The Odd Fellows have put up a street lamp at the corner of their brick building.

Lew Argabright attended the funeral of Miss Vance V. Fox at Red Cloud last Sunday.

The young people had a very pleasant time last Friday night at a party given by Miss Ellen Shiveley.

Joe Bunger has commenced work on a house for himself, west of the school house. It is 36x38 feet, one story.

The Brownville Letter is the name of a newspaper published in the historic town that nestles in the bluffs on the banks of the Missouri: We hope the new paper will flourish like a green bay tree and that the editor will grow rich from the income received therefrom.

Miss Grace Gipson of Auburn is organizing a class in voice culture in Nemaha. Miss Gipson is an accomplished musician and a fine singer, and we hope our young people will take advantage of this opportunity for receiving instruction and training in voice culture.

Prof. Brisco, the corn healer, was in Nemaha Thursday night and Friday morning but says he found only one man with corns and he has only lived here a short time. Our people have such small feet that it is not necessary to crowd them into shoes a size or two too small, and thus there is no reason for laying the foundation for corns.

Mrs. Mary Kittell on Wednesday received the sad news that her sister, Mrs. John J. Green, was dead. Mrs. Kittell got two telegrams, the first one saying her sister was dying and for her to come at once, and the second one saying Mrs. Green was dead. The deceased was one of the pioneers of Nemaha county. Mr. and Mrs. Green lived for many years on the farm where S. C. Lawrence is now living. They moved to Oklahoma three or four years ago and have been living near Osceola. The body will be brought to Nemaha for burial. The cause of her death was heart failure.

The deceased leaves a husband and an adopted son, George Green, to mourn her loss.

VANDERSLICE'S STORE ROBBED

Monday morning when J. H. Vanderslice opened his store room he discovered that burglars had visited him the night previous. One money drawer had been opened and the other broken, the safe, which was not locked had been opened, goods were scattered around, etc. The burglars had gained entrance by boring holes in the rear door just below the lock, making a hole large enough to put a hand through and push back the bolt and raise the iron bar across the door. There was only about fifty cents in money in the drawer. Some canned goods, several pairs of cheap suspenders, underwear, gloves, a watch, shoes and other goods were taken—how much it is impossible to tell yet. The store had been well ransacked, but little was taken. Why the burglars would run all the risk and then take so little is a mystery. The bit with which they bored the holes was evidently secured from Barker & Chandler's blacksmith shop, as footprints showed where they had entered through the hole where the belt to the horse power runs. It is probable the work was done by local talent.

At an adjourned meeting of the school board last Friday night W. M. Crichton was elected principal, Miss Stella Washburn teacher of the intermediate department, and Miss Grace Paris teacher of the primary department.

Notice is hereby given that I have given my son, Clarence Connor, his time, and that I no longer have any right to collect money due him, nor will I be responsible for debts contracted by him.

MARY E. CONNER.

BETTER THAN GOLD

I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F G Green, of Lancaster N H. "No remedy helped me until I began taking Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Only 50 c Satisfaction guaranteed by Keeling's Drug Store.

Robbed the Grave

A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to take Electric Bitters; to my great joy the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c, guaranteed at Keeling's drug store.
