To My Patrons:

Best wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year.

Very respectfully,
M. T. HILL

Alf Kinton thought Walter S. Maxwell, the rural mail carrier, was looking hungry, and also thought he was deserving of a treat, so he left a lot of fresh pork,—spare ribs, backbone, etc.—on the mail box Tuesday morning. Walt is willing to be served that way all along the line, and the carrier on route No. 1 says "Me too."

The Royal Highlanders on Monday night elected the following officers: A. N. Sedoris, illustrious protector. Florence Minick, chief counselor. W. W. Sanders, worthy evangel. Lillian Allen, sec'y. A. B. Kinton, treasurer. W. F. Keeling, warden. W. W. Seid, Sentry. W. F. Keeling, manager.

The Christmas entertainments at the Methodist and Christian churches on Christmas eve were good and both churches were filled, every seat being occupied. Interesting programs were given at both places. The Christmas trees contained presents for all the pupils, and many other presents were also given. Candy, nuts and popcorn were given to all members of the schools.

Seymour Howe is feeling very proud of a fine invalid chair that he received as a Christmas present from his children. He takes great comfort in it now. He is able to sit up in it much of the time that otherwise he would have to spend in bed, and is greatly rested thereby. He is now able to walk about the house a little on crutches, but is gaining very slowly.

James F. Bennett, a former well known citizen of Nemaha, died Saturday morning of last week, at the insane asylum at Hastings. The body was shipped to Nemaha, arriving here Monday, and the funeral was held at the Christian church Tuesday forenoon.

Mr. Bennett was one of the pioneers of Nemaha county, coming here with his parents in an early day. He was proprietor of the Bennett mill near here for many years.

A few years ago his mind failed him and he was sent to the asylum at Lincoln. He grew worse and was finally sent to the asylum for incurables.

Rev. J. W. Sapp of Brownville conducted the services at the church. The body was laid at rest in the Nemaha cemetery.

The deceased leaves a wife, one son, Hannibal Bennett, and three daughters Mrs. Emma Loomis, Mrs. Pearl Colerick and Miss Mabel Bennett.

All property owners are notified to repair sidewalks at once or repairs will be made by street commissioner and charged up against property.

By order of Board of Trustees.

Another car load of flour from the Aurora mills just unloaded at the Paris building—the flour that pleases everybody in quality and price. Bran, shorts, chop feed, Graham and corn meal always on hand. Crother, the harness man, will wait on you.
E. L. PARIS

Chalk Talk Artist

The fourth entertainment in the Nemaha lecture course will be given next Monday night by J. Lorenzo Zwicky, who will talk on "The Philosophy of the Beautiful," illustrating his lecture with beautiful sketches, drawn while he talks. All the entertainments heretofore given have been fine, but this is said to be better than any that have preceded it. Admission, 25 cts., including reserved seat.

Free Concert

Miss Jessie M. Garvin will give a concert at the Methodist church next Thursday night. Admission free but a collection will be taken. Everybody is invited.

Robert Jones was at the road waiting for the rural carrier on route one a day or so ago with a fine duck in his hands, which he presented to the carrier for a New Year's dinner. Mr. Rumbaugh knows how to appreciate anything like that, and returns thanks.

Mr. and Mr. C. H. Kindig, who have been visiting the family of V. P. Peabody during the holidays, went to Lincoln Wednesday to attend the State teachers' association. From there they will return to Wakefield, Neb., where both are teaching. Mr. Kindig being principal of the schools.

J. S. Stull and F. G. Hawxby have formed a partnership in the law business and will open offices in Auburn in a few days. The firm will be a winning one. Judge Stull is one of the ablest attorneys in the state and Mr. Hawxby is a very eloquent and brilliant young lawyer. They will undoubtedly have a big practice.

Mrs. J. H. Vanderslice was calling on a neighbor Wednesday evening and when she returned home, shortly after eight o'clock, she found the house full of smoke and there was a strong scent of burning cloth. The alarm was given and a large crowd gathered to fight fire, but none could be found, and yet the smell of burning cloth could be detected, at times growing stronger. Finally the most of the crowd left. Lelah Gaitner went to the stove in the sitting room to warm and noticed a bit of rag that had evidently been laid on the fender of the stove, caught fire and fell off. The oil cloth under the stove prevented the carpet from catching fire and no damage had been done.

A very pleasant watch meeting was held at the Odd Fellows hall Thursday night. Misses Stella Washburn, Dora Clark, May Kerker and Nellie Sanders invited the members of the Rebekah and Odd Fellows lodges and a few friends to watch the old year out and the new year in. The evening passed swiftly and pleasantly with conversation, games, music, etc. At 11 o'clock a luncheon of cake and fruit was served by the hostesses. At midnight the young people got horns and marched through the streets making as much noise as possible, to let the people know that 1904 had arrived.

Fifty-five persons were present and it was the unanimous opinion that this was one of the most pleasant gatherings they had ever attended.

Ran A Ten Penny Nail Through His Hand.

While opening a box, J. C. Mount of Three Mile Bay, N. Y., ran a ten penny nail through the fleshy part of his hand. "I thought at once of the pain and soreness this would cause me," he says, "and immediately applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and occasionally afterwards. To my surprise it removed all pain and soreness and the injured parts were soon healed.—For sale by W. W. Keeling.
