Martha Bunger, the 3-year-old daughter of Joe Bunger, was kicked by a colt a few days ago, but fortunately not hurt much. She went up to the colt and caught hold of its hind leg, but was so near the colt that the kick did not have much force.

One of the Nemaha ladies asked us Thursday afternoon of last week to put a notice in The Advertiser for the benefit of some inquisitive parties that she was going to a neighboring town, but the paper was on press and we failed to get the notice in. We will try and do better next time.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Fred Jay Culp of Lincoln and Miss Jessie Mae Hatch of Holdrege, which pleasant event took place at the home of the bride's parents July 12. Mr. and Mrs. Culp will be at home after August 10 at 1620 M street, Lincoln. Fred's many Nemaha friends extend hearty congratulations and best wishes.

The Woodmen Picnic will be held at Nemaha next Tuesday, July 26, having been postponed on account of the rain.

There is a smart mule colt at Knapp's livery barn. The mother of the colt is used on the dray wagon. When the team goes to the depot the colt stops at the barn and waits there until the dray returns, when it follows its mother around town, stopping at the barn when they start for the depot. It evidently doesn't want to run any chance of being run over by a train, or else doesn't like going up and down hill.

A fellow by the name of Shields struck Willie Kerker in the face Tuesday night, cutting a gash under one eye and one at the side of the nose. It is probable that knucks were used. They were the part at the time Shields was arrested and taken before Judge Smiley, who fined him $2 and costs. The testimony differed widely. Willie and his friends say that he did not say anything to Shields but was joshing another boy. Shields and his friends say Willie called him a bad name.

Last Saturday E. J. Maxwell bought a suit of clothes at Auburn, and wore them in to Nemaha. He left the bundle containing the old clothes at Gilbert & McCandless' store. J. C. Broady bought a hammock that afternoon which he left in the same store. When Broady started for home he took the wrong package, and when the children unwrapped it to see their new hammock they were greatly surprised to see the contents. The next morning Cal brought the clothes back, delivered them to the owner, and got his hammock.

Take the wagonette when in Auburn if you want to go to any part of the city. John McElhaney prop.
