What the Dentist Says.

Toledo, Ohio, March 27th.—(Special.)—Harry T. Lewis, the well known dentist of 807 Summit street, this city, is telling of his remarkable cure of Kidney Disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I was fat on my back and must say I had almost given up all hope of ever getting any help," says Dr. Lewis. "My kidneys had troubled me for years. The pains in my back were severe and I had to get up several times at night. I tried different medicines but kept on getting worse till I was laid up."

"Then a friend advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and in about two weeks I started to improve. Now I am glad to admit I am cured and I cannot praise Dodd's Kidney Pills too highly."

If you take Dodd's Kidney Pills when your kidneys first show signs of being out of order you will never have Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy, Gravel or Rheumatism.

Large deposits of coal have been discovered in the State of Santa Catharina, Brazil. A railroad is to be constructed to the port of Massambu, to connect with the coal field.

The quantity of carbonic acid gas permissible in factories and homes is a question in which the whole world is vitally interested, and, while there are plenty of authorities who assert that this should not exceed nine volumes in 10,000, there does not appear to be any practical device for the visual indication of the freshness of the atmosphere. The best practice provides for the introduction of from 4,000 to 4,200 cubic feet of fresh air an hour for each individual.

BASEBALL TAKES IN HAWAII.

America's Greatest Game Also Popular in New Possessions.

From far-off Hawaii the echo of base hits reaches us, for in Honolulu the game of "Yankee Doodle's" own is thriving. Writing to the baseball man of the Cincinnati Enquirer, Lorin Andrews, who is attorney general of the Territory of Hawaii, as well as secretary of the Honolulu Baseball League, gave an interesting review of the baseball situation in that island.

"Hawaii," he writes, "is an enthusiastic center for baseball and has been for a number of years—as far back as the '70s. We are having teams here who have played in amateur leagues. We have never had any professional league, but from that time there have been a series of so-called league games played in Honolulu. The great drawback, however, has been that, being out of touch with mainland players, the game has not developed as rapidly as in the States. In the late '90s, at Honolulu, the capital, a league was formed, having inclosed grounds, and an admission of 25 cents charged. Since that time baseball has been immensely popular, although the tide of baseball prosperity ebbs and flows here as in the States. For the last three years we have had a well-organized league of five clubs, each club playing twenty games during the baseball season, and I am pleased to see that we have had some good baseball. A number of players from the California coast drop down from time to time, and, while greatly aiding in improving the technique of the game, have in all cases found their equal among the local players. The Hawaiians especially are born baseball players, and I assure you that many of the players here would do well in minor leagues in the States. I think the characteristic that would strike you most familiarly in our teams is the divers nationalities of which they are made up. For instance, the winning team of the season comprises three full-blooded natives, one Portuguese, three half-castes, two who are mixtures of the American negro and Hawaiian, and the star third baseman of the league is a full-blooded Chinaman. In addition to the local teams we often have teams made up of the best players from the army regiments and naval detachments stationed in Honolulu, this year being fortunate enough to have a team of marines in the league who won the championship of Manila last year, and who put up a very good article of ball."

THE MISSING LOCK

And the Old Man's Consolation on Second Thought.

The street car was comfortably filled, and was rolling along on its wheels in that complacent way sometimes to be observed of a car, when an old man who had been dozing in his seat suddenly stood up.

"Here, now, somebody stop this car right off quick."

He was asked by a half dozen passengers what was the matter, and the conductor rang the bell to stop and added his inquiry.

"I've lost sunthin' done up in a paper," explained the old man, "and I wish all of you would look around and help me find it."

"Was it money or jewelry?"

"Not skeasily, but it was even more precious. I had it afore I got on the car, and now it's gone. Look around, can't ye, and help me find it."

All the passengers near him rose up and searched the floor with their eyes, but no lost package was to be seen. The conductor started the car and two or three others asked for further particulars.

"Well, it was a lock of hair—just a lock of hair—but I've carried it about with me for the last ten years and prize it above money."

"Was it a sort of memento?"

"Yes, it was a lock of my wife's hair, and she's dead. It was awful careless of me to lose it. I must have pulled it out of my pocket with my backer pouch. It's too bad—too bad!"

There was a touch of sentiment in the incident, and half a dozen passengers rose up again and made a new search, but still without avail. More than one sympathetic glance was bestowed upon the old man, who seemed much put out at his loss, but presently he knocked things in the head by sitting down and crossing his legs and saying:

"Wall, if she's lost she's lost, and we'll let it go. I'm goin' to be married agin next week anyhow, and I spose I'd have had to hide it away in the corn-house or had a row with No. 2."

An Unexpected Reply.

A story which may or may not be true has been told of the Marquis of Normandy, who is using a part of his beautiful Yorkshire home, Mulgrave Castle, as a boys' school, of which he is head master. The wife of a millionaire, it is said, wrote to Lord Normanby proposing to send her son to his school, and asking if his lordship was careful about the social position of his pupils. She must have been astonished by Lord Normanby's answer, which ran—"Madam—For so long as your son conducts himself well and pays due attention to his work, I shall make no inquiries as to the antecedents of his parents."

SEVERE KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLE

HALF OUR ILLS ARE CATARRH.

Thousands of People Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It is Catarrh.

Mr. David L. Jaycox, Chaplain Clarinda, I. O. G. T., and Chaplain G. A. R., 865 Broadway, Oakland, Cal., writes:

"I am an old war veteran. I contracted severe bladder and kidney trouble. I spent hundreds of dollars and consulted a host of doctors, but neither did me any good.

"Peruna has proven the best medicine I ever used. My pains are gone and I believe myself to be cured. I feel well and would not be without a bottle in time of need for ten times its cost."

They have doctored with every conceivable drug, have consulted all schools of medicine. It was not until Peruna came into use, however, that these old soldiers found a remedy that would actually cure them.

More cases of catarrh of kidney and bladder have been cured by Peruna than all other medicines combined.

Hundreds of war veterans have kidney and bladder trouble.

Impure drinking water, sleeping on the ground, and all manner of exposures to wet and cold weather produced catarrh of the kidneys and bladder.

Effects of Prosperity.

In the six years of the country's greatest prosperity, from 1897 to 1903, average prices of breadstuffs advanced 65 per cent, meats 23.1 per cent, dairy and garden products 50.1 per cent and clothing 21.1. All these were products of the farmer and stockman who profited more than any other class of the community by these advances. The miner benefited 42.1 per cent by that advance in the average price of metals. The only decrease in the average prices of commodities in that period was in railway freights, which decreased from .798 per ton-mile in 1897 to .763 in 1903, a loss of 4.4 per cent. The report of the Interstate Commerce Commission shows that the average increase in the pay of railroad employes in that period was a trifle above 8.5 per cent.

The Secret of Good Coffee

Even the best housekeepers cannot make a good cup of coffee without good material. Dirty, adulterated and queerly blended coffee such as unscrupulous dealers shovel over their counters won't do. But take the pure, clean, natural flavored LION COFFEE, the leader of all package coffees—the coffee that for over a quarter of a century has been daily welcomed in millions of homes—and you will make a drink fit for a king in this way:

HOW TO MAKE GOOD COFFEE.

Use LION COFFEE, because to get best results you must use the best coffee. Grind your LION COFFEE rather fine. Use "a tablespoonful to each cup, and one extra for the pot." First mix it with a little cold water, enough to make a thick paste, and add white of an egg (if egg is to be used as a settler), then follow one of the following rules:

- 1st. WITH BOILING WATER. Add boiling water, and let it boil THREE MINUTES ONLY. Add a little cold water and set aside five minutes to settle. Serve promptly.
- 2d. WITH COLD WATER. Add your cold water to the paste and bring it to a boil. Then set aside, add a little cold water, and in five minutes it's ready to serve.
3. Don't boil it too long.
- Don't let it stand more than ten minutes before serving.
- Don't use water that has been boiled before.

TWO WAYS TO SETTLE COFFEE.

- 1st. With Egg. Use part of the white of an egg, mixing it with the ground LION COFFEE before boiling.
- 2d. With Cold Water instead of egg. After boiling add a dash of cold water, and set aside for eight or ten minutes, then serve through a strainer.

Insist on getting a package of genuine LION COFFEE, prepare it according to this recipe and you will only use LION COFFEE in future. (Sold only in 1 lb. sealed packages.) (Lion-head on every package.) (Save these Lion-heads for valuable premiums.)
