WINE OF CARDUI

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased. Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Nebraska City, Neb., Feb. 17.—Fire early this morning at "Arbor Lodge," the home of the late J. Sterling Morton, damaged the property to the extent of $500 to $1000. The loss is fully covered by insurance. The fire caught in the basement from the furnace and burnt up to the second story in the walls between the old residence and the addition which was completed last year at a cost of $150,000. The damage is mostly in the new part of the house. The city department responded to the alarm and the blaze was extinguished within an hour from the time it was discovered. Mrs. Joy Morton is the only member of the Morton family at present at Arbor Lodge.—Lincoln Daily Star.

A gray wolf was killed in daylight in the immediate vicinity of the Missouri Pacific station. Thursday morning George Oldfield took his 22 Winchester rifle and started for the Nemaha river to hunt rabbits. He crossed the tracks of the Missouri Pacific yards climbed through the wire fence into the stock field just east of the depot. He had been carrying his rifle across his shoulder but upon stepping into the field he brought it down across his chest and began peering ahead for the cottontails. There was a rattle of corn stalks a short distance to the left and George looked quickly in that direction. A gray object appeared running slowly towards the river. At first he thought it was a dog but a closer look assured him that it was a gray wolf. The wonder is that with the excitement caused by his find that he was able to hit the animal. But George was deliberate and is a good shot. Anyway he killed the wolf the first crack of the rifle. It was a large one and has a pretty coat. Geo. Oldfield says he will not ruin its head to get the bounty but will preserve the coat in pelt.—Auburn Herald.

The Brood Mare and Her Foal, by James Vincent, D. V. M. a well-known and very successful farmer of Shenandoah, Iowa, is one of the best of the many brilliant articles by experts now appearing in The Homestead. It appears this week and by experts now appearing in The Wisconsin Farmer. It appears this week and is a successful practical breeder's advice as to how to care for a mare both before and after foaling, and also for the young colt. How to work, feed, shelter and exercise the brood mare; the care and attention to give her and her colt at foaling time and for the critical weeks before and after it; the amount and quality of nutrition demanded; the causes and prevention of "colt stiffs" and other troubles, and a host of other practical questions which arise on the farm are answered by this excellent writer in an admirable way. This article alone is worth five dollars to any thoughtful farmer in Nemaha county; and we heartily wish every one of our farm readers would come in and let the Advertiser order The Homestead for a year, so as to get the whole series.

Agonizing Burns

Bucklen's Arnica Salve stopped the pain, and healed it without a scar." Also heals all wounds and sores. 25c at W. W. Keeling, druggist.

SCHOOL NOTES

"Chauncey Depew's rule of success for young people consists of three words—work, stick and save."

"Don't talk of what you are going to do, do it" is a maxim that would often relieve one of listening to a whole string of nothingness, if it were used.

The past often spoils our present usefulness. It is unfair to judge today's work by yesterday's. Probably yesterday had an entirely different set of conditions under which to work.

How do you feel toward your work? Are you pleased to get away from it at every opportunity? Do you go to it every Monday morning with a sense of inward pleasure or is there that feeling of "I'd rather not?" If you are not a close companion of your work you had better find some that you can agree with or better still get on good terms with that of the present.

Science and art go hand in hand. Science teaches while art executes; science directs while art performs. While art is dependent upon science, science would be useless without art. We are all artists, amateurs in that line at any rate. Not least among one's artistic productions are his actions. Many know how but do not use that knowledge. There are two extremes to avoid; thoughtlessness and extreme self-consciousness.

If we as teachers, pupils, patrons or people in general only appreciated our surroundings we would make more of this fair world. We read of noble deeds of courage, perseverance, grit, etc., and admire and applaud. Yet the same work is going on about us all the time while we are blind to see it. If man could only understand his fellow man, could only fathom those deeper springs that give rise to the flow of his daily actions, how much would be explained! How many harsh words would remain unuttered.

Take the wagonette when in Auburn if you want to go to any part of the city. John McElhaney prop.

Grave Trouble Foreseen

It needs but little foresight, to tell that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young of Clay, N. Y. did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters, I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. Sold under guarantee by W. W. Keeling, druggist, at 50c a bottle.

Fraud Exposed

A few counterfeiters have lately been making and trying to sell imitations of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, and other medicines, thereby defrauding the public. This is to warn you to be aware of such people, who seek to profit, through stealing the reputation of remedies which have been successfully curing disease, for over 35 years. A sure protection, to you, is our name on the wrapper. Look for it, on all Dr. King's, or Bucklen's remedies, as all others are mere imitations. H. E. BUCKLEN & CO., Chicago, Ill., and Windsor, Canada.
