An Ex-Sheriff Talks.

Scott City, Kan., March 20th.—(Special.)—Almost every newspaper tells of cures of the most deadly of kidney diseases by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Rheumatism and Bladder troubles. In fact any disease that is of the kidneys or caused by disordered kidneys is readily cured by this great American remedy.

But it is in curing the earlier stages of kidney complaint that Dodd's Kidney Pills are doing their greatest work. They are preventing thousands of cases of Bright's disease and other deadly ailments by curing Kidney Disease when it first shows its presence in the body.

Speaking of this work ex-Sheriff James Scott of Scott County, says: "I have used eight boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and must say that they are just the thing for Kidney Disease. We have tried many kidney medicines, but Dodd's Kidney Pills are the best of all."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

SEEDING IN PROGRESS IN WESTERN CANADA.

Mild Weather is Bringing Thousands of Settlers.

The splendid yields of wheat, oats and barley produced by the farmers of Western Canada and the excellent prices received for the same, have been the means of giving an increased interest throughout the United States. As a result the inquiries made of the agents of the Canadian Government have nearly doubled over those of the same period last year. Railroad companies are putting on increased carrying capacity to meet the demand made upon them for carrying passengers and freight. Everything points to a most prosperous year. There is room for hundreds of thousands additional settlers, much new land having been opened up for settlement this year.

It is quite interesting to look through the letters received from the Americans who have settled in Western Canada during the past few years, and considering the large number, it is surprising how few there are who have not succeeded. An extract from a letter written by Mr. Geo. W. Griswold, of Red Deer, Alta., formerly of Greber, Mont., written on the 2d of January, is as follows:

"I am located one and one-half miles from a beautiful lake ten miles long, where there is church, school, three stores, creamery and two postoffices. The fine stock, both cattle (cows and steers), horses, hogs and sheep are rolling fat, grazing in pastures to-day, just a little snow, hardly enough for good sleighing, as we just had a chill-nook which has melted the roads and laid bare the fields and pasture. There are fine wheat, oats, barley and flax raised here, also winter wheat and timothy hay for export to British Columbia. This is a mixed farming and dairy country. This is the right time to get a foothold in the Canadian West, as it was some years ago in the United States. We are free from wind gumbo and alkali here and have fine, clear, soft well and spring water at a depth of from five to twenty-five feet, and lots of open overflying springs."

Telegraphic advices from Medicine Hat say that seeding has commenced at Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, and other points. At the former place the temperature moderated gradually until on the 19th the maximum was 45 and the minimum 26. Thermometer readings since then have been as follows: 20th, 47 and 38; 21st, 54 and 34; 22d, 56 and 39; 23d, 48 and 40; 24th, 48 and 26.

During the last few days in February considerable ploughing was done near Lethbridge. P. A. Fuller, a recent arrival from Montana, ploughed and harrowed fifteen acres and E. Laliberty about the same amount. Rev. Coulter White has also been harrowing his farm. All report the ground frost free and in excellent condition. Bricklaying has also begun in town at Hartney, further east, on the 25th of February, the sun was warm and bright, wheeled carriages were in use and the plowed fields look as if they are ready for the press drills. There is every appearance that spring has arrived, but farmers do not wish to be deceived by appearances and consequently have not commenced to use their bluestone and seed wheat.

DOGS FOR BATTLEFIELDS.

Sagacity of Two Animals Trained to Aid Wounded.

Wimbledon Common was turned into an improved battlefield one day recently, and the Royal Army Medical Corps Volunteers did duty as "wounded" for the trial of Major Richardson's Red Cross dogs.

Sweep and Rover, two cross-bred collies, gave a practical demonstration of their usefulness in time of war. Strapped to the side of each dog was a waterproof case, marked with the red cross and containing lint and bandages for the wounded. Round their necks were hung tiny kegs of brandy. Half a dozen men hid themselves among the furze and bushes on the common, and at 2:30 the dogs were let loose.

Away the dogs scampered on their errand of mercy. Rover came back without his bandages, which the patient had been able to unstrap from the dog's back.

But the patient whom Sweep found was too badly hurt to unstrap the bandages when the dog knelt down at his side, and he returned to camp for a rescue party.

The lieutenant commanding and the officers of the medical corps expressed themselves completely satisfied with the success of the experiments.

"Cross-bred collies," said Major Richardson, "are the best for the purpose. The great advantage of ambulance dogs in war is that all needless delay in attending the wounded is obviated."

"Russia is using trained dogs at the front, and at present I am buying up dogs for the German army. In Germany the kennels are an important department, and the dogs are sent out untrained, for the Germans excel in training ambulance dogs."

NOT HIS WORK.

Those people who are afraid of any work which in the least oversteps the letter of their contract often make much trouble for themselves. Tit-Bits tells the story of a coachman who received a salutary lesson in this line. His master, a wealthy broker, is so fond of flowers that he spends much time in and about his plants, and does some of the gardening himself. One day, having emptied his watering can, he called to his new coachman, who was standing near, and told him to fill it and bring it back.

"Beg pardon, sir, I'm the coachman," said the man, touching his hat. "Well, that's all right. Just fill up that can."

"Beg pardon, sir, I'm the coachman."

"Well, well, I know that. Hurry up with the can; I want it."

The coachman touched his hat and made the same reply. Then something dawned on the broker.

"Oh," he said, "you're the coachman, and can't bring the can. Well, coachman, go and have the black span hitched to the family carriage and bring it here. Have one of the hostlers ride on the box with you."

The coachman touched his hat respectfully and went. Presently he drove up in style.

"Now," said the broker, "drive to where that can is; and you, hostler, pick it up and get back on the box, drive around to the stable with the coachman, fill the can with water, and have him drive you back again."

It was done, and the can brought back filled.

"Now, hostler," continued the broker, "you may go. Coachman, remain where you are. I may need you again."

The coachman saved his dignity, but he sat on the seat of that carriage for two long hours.

So Conscientious.

"How is Miss Speedy getting on with her new novel?"

"She has come to a stop."

"What's the trouble?"

"Why, it's a story of slum life, and the heroine runs a clothes wringer in a Hester street laundry. And now Miss Speedy doesn't know whether she should make the girl say she 'wring the clothes' or 'wring the clothes,' or simply 'wringed them.' She is so conscientious about her dialect."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Unsatisfactory.

Mrs. Neighbors—What was the matter with the last girl you had? She seemed to be very neat and intelligent.

Mrs. Homer—Yes, that was just it. I'm not going to have a hired girl around who dresses better than I do or is more intelligent than my husband.

A Hot One.

Mr. Cutting Hintz—There is one thing that always struck me as being very strange.

Mrs. Cutting Hintz—What's that?

Mr. Cutting Hintz—That all the women who have distinguished themselves by a display of brains look so much like men.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Unnecessary.

"That old fellow's not a bit polite."

"He doesn't have to be—he's rich."—Cleveland Leader.

Rabbit in Jelly.

One rabbit, two ounces of lean cooked ham, two hard-boiled eggs, one onion, twelve peppercorns, sprig of parsley tied in muslin, one quart of water, three-quarters of an ounce of sheet gelatine. Cut the meat off the rabbit and put it with the bones into a saucepan with the water, onion and peppercorns tied up, and simmer gently for over an hour. Take up the meat, let it cool, and cut into dice. Let the bones and stock still continue to simmer for another hour and a half till of a good flavor and reduced to rather less than a pint. Decapitate a mold with slices of hard-boiled egg, then put the gelatine into the reduced rabbit stock and dissolve it. Strain the stock into a basin, season and add the dice of rabbit and ham and a few slices of hard-boiled egg, and carefully fill into the prepared mold. Let it set in a cold place until firm. Turn into an entree dish and garnish round with small bright green salad. Serve.

Lemon Tapioca.

Lemon tapioca makes a very good pudding for the young people in summer weather as a change from fruit. Over night place two tablespoonfuls and a half of crushed tapioca to soak in just enough water to cover. Next day add half a pint more water and a thinly peeled rind of a lemon, and boil slowly till clear. Remove the rind, add white sugar to taste, a little salt, and more water if the tapioca is too thick. Pour into a mold to cool and serve with custard, cream and baked milk.

Cottage Cheese Sandwich.

Out slices of rye or brown bread without removing the crusts. Rub a half pint of cottage cheese to a smooth paste with a little melted butter, half a teaspoonful of salt and two tablespoonfuls of thick cream. Put between the butter slices. This may be varied and improved by using a lettuce leaf with each cream cheese filling, or mixing with the cheese a half cupful of chopped nuts. Gingerbread is also nice with the filling of cream cheese and nuts.

Veal and Ham Shape.

Stew for about three hours one and a half pounds of knuckle of veal with sufficient water to cover, pepper and salt. When done so that the meat falls into pieces, dish up into a basin, take out all bone and gristle, add seasoning of chopped parsley and mixed herbs. Take a glass shape, and at the bottom and round the sides place rounds of hard-boiled eggs, fill up shape with the meat and gravy, and let it stand till cold. Then turn out and serve.

Suet Pudding.

One cup of suet; one cup of seeded raisins; one cup of sour milk; one cup of New Orleans molasses; one-half cup of currants; three cups of flour; one teaspoonful of soda; one teaspoonful of cloves; one teaspoonful of allspice; one teaspoonful of cinnamon; one-half teaspoonful of salt. Mix well, dredging the fruit with flour, and put in a cake pan with a funnel in the center. Steam for two hours.

Maple Mousse.

Beat the yolks of four eggs thoroughly; add to them a generous maple syrup. Place in a double boiler and cook until thick. Stand in a pan of iced water and whip until light and cool. Whip a pint of cream; add the maple mixture; give the whole a good beating and turn into a well-packed freezer. Freeze from three to six hours. Use more salt than for ice cream.

Custard.

Heat a quart of milk in a double boiler. Beat six eggs light with half a cup of granulated sugar, and on these pour gradually the scalding milk, to which a pinch of soda has been added. Return to the double boiler and cook, stirring constantly, until the custard coats the spoon. Take from the fire, flavor with vanilla and set away to cool.

Corn Fritters.

Cut from the ears enough corn to make two cupfuls or use its equivalent in canned corn drained from the liquor. Beat together a cup of milk, one whipped egg, enough flour to make a thin batter and a pinch of salt. Add the grated corn and drop by the spoonful on a hot soapstone griddle, turning as they brown on one side.

Apricot Whip.

Stew and chop eight ripe apricots, or chop the same quantity of preserved apricots. Whip a pint of cream stiff, adding as you do so a half cup of powdered sugar. Add gradually the chopped apricots. Serve very cold.

Lettuce Salad.

Lay crisp leaves of salad in iced water for an hour, then drain and shake free of all moisture. Arrange in a chilled salad bowl and serve with a French dressing.
