The school boys are enjoying themselves playing football. The men occasionally take part in the evenings.

F. L. Woodward went to Tecumseh Monday to attend the float convention, and from there to Beatrice and Lincoln.

Miss Maud White came in from Auburn last Friday to visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hadlock.

How(e) Good and Ern(e)st the republican legislative ticket looks by the side of Hopkins choice made by the fusionists.

Mrs. T. J. Rumbaugh was called to Omaha Wednesday by a telegram announcing the serious illness of her daughter, Mrs. Horner.

Bedford precinct has never had a county commissioner, but appear to be certain of having one now, as both candidates are from that precinct.

Henry Walker, a "gentleman of color" who formerly lived in Nemaha, was visiting friends here Tuesday. Henry is now living in Omaha.

Thoroughbred B. Plymouth Rock poultry for sale cheap if taken within ten days.

W. W. LIEBHART

Mrs. Rose Gilbert went to Omaha Monday, and expected to go from there to Dubuque, Iowa, Thursday, to visit a sister.

W. H. Nicholls of South Auburn moved the house Mrs. Hill recently bought, south of the lumber yard, to the west end of the lot this week.

The publishers of the Omaha Daily News will send their daily from now until January 1, 1906, for $1.50 to all who subscribe during October. If you want the Sunday paper also, add fifty cents to your remittance. Those who are subscribers can renew under the same conditions.

Mrs. W. E. Wheeldon started for Wayne, Kansas, Tuesday, to visit friends. Mr. Wheeldon's mother, from Auburn, is keeping house for him while his wife is away.

The fusionists held their first convention at Tecumseh Monday and nominated Simon P. Robertson of Brock for senator and David C. Snyder of Johnson county for representative.

J. Marlatt is home again from Holton, Kan., to which place he accompanied Mrs. Marlatt for the benefit of her health. He expects to return soon and remain for the winter.—Brownville Letter.

John W. Colerick has bought a few acres of land on the Nemaha river south of the Bennett mill, and is moving in from Johnson. It is a tract of land bought by Swan Nelson of Henry Seid a year or two ago.

A new game is becoming very popular in this section. It is called "apple cutting." An apple is cut into halves. If there are two halves the boys kiss the girls, but if there are more than two halves, they don't.

Bessie E. Wills, of London precinct, was brought before the insane commission last week and sent to the asylum at Lincoln. Sheriff Lawrence took her to the asylum last Saturday. She is twenty years of age.—Republican.

S. C. Shuck of Webster county, Nebr., visited Nemaha friends last Saturday and Sunday. Sam was called to Auburn by the serious illness of his father, C. Shuck. He says he is prospering in his new home and is well satisfied.

The people of Champion Sunday school will give a social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. P. Thompson next Wednesday evening, Oct. 19, to which everybody is invited. Sandwiches, pickles, coffee, cake and bean soup will be served.

Mrs. J. B. Hoover has bought of Dr. Keeling the small frame building occupied by Dr. Galtner as an office, and will have it moved to John E. Crother's lot and fitted up to live in. She will spend part of her time here and part in Auburn.

"Timmer" Thompson is quite a snake charmer. Last Saturday he had a snake about two feet long and nearly an inch in thickness playing with it, and when he got tired of this he put it in his pants pocket and went off. Snake never bite him, and he frequently has one playing with it.

The following delegation started for St. Louis Monday night, driving to Howe and taking the M. P. train there: J. H. Seid and wife, John B. Stiers and wife, C. W. Roberts and wife, Wm. Mead and wife, Rufus Rowen and wife, W. Rowen and wife, Mrs. D. G. Keister and Miss Ada Lambert.

To the Church of Christ at Nemaha, Greeting: Having arrived home from my western trip I will fill my regular appointment at Nemaha Oct. 16. Subject 11 a. m., "The Whole Armor of God;" 7:30 p. m., "Christian Union." A prayerful invitation to all.

J. W. SAPP.

Cookery for Thanksgiving is a feature of The Delineator for November that will not lack appreciation. A variety of "Toothsome Goodies" are illustrated, the recipes also being given, and special articles are devoted to such seasonable culinary topics as "Sweet Potato Dainties," "Chestnut Recipes," "Savory Salads" and "A Cranberry Carol." The correct service for formal afternoon and evening functions is explained in detail by Elhanor Marchant, with the aid of striking illustrations and other suggestions of value to the householder are given in the department of "House Furnishing," which treats of baskets for use and decoration.

J. H. Dundas of the Granger is a candidate for state senator, by petition. He says there are laws that should be repealed, others that should be amended, and some new legislation is needed, and above all there is a demand for legislation unbiased by party dislikes or swayed by lobby influence, and that it is the height of folly to waste time fighting battles for party.—Republican.

The republican float senatorial and representative convention met at Tecumseh Monday and nominated Ellis E. Good of Nemaha county for senator and William Ernst of Johnson county for float representative. Mr. Good has been tried in legislature and with his experience will do better work than before. Mr. Ernst is a prominent farmer and a worthy representative of the people of Nemaha and Johnson counties.

First we had the "cabbage snake" and now we have them in apples. Last Friday while peeling apples Mrs. A. J. Sexson found one coiled up in the core of a particular choice specimen of fruit. It was about six inches long and about as large around as a coarse thread and was of a very light green in color. It also was very much alive and could wiggle around in a lively manner. After being put in a cup containing alcohol, however, it soon expired.—Brownville Letter.

The petition for a drainage ditch along the west bank of the Nemaha county line, in the northwestern part of the county, Coddington ditch, was rejected by the county commissioners at the recent session. The board found, after due consideration, that the ditch contemplated was "not necessary or conducive to the health, convenience or welfare of the public." A number of the people interested in this matter are determined to bring it to a head yet, and further action will in all probability soon be taken.—Auburn Herald.

The Lincoln Daily Star, Nebraska's favorite evening daily, has just inaugurated a Presidential Dot Counting Contest, which is attracting widespread interest on account of its unique features and the value of the prizes offered. $600 in cash and valuable prizes and valuable prizes are to be distributed among Star subscribers on November 7, when the contest closes. Anyone may compete for the prizes as the conditions are few and simple. Write a postal card to The Star Publishing Co., Lincoln, Neb., and ask them to mail you full particulars which they will be glad to do.

For several months the people between Aspinwall and St. Deroin have heard the screams of some animal, and at least twice it has been seen by children. One day last week one of Levi Clifton's little girls, ten or eleven years old, was going to school, and as she was passing along the "narrow" this side of Hilldale the animal sprang from the cliff in the road behind her. She says it was about two feet high, with a short tail. A dog that was with her barked at the animal and it ran away. John R. Johnson's little girl saw the animal another time and described it about the same, but both children were too badly frightened to give a good description of it. Mr. Monroe and Mr. Clifton have seen tracks of the animal, and say the tracks are larger than those of common dog and near together, showing the animal is short legged. It is thought by many to be a leopard, though the leopard does not have the short tail as described by the Clifton girl. The animal was first heard last spring. Its scream can be heard a long distance. The people are somewhat alarmed for fear it will attack their children, and propose to have a hunt Saturday of next week to try and kill it.

Take the wagonette when in Auburn if you want to go to any part of the city. John McElhaney prop.

MRS. HILL HAS New and Beautiful Millinery At the Store for Bargains Call and See Them

Last Sunday Mrs. James A. Stephenson was given a pleasant surprise by her friends and neighbors. Several days ago it was decided by a few of her friends to celebrate her birthday in an appropriate manner, and accordingly invitations were extended and generally accepted. The editor was one of the fortunate ones to be included in the list of those invited, and when we arrived at the comfortable home of Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson it looked as if the entire neighborhood and many from Nemaha and Auburn were present. After visiting awhile dinner was served, and no one was heard to complain of this part of the gathering. The Champion people are noted for their good cooking, and every time we go to one of their dinners or suppers we think it is a little better than before. The afternoon was spent very pleasantly by all. There were sixty-five present, besides the babies.

The fusionists had a hard time of it at their convention last Saturday. The conference committee decided that the populists could have senator, county attorney and county commissioner and the democrats the two representatives. Then came the hardest task, as no one wanted a nomination that they felt would lead only to defeat. One man after another was named for representative only to decline. Ves Reed, Wm. Kauffman, J. H. Cverturf and others positively declined to be offered as a sacrifice. Finally G. W. Hopkins was named. He got up to decline but was pulled back to his seat and persuaded to let it go. John Casper was nominated, but John was not present and therefore could not decline. Quackenbush and Hawxby were asked to accept the nomination for county attorney but neither would have it. Finally Judge Lambert was nominated for county commissioner.

When it came to selecting delegates to the float convention some of the populists wanted to instruct, but after Ed. Ferneau and others had positively declined to accept if nominated they decided not to instruct for any one, though a few wanted to instruct for J. H. Dundas, who was an announced candidate, but this move was headed off.

The fusionists adjourned, feeling that they had spoiled what little show they had of electing any of their candidates this fall.
