-The local division of the A. O. H. is making preparations for observing the appiversary of its existence on April 23d. By a singular coincidence this date is the same as that of the prince of Eng lish poets, Wm. Shakespeare.

-Chas. A. Gardner, the inimitable German comedian, has written Manager Lloyd for a date about April 25th. He is a fine vocalist, a great laugh-maker and carries a strong company. He was here about ten years ago and gave excellent satisfaction.

-A local insurance agent was asked by a broncho buster of the Wild West show to write him an accident insurance policy. The agent could not see his way clear to doing so, as he considered a man who had sufficient temerity to mount the hurricane deck of a broncho to be practicing an equally dangerous employment as that of a powder mill employee.

A large majority of North Platte people will be sorry to see this gentleman leave our midst.

-The annual meeting of the Episcopal parish was held at the church Monday evening when the several reports for the year were read. There are 101 communicants in the parish, and the re port of the financial condition proved to be very satisfactory. The members of vestry were re-elected, with the exception of Major Walker, to whose place B. C. Clinton was elected. It was voted to erect a mission chapel in the Third ward of the Nebraska Wesleyan University on the block south of the school house, and work on the building will soon begin. In this contest some one will be left, as there are but two members to be elected. The ladies are up for re-election and having served the people faithfully and well, will probably receive a big vote: in fact Mr. Fikee and his friends will have to do some tall rustling in order to defeat either of the fair candidates. In the First ward Alex Stewart and Charley Monagan will contest for the honor of representing that section in the city council. The followers of both candidates are certain of victory and the result will be very close -it may result in a tie, as was the last spring with Hendy and Herrod. In the Second ward C. F. Iddings has a clear field, but in the Third Dave Scott and C. B. Jordan will test their popular ity. It is pretty generally conceded that David, like his namesake of old, will slay his political Goliah.
