The Nebraska Advertiser

W. W. SANDERS & SON, Prop'rs.
 FRIDAY, MARCH 3, 1905.

J. W. Armstrong of the firm of Gilmore-Armstrong Co., of South Auburn, came in to Nemaha Monday to prepare the body of D. H. Clark for burial. He returned home Tuesday.

We will send the Advertiser, the weekly Lincoln State Journal, the Iowa Homestead, the Farm Gazette and the Homemaker, all one year for only $1.50. The regular price of these papers is $3.25.

Our farmers who have been talking of improving the roads in accordance with the suggestions of D. Ward King of Maitland, Mo., should get their drags ready and begin work at once. Now is the accepted time.

Frank Titus was looking for some one to black his shoes Tuesday morning. He was clerk for the Strain sale Monday and lost both his rubbers and didn't find it out till the sale was over so he got his shoes rather muddy.

D. D. Davis presented Carrier Rumbaugh with $2 in money Monday. The same day Charley Devorss presented Carrier Maxwell with some fine sausage. This shows the appreciation of the patrons for the services of the carriers.

Perry Rowen and Alva Maxwell came home from Lincoln Friday to visit home folks for a few days. They are attending the Lincoln Business College and had a few days vacation. Alva returned to Lincoln Monday and Perry Wednesday.

Ben T. Skeen and Mrs. C. W. Roberts received a telegram Monday saying that their mother, Mrs. Malinda Skeen, who is living with her son A. J. Skeen near Eskridge, Kansas, was very sick. Mr. Skeen and Miss Pearl Roberts started for Eskridge Tuesday.

The editor has bought a typewriter and is putting in all his spare time practicing on it. The angels of the office will be glad when he gets so he can furnish all the copy from the typewriter as it will save them considerable study sometimes as to the meaning of some of the hieroglyphics.

J. D. Shubert, who was called home by the death of his little babe, returned to Broken Arrow last Tuesday. He informs us that, considering the weather they have been having down there, he is getting along with his buildings quite well, and will be able to move his family down there about the 1st of April.—Shubert Citizen.

Col. Harper has sold his Hotel De Hoes to Adam Fullmer and L. L. Schafer, possession being given last Monday morning. By this sale the two livery barns here will be consolidated under one management, which will insure better stock in the barns, and better accommodations for its patrons. Just what Col. Harper intends to do we don't know, but hope that he will remain in this city, and again embark in some business for which he is fitted.—Shubert Citizen.

are instantly relieved, and perfectly healed, by Bucklen's Arnica Salve. C. Rivenbark, Jr., of Norfolk, Va., writes "I burnt my knee dreadfully; that it blistered all over. Bucklen's Arnica Salve stopped the pain, and healed it without a scar." Also heals all wounds and sores. 25c at W. W. Keeling, druggist.

AUBURN LOCALS.

W. W. Whitfield purchased the States property and will move to Auburn in a few days.

T. B. Frazier has purchased the harness stock formerly owned by J. E. Armstrong.

Ex-County Commissioner John Stevenson after a year of town life has returned to the farm.

Mrs. Bert Campbell and children leave for Harrison county, Mo. next week for a few week's visit with her parents.

O. E. Phippeney returned last Friday from Kansas City where he has spent the winter. He expects to remove his family there soon.

W. W. Adair, for a number of years street commissioner of Auburn has sold his property and leaves this week for Dixon county where he has rented a farm.

Quite a number of persons are talking of taking advantage of the home-seekers excursion rates on next Tuesday and going west to look for cheaper land.

The business men of South Auburn have organized a social club and fitted up rooms over Lynch's store where from 2 p. m. to 11 p. m. they can go and read and visit with their friends.

That the hog is the mortgage lifter was proven at a recent sale when a young sow sold for $40. She had raised two litters of pigs for her owner, her first litter of ten had been sold for $175. Her last litter of nine fall pigs would sell for $45 if placed on the market, thus making $260 that the one sow had brought to her owner in two years.

Harman Ray who recently deeded all his land to his brother-in-law living in Thayer county, and who, many thought by this act was losing his mind, and incompetent to transact business, has finally outwitted all of the lawyers, who were very anxious that a guardian be appointed to look after the interests of his children. The time set for the trial of his incompetency was set for Tuesday at 10 a. m. and promptly on time quite an array of lawyers were present to see that the "estate" should be properly cared for, but Mr. Ray with his nephew Wm. Prouty had appeared in court half an hour before and Ray had asked that his nephew, Mr. Prouty be appointed as his guardian which was done, and the lawyers services were not needed. Deeds had previously been recorded conveying all of Mr. Ray's land to his two children and their uncle has been appointed as their guardian in Thayer county. Mr. Ray has thus disposed of his entire property as he wanted to without the assistance of lawyers.

Fraud Exposed

A few counterfeiters have lately been making and trying to sell imitations of Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, and other medicines, thereby defrauding the public. This is to warn you to be aware of such people, who seek to profit through stealing the reputation of remedies which have been successfully curing disease, for over 35 years. A sure protection, to you, is our name on the wrapper. Look for it, on all Dr. King's, or Bucklen's remedies, as all others are mere imitations. H. E. BUCKLEN & Co., Chicago, Ill., and Windsor, Canada.

SCHOOL NOTES

Is spring really here? The children are anxious to have it so.

"Can't" is the use of cooled cinders in place of glowing coals.

"I will tell you who are the critics—men who have failed."—D'Israeli.

As the school year nears its close we are apt to ask ourselves this question, "Is our year's work done?"

There are none who appreciate the pleasant weather than the pupils and teachers of the Nemaha school.

The ninth and tenth grade are taking up the study of U. S. Topographical Maps in connection with laboratory work.

The sixth grade will certainly be able appreciate the beautiful in art after their year's study of artists. They are now working on Raphael.

Our third grade ask some perplexing questions in regard to the rights of our North American Indians, given rise to by the reading of Pocahontas.

Better not be afraid to face the world for you will be denounced by somebody no matter which way you go.—D. W. Gerald.

How true! but we should turn to the world a face indicative of honor, right and might.

AUBURN, Nebr. Feb. 28.—"Old Frank" Church Howe's famous campaign horse died yesterday aged thirty-three years. This horse pulled Major Howe through all of his famous campaigns in this country. H. R. Howe, present member of the legislature from this county, during his school days used to ride this horse from his home at Howe to Nebraska City. The sire of this horse, with four others was imported from England during the civil war by an English army officer who shot four of the horses, but Major Howe bought this before he met the fate of his companions, and rode it through the war. When Major Howe came to Nebraska he brought his old war horse with him. After the death of the major's old war horse, "Old" Frank the one that died yesterday became Major Howes favorite horse. It has been the family horse for three generations of the Howe family.

Mrs. S. A. McGechie of Shubert died suddenly Tuesday night, at the home of her sister, in Stella, and the next day Mr. McGechie died. They had recently moved off the farm to Shubert and Mrs. McGechie had arranged to open a stock of millinery in Shubert. She had been to St. Joe and bought her stock of goods. On her return she was taken sick and stopped at the home of her sister in Stella and died there. Mr. McGechie had been in poor health for some time, we understand suffering from Bright's disease, and the shock of his wife's death presumably hastened his own death, as he died the next day. John McGechie, who has lived in this community for several years, was a son of Mr. McGechie by a former wife.

Here and there is reported the case of some grumbler who complains that the rural carrier failed for a day or two to deliver mail during the recent storm period. Such cases are indeed few, but they are not the less obnoxious. The department has properly provided for these contingencies carefully drawn rules of which the following are examples:

Rural letter carriers are required to serve their routes regularly at all seasons of the year and in all kinds of weather when it can be done without seriously imperiling their lives or endangering their conveyances or the U. S. mail which is in their custody.

Patrons should clear away the snow drifts, so that the carriers can drive up to and reach boxes from their vehicles without dismounting.

It is not a part of the carrier's duty to break out the roads after severe snow storms.

Rural carriers in Nebraska and elsewhere, went far beyond their duty or the rules, many of them venturing out when they ought not to have done so, and actually endangering their lives and limbs and those of their horses. There is no need of this sort of thing, and reasonable patrons, who are the vast majority, neither desire nor expect it. The grumblers will be found to be of that selfish and unreasonable tribe who took good care of their own hides and not to break and clear away snow drifts for the carriers, as the department righteously requires them to do. These are kind of kickers who need kicking.—Lincoln Star.
