NEBRASKA NOTES.

A chapter of the Eastern Star has been instituted at Superior.

Seward's electric light plant has been sold to Lincoln capitalists for $8,000.

Ed. C. Corrigan of South Omaha, died of pneumonia while being treated at the Black Kestey institute.

Track laying began on the Republican Valley and Wyoming railroad at Fallsdale. The people are jubilant.

Mrs. Charles Hinman of Newman Grove, was probably fatally burned by a gasoline stove exploding.

T. H. Wilson, a wealthy farmer of Otoe county and a resident of Nebraska since 1856, died of heart disease.

The Polk county poor farm buildings were destroyed by fire, caused by a defective flue. Nothing was saved.

Nebraska City is suffering from an epidemic of la grippe, which physicians say is increasing to an alarming extent.

The next meeting of the Northwestern Nebraska Editorial association will be held at South Sioux City, May 5, 1892.

The general store of C. F. Krescher & Co. of Gresham has been closed on a chattel mortgage. The liabilities of the firm are $6,000.

The Elsie Opera company, composed of small talent, is preparing a new drama to be presented to the people of that town about Christmas time.

The Central Nebraska Medical society has concluded an interesting session at York. The next meeting will be held at Aurora the second Tuesday in March.

Several of Seward's young bloods were arrested for indulging in the festive game of draw poker, but they were discharged with the admonition to go and sin no more.

Dakota City has secured an injunction, restraining the removal of the county records from that place to South Sioux City. The injunction expires with the present year.

A stock company was organized with a capital of $50,000 to prospect for coal at Tecumseh. Last spring a find of a six-foot vein of good coal was reported and this is the result.

Elliworth Overton has commenced suit against the Fremont Manufacturing company for $20 as pay for 15 hours extra time as contemplated under the new eight-hour labor law.

Harry Patton, a 12-year-old boy living near Diller, was caught in the tumbling rod of a corn sheller and had both legs broken and crushed. It is feared that he will not recover.

P. C. Carberry of Stuart had his leg broken by the horse on which he was riding falling on him. He feels worse about it than he did, because he was defeated for county clerk at the late election.

A will was found at Plattsmouth in a vault of the First National bank that had laid there undisturbed for twenty-two years. Both the testator and the beneficiaries of the will have been dead for years.

Eugene Farr, while baling hay near Stafford, Holt county, had the misfortune to get his right leg caught in the machinery, crushing it in a horrible manner. The injuries were of such a nature that amputation may be necessary.

Diphtheria prevails among the children of Grand Island to an alarming extent. A number of cases of scarlet fever are also reported. The school board held a meeting and, yielding to public sentiment, decided to close the schools until after the holidays.

WANTED A FREE PASSAGE.

Alleged Nebraska Mail Robber Released in London.

LONDON, Dec. 13.—E. C. Palmer, the self-styled American, who gave himself up to the police recently, charging himself with stealing some mail bags at Clark, Neb., and who was remanded at the Bow street police court, Dec. 1 to await the action of the United States legation, has been released from custody, the representatives of the United States failing to press for his extradition.

The Scotland Yard authorities are grumbling over the unnecessary work to which they are subjected by what may be called bogus crooks from America—folgers who accuse themselves of having committed crimes in the United States, and surrender themselves to the police in the hope of being extradited for imaginary offenses, thus getting a free passage to their native land, where they are aware that they can speedily secure their liberty. As to Palmer, there is some doubt even as to his halting from America.

Nebraska Grange.

FREMONT, Neb., Dec. 12.—The State Grange confined its work principally to routine business, little of which is of a public nature. One topic discussed was the binder twine question. The outcome was the passage of the following resolutions:

Resolved: That it is the sense of this State Grange that our executive committee make arrangements at once with all the subordinate granges in the state to use Fremont twine if the same can be bought on proper terms.

Murderer Sloan Escapes.

BLAIR, Neb., Dec. 13.—Arthur Sloan is at liberty. He gained his freedom about 6:30 last evening by digging through the stone, wooden and iron walls of the Washington county jail a hole large enough to permit him to pass. With him went Frank Morrison, who committed the adjoining cell and who was held for burglarizing the home of Joseph Ware. Both were awaiting trial at the spring term of court.

Making Beet Sugar.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 13.—T. L. Kimball of the Union Pacific and Henry Gibson, an Omaha business man, are the western agents of a New York syndicate which has decided to erect a system of beet sugar factories throughout Nebraska and adjacent states, with headquarters in this city. They refuse to give any information on the subject until the plans are perfected.

Morton Resigns.

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 12.—J. Sterling Morton's resignation as a member of the Nebraska world's fair commission was placed in Governor Thayer's hands.

An Italian Steamer Goes Down.

GENOA, Dec. 13.—The Italian steamer Galabria sank shortly after leaving this port, her boilers having exploded. It is not known yet how many lives were lost.

Chinese Insurrection Quelled.

LONDON, Dec. 13.—A dispatch from Peking states that the recent victories of the imperial troops sent against the rebels in Mongolia have brought the insurrection to an end. Forty-two insurgents who had a hand in the murder of Christians have been beheaded at Taku.

Three Killed, Nine Injured.

CAIRO, Ill., Dec. 14.—A collision occurred at Mountain Glen, near Murphysboro, Ill., on the Mobile & Ohio railroad, between a freight and construction train. Three persons were killed and nine injured, one of them fatally.
