There is no need of sending out of town for Christmas presents; Clinton can supply everybody.

The county commissioners convened this morning and will probably remain in session for several days.

The case of Oscar Fine, charged with house-breaking and theft, is being heard in the district court to-day.

Among the social gatherings last week was a quilting party at Mrs. J. J. Sullivan's Wednesday evening, a card party at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Clinton Tuesday, and a card party Wednesday evening in which Joe Perritt figured as host.

Clinton is having an excellent trade these days, which is not strange when it is considered that he has a stock from which it is not difficult to find suitable Christmas presents. The stock is being replenished right along, therefore the assortment is complete at all times.

This far in advance, several North Platte men are making arrangements to be present at the opening of the Indian reservation in eastern Utah next spring. Would it not be better for these same men to do a little hustling and secure a forty acre tract of the irrigated lands in this section?

Thieves are getting rather bold in this section, and it begins to look as though those farmers who have grain or hay will have to protect it at the point of a gun. Last Friday parties supposed to live near McCook drove to I. B. Bostwick's ranch south of Hershey, camped for the night and the next morning deliberately loaded forty-nine bales of hay on their wagons and drove away without leaving even a note of thanks. It is likely if they attempt another steal they will receive a warm reception from Mr. Bostwick.

As the cold weather approaches applications for county aid are increasing, and though orders given by Poormaster Peniston are limited to the bare necessities which keep soul and body together, the cost to the county will be very heavy, even though an appropriation for the relief of the needy is made by the incoming legislature. There are hundreds of destitute families in the country who must have succor and it is indeed bad that the financial condition of the county is such that these poor people cannot be helped more liberally than at present. It is really a serious question as to how they can be kept until the legislature convenes. We notice that quite a number of barrels and boxes of relief goods are being shipped in by private parties in the east, but these shipments consist principally of clothing. An item in the Seward (Neb.) Blade last week stated that nearly a carload of goods for the poor had been shipped to North Platte, but we did not learn to whom the goods were consigned.

Mr. and Mrs. Truesdell left Monday for Chicago, where they will visit Mr. T's parents for some time.

The ladies of the Catholic church will serve supper in the old Thacker store on Front street on Wednesday evening of next week—Thanksgiving eve. The patronage of the public is cordially solicited and the ladies will see that everybody is well supplied and satisfied.

An experienced irrigationist of this city thinks farmers should not attempt to do much irrigating with windmills on the start. Better to begin with from one to three acres and make a success, than ten or twenty acres and make a failure. Begin with a small patch and increase the acreage as the conditions permit. Two acres of land irrigated and intensively farmed will produce enough vegetables to supply the wants of a large family and afford a surplus that will purchase all the necessary groceries needed in the home. With a two-acre patch of this kind every farmer can feel secure against the approach of the gaunt wolf in case of a drouth.

A little escapade is reported from Hershey, which proves that loud laughs at locks, bars and the efforts of men. Miss Duncan of Denver, a sister of Mrs. G. R. Gollin, Jr., of Hershey, has been a guest of the latter lady for some time, and during her visit became acquainted with a sterling young yeoman named George Boothroyd. The acquaintance between the two ripened into love, a condition which was not looked upon with favor by Mr. and Mrs. Gollin. But nothing could sever the bonds of love between Miss Duncan and Mr. Boothroyd, and under the pretense of going to her Denver home, Miss Duncan took passage on No. 1 Monday night. In the meantime the faithful swain in order to throw off suspicion had come to this city on a freight, and also took passage back on No. 1, joining his lady love in the car when the train had left Hershey. They continued their journey to Ogalalla, where, if reports are true, they were married yesterday morning. From what THE TRIBUNE can learn both are estimable young people, and now that the marriage knot has been tied, it is not likely the relatives of the bride will insist on making matters unpleasant for her.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING

CLINTON, THE JEWELER.

A. J. Tyler, of Ogalalla, is taking in the sights of this metropolis to-day.

Mrs. W. S. Sprague and daughter left Monday night for Cleveland, Ohio.

T. Fulton Gantt went to Lincoln Monday, having business before the supreme court.

Mrs. Westphalen, who has been a guest at the Pacific Hotel for several months, went to Omaha this morning.

Latest thing out—the gaiety girls' stick pin for the boys.

The Presbyterian ladies gave a chicken supper last evening which was largely patronized. The supper was a most excellent one.

Mr. and Mrs. Saxe, who succeed to the management of the Pacific Hotel, arrived the latter part of the week and have taken charge.

Fred Grau lost twenty-two of his fine chickens one day recently by having them eat barn which had been saturated with rough on rats.

A double male quartette has been organized and will furnish music for the Y. M. C. A. meetings to be held on December 1st and 2d.

W. L. McGee, of Omaha, who has been spending six months in the south, is in town to-day transacting business and meeting his many old friends.

The Hub is authority for the statement that Kearney has secured the second annual convention of the state irrigation association, by giving the public the benefit of once issue a call for the meeting to be held in that city on December 18th and 19th.

O. G. Vandylke, grand lecturer of the A. O. U. W. will speak at Keith's hall on Monday evening next on the principles of the order. The general public is cordially invited to be present on this occasion. The local lodge will meet at lodge room and march to the hall in a body.

The TRIBUNE will devote considerable attention this winter to the dissemination of matter relative to irrigation, and respectfully solicits contributions on that subject. Irrigators along the old ditch, by giving the public the benefit of their practical experience in raising crops, could help along the cause very much.

Beginning next Sunday the hour for morning service at the Church of Our Saviour will be changed to 10:30 o'clock instead of 11:00. Sunday school will follow instead of preceding the service, the hour being 12 m. instead of 10 a. m. All interested please take notice.

The removal of Chas. Monagan has created a vacancy in the city council from the First ward, but as yet no appointment has been made by Mayor VonGoetz. A committee has recommended the appointment of Fred Elliott, and it is also understood that the name of Alex Stewart has been presented by the friends of that gentleman.

William Philomate and Mrs. Leonidas Hipple, the latter having secured a divorce from her husband at the present term of district court, went to Julesburg this morning for the purpose of getting married. The law in Colorado permits a divorced man or woman to wed immediately after securing a decree, while in this state a period of six months must elapse.

The election held at the Bratt school house yesterday for the purpose of voting on the proposition to issue $10,000 in irrigation bonds, resulted in a defeat for the bonds, the vote standing fifty-five for and thirty-three against. It requires two-thirds of the total vote cast to carry the bonds. It is likely another election will be held in the near future. The defeat of the bonds will not interfere with the work on the ditch.

Just received, new Brownie pins, ten cents each.

CLINTON, THE JEWELER.

Rev. Nathan, the converted Jew revivalist, will begin a series of meetings in this city next Friday, a full program of which will be found on the first page. The TRIBUNE does not exactly approve of the methods used by Brother Nathan in bringing souls to salvation, but in view of the great good he performed in this city last fall, the result undoubtedly justifies the means employed. This journal therefore bespeaks for the Nathan meetings a large attendance, and trusts that much good may result.

All is not Gold That Glitters.

Behind a fair face oft times lurks deceit. A book with a handsome cover may contain nonsense. Shoes made for style alone are like the house built upon the sands—the storms come and its glory departs; so does the customer, to come again never more. We hold a firm grip on the affections of our customers because style is not omitted or quality sacrificed. Our shoes contain both to a surprising extent. The largest variety in the city to choose from, and every pair guaranteed to give satisfaction. Still a few of those left at prices to suit the times. Prepare yourself now for the cold, chilly blasts that will soon be upon you.

Our district conference is now assured, having received notice from E. B. Henderson, general secretary for the west, that he will be with us; also the general secretary of Fremont, Grand Island and Columbus, and delegates from Kearney, Lexington, Ogalalla and Sidney are also expected to be with us. A very interesting programme will be furnished covering the Y. M. C. A. work. The sessions will be held in the different churches during Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 1st and 2d. We earnestly hope that the citizens of this city will unite to make this a very pleasant and beneficial gathering. H. B. H.

A personal friend of weather prophet Hicks, living at Osceola, Polk county, wrote to Mr. Hicks not long since saying to the renowned gentleman that a report had been circulated forecasting a calamity for Nebraska next season in the shape of a desert summer and furthermore that there would not be a tree put forth foliage in this state during 1895. Mr. Hicks replied saying that next year would experience for Nebraska one of the most beautiful crops in the history of the state. This is decidedly encouraging, hence we send it forth. —Columbus Telegram.

J. W. FISHER & Co., Agents.

George Ostrander, living near Garfield, in Lincoln county, had a preliminary hearing, last Tuesday, before County Judge Hoagland on the charge of grand larceny. The goods stolen were saddles, harness, etc., to the value of $75 or more, and were the property of the T. L. V. ranch. While there was testimony that pointed to Ostrander's guilt it was doubtful if there was sufficient to convict before a jury and Judge Hoagland discharged the prisoner. Some twenty-eight sets of harness have been stolen this fall within a radius of a few miles of Ostrander's home, and now that suspicion is cast upon him if he is the guilty party he will no doubt soon be caught and stop put to further pilfering. W. T. Wilcox, of the firm of Grimes & Wilcox, of North Platte, appeared for the defendant. —Gandy Pioneer.

Its Fame Will Live.

The World's Columbian Exposition marked the climax of human achievement. It will live in memory of the crowning glory of modern times. No other development of the closing century can compare with it in practical benefit to mankind.

Who that exhibited is not proud of it? Who that failed to exhibit does not regret the omission? The former are the people of to-day. The latter are relics of the past.

No honor so high as that embodied in an award at the fair. Competition was world-wide, the fruits of ripest experience and noblest endeavors were submitted for examination.

Honest tribunals, composed of eminent scientists, examined and passed upon the claims of exhibitors. Their judgement based on inquiry and justice, proves conclusively the value of any article they commend.

Their approval was stamped on

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder

It received the highest award at the fair from a jury headed by the Chief Chemist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Dr. Price's was officially commended for highest leveling power, purity, keeping qualities and general excellence.
