The editor had a pleasant visit with Mr. Adams during his stay here.

This part of the state is certainly having enough picnics. Next Tuesday there will be a fraternal picnic at Julian. On Wednesday is the annual harvest home at Johnson. Wednesday and Thursday will be the pioneer picnic at Rothenberger's grove, between Dawson and Humboldt, and on Thursday comes the best of all, the old settlers picnic at Nemaha.

The Sovereign Visitor, the official organ of the Woodmen of the World, was evidently not well posted regarding the speakers at the picnic at Nemaha July 21. It says addresses were made by Gov. Mickey, Sovereign Commander Root, Rev. G. H. Schleh, State Deputy Walsh and others. Gov. Mickey and Sovereign Commander Root were neither of them present at the picnic.

Last week we published the notice of the marriage of Earl Thompson of Elk Creek and Miss Sadie Wilson of Peru. The notice was sent us by Rev. W. Dieffenbach and we did not think about the groom being our young friend Earl Thompson, son of A. L. P. Thompson, but such is the fact, and Earl insists that he is not a resident of Elk Creek but of Nemaha county. Though our congratulations and good wishes are a little late, we extend them just the same.
