Burkett at Nemaha next Thursday

Congressman Burkett will address the voters of Nemaha and vicinity at Hoover's opera house next Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Special attention will be paid to the new revenue law, and opponents of the law are especially urged to be present and listen to this address. The demands for Mr. Burkett are so great that the committee could not secure him for a speech at night, but are glad to have him with us at all. Let every one attend who wants to hear a good speech.

Republican Meetings

The republican candidates on the county ticket will be at Boatman school house next Monday night, at St. Deroin Tuesday night, Nemaha Wednesday night, and Brownville Thursday night.

John Vanderslice has been visiting at Severance, Kansas, for several days. He went down to attend a wedding of a cousin.

Mike Ettinger, an inmate of the poor farm, died Tuesday night from old age and consequent disabilities. He was 89 years old.

Chas. Richards—"French Charley"—has been very sick for several days with lumbago and other ailments, but is getting some better.

Some of Otto Barker's friends got up a surprise party for him Wednesday night. A good number were present and all had a fine time.

The freight train from the north is now due in Nemaha at 5.15, instead of 7 o'clock p. m. Going north it is now due at 1:40 instead of 2:50.

Yes, we have a few sticks of dimension and finish that grew where knots are not known.

Edwards & Bradford Lbr. Co.

The morning passenger train is now due in Nemaha at 9:48—eight minutes later than heretofore. There is no change in the time of the afternoon train.

The republican candidates on the county ticket will hold a public meeting at the opera house in Nemaha next Wednesday night, Oct. 26. Everybody invited.

There was a heavy frost Thursday morning—the first killing frost this fall. The farmers are glad to see it, as it is needed to get the corn ready for husking.

G. W. Wright and wife of Belvidere, Nebr., arrived in Nemaha last Friday on a visit to their daughter, Mrs. Wesley H. Clark. They returned home Tuesday.

C. W. Burns came in from Beatrice last Saturday, returning Monday. He has been working in a nursery for two or three weeks, having sold out his crop in Otoe county.

Mrs. M. Snow, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Snow, Gene Snow and Mrs. Orpha Allen drove in from Auburn Sunday morning and spent the day with J. M. Burns and family.

Congressman Burkett will pay special attention to the new revenue law in his speech next Thursday afternoon. Everybody is invited, especially those opposed to the new law.

Marshall Webb, Harry Hoover and Clarence Aynes returned from their hunt in the sandhills Monday night. They report finding plenty of prairie chickens but not many ducks.

Remember we have a big stock of white pine grooved roofing. This is also matched the same as flooring, which saves the expense of battens.

Edwards & Bradford Lbr. Co.

Take the wagonette when in Auburn if you want to go to any part of the city. John McElbaney prop.

Joe Smith, who has been living on one of the Gerlaw farms, between Auburn and Bracken, moved to Nemaha Monday.

The ladies of the Christian church will give a dinner and supper on election day, at the Mialck ball. Everybody is invited to take dinner and supper here. Oysters will be served for supper.

J. H. Seid is arranging for his annual hog sale, which will be held on the fair grounds in Auburn on Saturday, Nov. 5. He will have some extra good hogs on sale at that time, including a fine herd boar.

The Junior League shipped a barrel of canned fruit to the Methodist hospital at Omaha Wednesday. This is the second barrel shipped from Nemaha, the ladies aid society having sent a barrel about a month ago.

On account of the storm Wednesday night, the social at the home of Mrs. A. L. P. Thompson was postponed until Saturday night of next week. Bean soup, sandwiches, coffee and cake will be served. Everybody is invited.

A letter from a friend of our boyhood days, Stephen Huntington, now living in Camden, Calif., informs us that he is going to vote for Theodore Roosevelt this year. Steve formerly lived at Nemaha—Auburn Republican.

The crowd of exposition visitors from the vicinity of Champion returned home Sunday night without the loss of any member. C. W. Roberts had a watch stolen while at the Union depot on their way home, but this was the only loss sustained.

Mrs. W. T. Banks and Mrs. Neal of North Platte, Nebr., visited Nemaha friends last Friday, leaving here Saturday forenoon. Mrs. Neal was formerly Miss Cora Combs, daughter of Wils Combs. Her husband is county superintendent of Lincoln county.

Hon. C. D. Nixon of Oswego, New York, was in Nemaha Tuesday. Mr. Nixon was formerly interested in the townsite of Auburn, one of the additions being laid out by Church Howe and Mr. Nixon, and he still has considerable property interests in the county.

Mrs. Walter Starry of Oklahoma is visiting relatives in Nemaha county. She came to Auburn Tuesday of last week, visiting her mother, her brothers and sisters, and on Sunday drove to Nemaha to visit her sister, Mrs. J. M. Burns. Mrs. Starry formerly lived here but has not been here since she moved to Oklahoma, ten years ago.

Willard H. Dressler, who has been assistant manager of a lumber yard at Carroll, Nebr., for a year or two, has received notice from Washington that he has been appointed to a position in the navy yards at San Francisco, and expects to leave for that city in a short time. Will's many friends in Nemaha hope his rise will be rapid in the government service.

The county assessor in delving into mortgage records when making up assessments found $63,000 belonging to three men in Douglas precinct that had not been given in to the assessor. He sent word to this effect to these men and they came in and had this added to their assessment. This year's tax, on this amount, including state, county, school and city tax, will be nearly as much as the salary of the county assessor for four years. And he unearthed a whole lot more of this kind.

We have enough white pine drop siding to build an entire village, and grooved roofing to cover it with.

Mrs. Laura J. Morton died at her home in Nemaha at 12:40 p. m. Tuesday, October 18, 1904. Mrs. Morton has been in very poor health for several years and recently her condition has grown worse, she being confined to her bed for some time previous to her death. Last week her condition became so critical that her children were called home and remained there until her death. She leaves five daughters and one son—Mrs. D. C. Holmes Misses Anna, Nellie, Dora and Cora Morton, and Master Rolla Morton.

The funeral services was held at the Methodist church Thursday afternoon, Rev. G. W. Ayers preaching the sermon.

Mrs. Morton was the widow of David A. Morton and was an old settler in Nemaha. Her children have our sympathy over the loss of a good mother.

Joe Lindsey, son of Geo. R. Lindsey, thinks he saw the animal that has been creating so much excitement around Hillsdale and St. Deroin. Joe has had lines out in the Missouri river, and when he was looking after them Monday evening he saw some strange animal on the sandbar only about forty feet from him. The animal was about two feet high, a kind of mixed color with a white stripe on its back, long neck and long nose and a short tail. Joe did not think much about it until he came home and told his parents, when they told him about the animal that had been seen about Hillsdale. This animal went north, and Bob Bucher thinks he heard it screaming on the bluffs near the cemetery. So it has probably left the Hillsdale community and is going north.

B. H. Moore, one of Nemaha county's well-known farmers, thinks he is entitled to a place in the front rank of potato raisers. On his place, two miles south of Brownville, he recently took 100 bushels of potatoes from a quarter of an acre of ground, and then had some left for good measure. This is raising potatoes at the ratio of 400 bushels to the acre, which is pretty good, even for productive Nemaha county.—Auburn Herald.

We believe if the people who are objecting to the revenue law would investigate the practical workings of the same their objections would vanish. The state and county tax will be no more on the honest taxpayer than it has heretofore been, but the tax dodger will have more to pay. Go to the court house and compare your taxes this year with what you paid last year, and if there is an increase see if it isn't on your school tax.
