.

The surveying outfit for the Sioux City & Ogden Short Line passed through the city going east, their destination being Elavivay, Pierce County. The engineers had previously gone forward by rail. After leaving here going west, the engineers ran a line up the north side of the North Platte until they met the east bound passenger train going west from the Wyoming line. The road has now made two surveys through Nebraska, one directly west from Plainview striking the North Platte near the western line of the State and other diverging southwest from Plainview intersecting the Platte opposite this city. The engineers are undoubtedly ordered back to commence the work of locating the line, but which route will be taken is, of course not known, as that will be determined on the report of the engineers. The road apparently has strong backing—perhaps the Illinois Central—and will surely be built.

State Levy. The county clerk has received notice that the following amounts have been levied on the valuation of Lincoln county to be collected from the assessment of 1920: General fund five mills, school fund four-eighths mill, university fund three-eighths mill, reform school fund one-seventh mill, institute feeble minded fund, one-eighth mill, total six and one-seventh mills.

THE LONG TRIAL.

The Case Continued Until October 21st.

An adjourned session of the District Court commenced Monday, Judge Hamer presiding, expressly to give Jefferson Long a trial. He is to be tried on an indictment found in April 1898—the same on which he had a trial in the fall of that year, the jury failing to agree. The technical charge against Long is, in substance as set forth in the indictment, that he "did aid, abet, counsel, induce and procure him the said Ernest Meyers, with a bludgeon, with a pistol and by burning" to kill Richard Ducomb. The regular panel of jurors and nearly one hundred talsmen summoned from the body of the county, are present from which to select a jury.

The prosecution is conducted by J. W. Bixler, who has always been the leading prosecutor on the part of the State and especially appeared in this case by the court, assisted by county attorney Wilcox. The defense is in the hands of Beach I. Hinman, J. S. Hoagland and Nesbitt & Grimes.

On calling the case, the defendant filed a plea in bar, asking that he be discharged on the ground of having once been placed in jeopardy on the same indictment. This was replied to by the prosecution, which brought out an answer from the defendant's attorneys and gave rise to several collateral questions, commencing the time of the court until nearly 4 o'clock. In the mean time the Defendant's attorneys had drawn up a paper objecting to or challenging the special venire which had been filed by mistake and this was brought to the attention of the court. Considerable talk followed, but finally the defense was permitted to withdraw the motion.

Everything then seemed to be ready to empanel the jury. The prisoners attorneys announced that they were ready, and the court said he was exceedingly anxious to get the jury of twelve men and allow the others to return to their homes. But the prosecution did not appear to be quite ready and proceeded to consult. While waiting the Judge took occasion to admonish reporters and the press generally not to publish anything calculated to interfere with or prejudice the case, promising to give the offender as long a term in jail as is possible.

The prosecuting attorneys having finished their consultation, a motion for continuance was filed. A disposition to argue the motion being manifested by the Defendant's attorneys, the Judge ruled that the question was not debatable. After examining the statute, the Judge announced that he was not prepared to decide the motion, and a recess was taken until 7:30 p. m.

The court convened at 7:30 o'clock, when the court granted the motion for continuance, the time set for the next hearing of the case being October 21. The defendant's attorneys excepted to the continuance, demanding an immediate trial.

The continuance was granted on a letter from Geo. H. Tiedemann dated Irondeau, Colorado, July 24, 1890, directed to "Dear friend Robert," stating that he could not come at this term of court because there was no time to make arrangements and for other reasons. He promised to attend at next term if the case was continued.

Attorney Bixler in his affidavit sets forth the facts that he expects to prove by the witness Tiedemann and swears that the state can prove the facts by no other witness; that the attorneys for the State have done all in their power to procure the attendance of said Tiedemann at this term of court; that they have caused a messenger to go to the state of Colorado to try to get Tiedemann and that he has agreed to attend as a witness if the case can be continued sixty days.

Glancing over a young lady's Album of this city we saw the following which is worthy of publication: "My the truths in this Album be as pure and red as the roses." As those which should ever be the thoughts of your mind; "But may the words herein written never rise to condemnation." "But may you when in trouble find a solace in them."

May you also remember, be they ever so true, That earth's friends change as all other things do; "But dear Jesus, our friend, who can not deceive." Stands waiting and ready our grief to relieve. Then trust him and love him with all your heart. Then in the last moment when the summons shall come, The Saviour will take you to his heavenly home.

Price this lodge has lost a devoted brother, a faithful co-worker, whose memory we will ever cherish, and whose death has caused a void in our lodge which can not easily be filled.
