JOHN F. HINMAN, Register.

The Tribune.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1894.

—Prof. Barber returned from Kearney this morning.

—Dr. N. F. Donaldson returned Sunday night from a few days' visit in Chicago.

—Colonel Cody, wife and daughter returned Monday night from Sheridan, Wyo.

—C. L. Williams returned the early part of the week from a business trip to Omaha.

—Rev. L. P. McDonald went to Kearney Monday to attend the funeral of Miss Barber.

—The Tribune is informed that W. R. Truesdell, manager of the Pacific Hotel in this city, has sent in his resignation.

—Finer apples were never in North Platte than those received by Chas. McDonald to-day. Prices lowest in the city.

—Miss Emma Samelson left Monday night for a visit with her sister in Laramie, Wyo., having been summoned there by the death of her brother-in-law.

—A girl baby was born to Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Bullard Monday night. This is a tender flower that will not be kept in Mr. B's new floral conservatory.

—W. P. Solomon, of Brady Island, was in town yesterday making application for final proof on his homestead. His land is located on the island and he succeeded in raising a fair crop of corn this year.

—Four boys were arrested Monday night for making an assault on a painter who runs a shop on east Front street. Detective Millthroppe arrested three of the fellows, having found them secreted in a box car.

—The members of the Loyal League of America of this city have received a challenge from a debating club in Well precinct, the contest to be held next Friday. The boys are undecided whether they would accept.

—The city council will hold a session Monday night and among other business to be transacted will be the canvassing of the vote on the recent bond propositions. This work would have been done earlier, had the vote been anywhere close.

—The New England supper to be given at the Episcopal guild house to-morrow (Thursday) evening will afford an opportunity for the public to get a good meal for 25 cents. The menu will consist of cold meats, baked beans, cabbage salad, brown bread and other good things.

—Wash Hinman has discarded the Western grading machine he had been using and supplanted it with a New Era, which he purchased of Hershey & Co. He found the Western too bulky to conveniently handle.

—The meetings at Hershey are continued this week with increasing interest. Rev. Graves, who is conducting them, was greeted by a crowded house Sunday night in the Maccabee hall and seven asked for prayer. He expects Rev. Tyson, of Lincoln to be with him this week.

—Will Cartwright came in from Salida, Col., yesterday morning, having been summoned here as a witness in the case of Mrs. Ritner against the Home Insurance Co. Mr. Cartwright is employed as a passenger brakeman on the Denver & Rio Grande Ry. His many friends are glad to meet him.

—There is one young man less in North Platte to-day than there was Monday. This young man arrived from Bellefontaine, Ohio, Sunday night expecting to work in the Vienna Cafe, but after experiencing the sand-storm of Monday, he grew homesick and took the first train for Ohio.

—W. W. Conklin came in from St. Louis Monday morning, being summoned here as a witness in a case being tried before the district court. As is perhaps known, Mr. Conklin is now chief clerk of Frank Reardon, superintendent of motive power of the Missouri Pacific system, and likes his new position very much. His family moved to St. Louis from Omaha last week.

—Major Walker came into town Monday in search of two head of cattle which had been stolen from his ranch the night before. A woman living near the North Platte bridge claims to have seen two men driving two cows—which corresponded to the ones stolen—over the bridge just at daylight Monday morning. The Major got no clue to the thieves.

—Street Commissioner Huntington has patched up a large number of street crossings lately, and very little more street work will be needed until next spring. So far the present administration has expended very little money on the streets, Mayor VonGoetz knowing that the citizens generally were in favor of cutting down expenditures.

—Patronize Baker's diary and secure clean and pure milk.

—H. C. Nesbitt is at present doing clerical work in the land office, helping out the officials during a temporary rush of work.

—Miss Derby, formerly a teacher in the Platte Collegiate Institute at Kearney, has been elected to fill the vacancy in the Central building.

—During the absence of the family Saturday night, thieves broke into the Emmons' residence and carried off several blankets and quilts and two pillows.

—Mrs. J. W. Hingston returned to Cheyenne this morning, after having spent several days with North Platte friends. She likes Cheyenne very much as a place of residence.

—The vote in Wallace precinct last week was seventy per cent below that of last year, evidence that a great many people have left that section for the winter season.

—A "gun-play" was made on Front street one night the latter part of the week, but it resulted harmlessly to the combatants, Pat and Dutch were the men interested.

—Dr. J. B. Clayton, of Dickens, accompanied by his wife, left last week for Roxbury, N. Y., where they will remain indefinitely. The Doctor gave this office a call prior to leaving.

—The Tribune finds it impossible on account of a rush of other work to publish a tabulated vote of Lincoln county, but publishes elsewhere the total vote received by the several candidates.

—Go to Chas. McDonald, Grocer, and get a barrel of fine apples. Car load received this morning.

—There will be service at the north side chapel on Friday evening at 7:30. It is expected that there will be baptism of children at the same place next Sunday afternoon. Everybody welcome.

—Mr. Sheedy, who has the contract for building the county bridge at Maxwell, was in town the latter part of the week and announced that he would commence work on that structure on Monday next.

—The local demo-pops talked some of ratifying Holcomb's election, but subsequently abandoned the idea, for the reason, it is said, that only a few would consent to put up money to pay the expenses.

—F. E. Bullard received the latter part of the week a number of handsome chrysanthemums, which make quite a showing in his new conservatory. He has also received a liberal supply of other plants and flowers.

—During the heavy wind Monday a prairie fire raged on the north side east of the Birdwood and considerable property is reported to have been burned, but who the losers were we have not been able to ascertain.

—District court convened Monday morning with Judge Neville on the bench. It is expected that governing-elect Holcomb will be here some time during the session to hear several cases in which Judge Neville is interested.

—The special election to vote on the proposition to issue $10,000 South Side precinct bonds to aid in the construction of the irrigation ditch in that section will be held on Tuesday next. There is little doubt but the bonds will receive a favorable majority.

—Residents of the valley west of the city report considerable petty thieving of late. This can naturally be expected, as many people in the hills are without food and their hunger tempts them to make appropriations which under other circumstances they would not do.

—D. A. Baker has established his milk route in the city and is prepared to serve the people with first-class milk and cream. Mr. Baker has a good class of cows, exercises care in securing and taking care of the milk and you can rest assured that the article you secure of him is good and clean.

—The infantile population of the city is increasing at present at the rate of about six a week. No better evidence of the need of a new school building is necessary. These boys and girls who are being ushered into this cold and heartless world will soon attain schoolage and then what shall we do with them, if the school accommodations are not increased?

—Although North Platte had the first and only meeting of the state irrigation association, there is no reason why that should debar her from being selected as the place of holding the second convention, which will be held next month, if the business men feel inclined to put up the amount needed to defray the expenses. Situated in the heart of the irrigated district of Nebraska, North Platte is fully as central to delegates who would likely attend as any point in the state. What say you, business men, shall a move be made to secure the convention?

CHRISTMAS IS COMING

CLINTON, THE JEWELER.

—Miss Emma Peckham returned from Kearney last night.

—Miss Annie Corciliuss left this morning for her home in Columbus, Neb.

—"Doc" Palmer, who has been working on a bridge at Chappell, is home on a visit.

—Joseph Got-left Beeler is in town attending court, being attorney in several foreclosure cases.

—We are requested to state that the Eastern Star social announced for to-morrow evening has been indefinitely postponed.

—Dr. Dick is having his building on the corner of Locust and Sixth repainted, a much needed improvement, we should say.

—J. L. Snyder, of Gandy, has been assisting Mr. Orr with the work in the High school during the absence of Mr. Barber and Miss Peckham.

—The members of the local lodge of Good Templars will give an oyster social Saturday night of this week in the Keith building on Front street. All are invited.

—The Kearney Hub of yesterday says: I. A. Fort returned to North Platte last night. He was in the city setting the ball rolling for the annual irrigation convention.

—F. L. Terry, of Nichols precinct, was in the city Tuesday with his little daughter, who has been on the sick list for a couple of weeks, to consult a physician in regard to her trouble.

—Rev. Graves will conduct the young men's meeting Sunday. Subject: "25,000 young men the corner stone of Nebraska." Services will be held at the Methodist church at 4:15 p. m. This meeting will be open to both ladies and gentlemen.

—A telegram was received from Hastings last evening announcing that E. B. Warner had been elected by acclamation Great Sachem of the I. O. R. M., the highest state office in the order. The members of the lodge here are highly elated over this compliment paid to Warner, in fact, he is not in the city.

—The vote of the county at the late election was about 125 less than one year ago. This is not a very heavy falling off considering the number of farmers who left the county during the summer and fall. There was, however, quite an increase in the vote in this city.

—Wedding bells will ring out their merry chimes in this city on Thanksgiving evening, when a prominent young man will lead to the altar a very estimable young lady. It is said that early in January another young business man will assume double regalia, the lady of his choice being a resident of a Michigan town.

—The North Platte Broom Mfg. Co. reports a good business, and it is hoped the trade will so increase as to warrant the employment of additional workmen. Every industry, no matter how small, increases the business of a town, and the way to encourage industries is to patronize them. When you purchase a broom see that it is made by the local company.

—Quite an excitement was caused in the west end one night last week by what was supposed to be burglars attempting to gain an entrance through a window, but investigation proved the intruder to be the family cat scratching on the window screen. The man of the house, who secured the services of a neighbor or two to help rout the burglar, has had to buy many cigars to quiet the friends who were informed of his display of bravery.

—The work of improving the interior of the Lutheran church is now fully completed, and the members can congratulate themselves that they have a little the nicest room in town in which to hold services. The walls and ceiling have been nicely papered in panels, new carpets have been laid and the furniture revarnished, giving the room a handsome appearance. Spiritually the church, under the pastorate of Rev. Fonik, is increasing correspondingly with the material improvement, the attendance being such as to crowd the building at almost all the services. The prosperous condition of the church is largely due to the untiring efforts of the pastor, who has won a warm place in the hearts of his parishioners and our people generally. May his future work be as successful as his past.

—Fifty friends gathered at the Hartman residence last evening and assisted Miss Irene in celebrating her birth anniversary. The gathering was a great surprise to the young lady, but she made the best of the situation, and there were none who did not enjoy the evening. Before leaving the guests presented Miss Hartman with a jewel case, silver card receiver, gold pin, sewing chair, handkerchief case, souvenir spoon, gold and silver thimbles as tokens of their friendship and esteem.

—The case of Mrs. H. M. Ritner against the Home Insurance Company, brought to recover money on property destroyed by fire six or seven years ago, has been occupying the attention of the district court since Monday. The case was being argued this forenoon and will be given to the jury this afternoon. The next cases on the docket are those of the State against C. S. Clinton on charge of promoting a lottery.

—J. E. Grace, of Omaha, was in town Saturday transacting business. He had just recovered from a severe attack of typhoid fever.

—Mrs. H. Schuff and children expect to leave Saturday for Grand Island, their future home.

THIRD WARD LOCAL EVENTS.

COLLECTED BY ALBIE

Joseph McKiver has moved to Ogallala.

Mrs. Henry Yost is visiting her daughter in Kearney.

U. G. Sawyer was elected constable and he thinks he will qualify.

Robert Fulton is down from Laramie on a few days' visit with his family.

The Wild West Hose Co. will elect officers for the coming year at their next regular meeting on December 6th.

F. A. Simpson has moved his family into W. H. Ryan's house from Ft. McPherson reservation, and he thinks he can enjoy the comforts of home much better.

Some person or persons entered the office of Mrs. L. Emmons last Saturday night while she was at home and helped themselves to a feather bed, comforts, pillows and other bedding. Mrs. Emmons is at Salt Lake with her daughter and this the thief knew, and he also knew the surroundings. The police have a clue and they will follow it until it brings the guilty to jail.

The proposition for issuing bonds for building a high school carried by the necessary two-thirds majority in this precinct. The main opposition came from a number of women who have no school children and whose argument was that their taxes would be almost double if the proposition should carry. There were very few men opposed to the bonds and if a special election should be called the Third precinct can be counted upon as giving the necessary majority for the bonds, if last week's election can be used as a criterion. We must have more room from somewhere for the increasing number of school children.

Road and Shop Notes.

The old depot at Sutherland will be moved in sections to Archer.

Jack Foster has returned to work after a week or ten days' illness.

Conductor Ginn has been given a ten days' lay-off for holding a stock train at Paxton.

New rail sills are being laid throughout the round house by the bridge and building department.

The 294 has been brought down from Sidney for a general overhaul. This engine is the one used on the snow plow.

Frank Dowhower, helper in the blacksmith shop, has returned from the Ogden hot springs much improved in health.

Supt. Park received a Sterling bicycle by express yesterday morning. After a little practice he will probably make some fly runs to Sidney and Cheyenne.

The family of Oscar C. Brice leave for Pennsylvania this week. Mr. Brice will follow them later on, but will return here again, unless the unexpected occurs.

The pay checks for the road men which were received Monday, gave evidence of good business last month. Checks ranging from $125 to $175 are nice to receive these times.

Mike Cronen and Will Sullivan have entered the shops as apprentices, the former is in the machine

All is not Gold That Glitters.

Behind a fair face oftimes lurks deceit. A book with a handsome cover may contain nonsense. We hold a firm grip on the affections of our customers because style is not omitted or quality sacrificed. Our shoes contain both to a surprising extent. shop and the latter is under the tutelage of Smallwood in the air brake department.

The fast mail yesterday morning made the run from Cheyenne to North Platte in four hours and thirteen minutes. The distance is 225 miles and the actual running time was nearly sixty miles per hour.

Conductor Mooney received a letter from a Julesburg man the other day demanding twenty dollars for a pet antelope which he claims Mooney shot last spring. As Mr. Mooney knows nothing of the occurrence, he is not quite ready to fork over the money. The incident affords some amusement for the railroad boys who take delight in "joshing" the portly conductor.

DEFENDS THE UNIVERSITY.

LINCOLN, NEBR., Nov. 10, 1894.

DEAR MR. BAKER:

I have seen in THE TRIBUNE an article quoted from the Gandy Pioneer, advocating the establishment of Normal schools in the different sections of the state instead of increasing the accommodations at the University. I do not know when I have seen so short an article so full of errors, both of judgment and as to facts.

The University is not crowded because citizens of Lincoln prefer to send their children to the preparatory department. The number of students in the preparatory department in comparison with the entire number of students in the University grows less and less each year. The number of students in the preparatory department who come from the city of Lincoln grows rapidly less each year. This year, if you take out the children of people who have moved to Lincoln for the express purpose of educating their children at the University, who are in the city temporarily only, there are very few children from Lincoln in the preparatory department.

It is not true that the high schools of almost all the cities of Nebraska cover the branches taught in the preparatory department. On the accredited list of the University there are but seventy-two schools, and of these not to exceed twelve prepare students for the first year of University proper. The remaining schools, nearly sixty in number, do not do much more than prepare for the last year of the preparatory course as now established; though some of them in some studies carry students to the freshman year.

Seventy per cent of the children of this state are still in the district schools, in the country schools, and being there have no opportunities to prepare for the University unless they go away from home. A very small number of these can go to city high schools because only a small number of city high schools have room for outside pupils. Wherever they go they must pay a fee and so get away from a free school system of the state. These are the conditions and the only conditions under which the University has maintained its preparatory department so far.

The University has already announced that it will drop the first year of its preparatory work next year. This is certainly all it ought to do if it is to keep in touch with the great body of farming and working people throughout the state. I can assure you from what I know of the University by experience here that these young people mostly have such parents, This is the school for poor man's children; rich men can afford to pay fees; and send their children where they please.

The very fact that the Gandy Pioneer talks about "the building" of the University, shows that the editor has very little conception of the actual condition of things here. There are five buildings here.

There is no doubt of the need of more Normal Schools in the state. But if they were Normal Schools in truth, that is, schools preparing students to teach, a very small per cent of the pupils who go here would go to them. Most of our students are looking either for general education, or for special training in the engineering schools, or in the shops, or in agriculture—nothing of which comes in the Normal School.

We have enough weak schools in the state already. It is certainly the part of wisdom to strengthen the schools that already exist and not divide educational interest.

All the students from the North Platte region join in the hope that the papers of the western part of the state will stay by the University and see that the library building is put up for agricultural and mechanical arts. We want more shops and more work that is practical.

Yours truly,
ALFRED A. GILMAN.
