The Nebraska Advertiser

W. W. SANDERS & SON, Prop'rs.

The June Designer is very interesting, as this journal always is. The Summer Outing presents camp life of most novel character. Three pages of designs in wedding gowns and outfits are given that will be of especial interest to our prospective brides. The Daisy Party gives some good suggestions to the teacher for a summerlike frolic for the little folks. Two pages that will especially attract the mothers of little ones give lullabies. The usual quote of fiction is given, all excellent. The fancywork department contains articles on Embroidered Collars and Cuffs, Lace Work, Tatting for Summer Waists, and Embroidery for Men's Wear. Fashion Notes for Men, What Women are Doing, Mother's Club, Kitchen Kingdom, and For Lovely Women are all helpful and interesting departments.

An interesting discussion is now running in the columns of The Homestead relating to the type of horse that is best adapted to farm labor in the corn belt. The editor of The Homestead has taken the position that the horse weighing from 1,450 to 1,700 pounds is not only the most profitable to raise for the market, but that an animal of this weight, if the quality is right, is much more useful on heavy farm implements than the lightweights. The expression of this opinion has stirred up some of the advocates of the lighter breeds, and one subscriber goes so far as to say that he can disc more ground with four 1,200 pound standard horses than can be done by a similar number of drafters. He points out that the standard horse has more snap and that he will do his work with a greater degree of ease than the heavy-weights. Some interesting arguments are put forth on both sides of this question, and the matter is not ended yet. We would like to here repeat that subscriptions for The Homestead are taken at this office, and we shall be pleased to do our part towards swelling the number of Homestead subscribers in this community.

A striking cover design, a girl's head in pastel, by George Gibbs, introduces the reader of the June Delinator to a varied and interesting table of contents supplemented by a complete summary of the season's styles. In the literary portion of the magazine, Weymer Jay Mills contributes the first of a series of "Romances of Summer Resorts," which promise much of interest, pictorially and otherwise. A noteworthy feature also is F. Berkeley Smith's description of "A Corner in Normandy," an enjoyable travel sketch that gives more than a passing glance at one of the most curious nooks in the Old World. For the benefit of those who have the collecting instinct, N. Hudson Moore writes on old glass, in "The Collector's Manual," and Dr. Murry discusses the care of the eyes and ears in a paper that will appeal particularly to young mothers and those who have the care of children Newman's hymn, "Lead Kindly Light," is the subject of a paper by Allen Sutherland in the series "Famous Hymns of the World." In the matter of fiction, Albert Bigelow Paine's serial, "The Lucky Piece," proceeds along pleasing lines, and Helen Choate Prince contributes a short story of great strength and charm Grace MacGowen Cooke adds a chapter in the amusing history of Son Riley Rabbit, and L. Frank Baum gives an animal fairy tale, called "The Pea-Green Poodle," both of which will delight the little folks. In addition, there are house plans and house-furnishing ideas, and many pages devoted to the particular interests of the home, including, among other features, a paper on "The Practical Side of the Wedding," and a variety of suggestions for kitchen economy.

A BLACK HILLS LETTER
 CAMP HACKER, NEAR MYSTIC, SOUTH DAKOTA, April 27, 1905.

W. W. Sanders, editor Advertiser:
 Thinking that the Nemaha friends of the men who are here in the Black Hills would like to know what they are doing here is the cause of this letter being written. The men are all well and are as happy as can be expected of them 600 miles from home. When the ground was covered with snow here the report reached them that Nat Titus had ripe strawberries and that others were planting corn, this made them feel as though they were getting more than their share of winter. A six inch snow storm on April 9 and 10 and another on the 14 interrupted all dreams of strawberry short cake and also the work.

Camp Hacker consists of G. W. Hacker (more commonly known as Wash) his wife and sons Jim, Marion, and Wait, and his nephew Grant, Marshall Webb and son Dell, Clarence Aynes, Ned Maxwell, Swan Nelson, and we might include Charles Anderson, the manager of their company, as he is a Nemaha product, and three others. Twelve of us bunk in one room 11x24 and are as contented as a flock of chickens

Under the able management of Mr. Anderson work on the Auburn Gold Mining Company's property is being pushed along as rapidly as the weather will permit. The mason work of setting the pump and boilers will be commenced this week. The company have seven cars of machinery at the railroad station, which will take nearly a month to haul to the company's ground with two four horse teams. With good weather and no bad luck the company expects to get the water on their placer grounds and begin the washing out of the gold sometime in June. Then the company will be ready to show their friends how placer mining is done by the hydraulic system. Marshall Webb is anxiously looking forward to the time when the fishing season will be ripe and the boys of the camp are also anxious for that mess of mountain trout that Marshall has promised them.

Swan Nelson, Clarence Aynes and Dell Webb spend their spare time in Placer mining and the little bottles containing the precious colors are prized above all other possessions that the boys have. Ned Maxwell spends his spare time in writing home to his mother (?)

The Advertiser is in great demand by the Nemaha boys when it arrives every week.
 Yours,
 W. H. STOWELL.

TAKE WINE OF CARDUI AT HOME

Are you a sufferer?
 Has your doctor been unsuccessful?
 Wouldn't you prefer to treat yourself—AT HOME?

Nearly 1,500,000 women have bought Wine of Cardui from their druggists and have cured themselves at home, of such troubles as periodical, bearing down and ovarian pains, leucorrhoea, barrenness, nervousness, dizziness, nausea and despondency, caused by female weakness. These are not easy cases. Wine of Cardui cures when the doctor can't.

Wine of Cardui does not irritate the organs. There is no pain in the treatment. It is a soothing tonic of healing herbs, free from strong and drastic drugs. It is successful because it cures in a natural way.

Wine of Cardui can be bought from your druggist at $1.00 a bottle and you can begin this treatment today. Will you try it?

SCHOOL NOTES

It is best to make haste slowly sometimes.

Every pupil should strive to learn the art of study so thoroughly that he no longer needs a teacher.

Tickets for commencement exercises are on sale at Keeling's drug store. All seats are reserved. Better get them early as there are to be only about two hundred sold.

The baccalaureate sermon will be preached next Sunday evening at the Christian church beginning at eight o'clock by Rev. F. L. Pettit of Auburn. Supt. Carrington will also be present with his music roll.

Our girls seem to like a variety in athletics. Most of them no longer are satisfied with basket ball but are training themselves in the game of baseball. It is surprising how well some of them "can't catch?"

Those persons who take flowers to the commencement exercises should be sure to see that the names of the person for whom they are intended is attached to them. All the flowers will be taken up after the last theme.

Whenever a pupil becomes too indolent to play there is evidently something wrong in his makeup. The one who does not play at recess usually tries to play during school hours and complains about not having time to get his lessons.

Most people do not do wrong for wrong's sake but rather because it is the easiest way out of a difficulty. Often it is not a wrong at all but simply an act misunderstood or wrongly interpreted by the on-looker. If we could but see the motive or the purpose of the acts of our neighbor many would be the misunderstanding thus avoided.

Parties having cattle in the town pastures will please call at the bank and pay pasturage and get receipt. If this is not done cattle must be taken out.

Grave Trouble Foreseen
 It needs but little foresight, to tell that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs John A. Young of Clay, N. Y., did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters, I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. Sold under guarantee by W.W. Keeling, druggist, at 50c a bottle.

We will send the Advertiser, the weekly Lincoln State Journal, the Iowa Homesteader, the Farm Gazette and the Homemaker, all one year for only $1.50. The regular price of these papers is $3.25.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.
 Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.
