I was all run down from nervousness and overwork and had to resign my position and take a rest. I found that I was not gaining my strength and health as fast as I could wish, and as your Wine of Cardui was recommended as such a good medicine for the ills of our sex, I bought a bottle and began using it. I was satisfied with the results from the use of the first bottle, and took three more and then found I was restored to good health and strength and able to take up my work with renewed vigor. I consider it a fine tonic and excellent for worn-out, nervous condition, and am pleased to endorse it.

Committed Suicide

CHARLES SCHANTZ OF BROWNVILLE HANGS HIMSELF

A terrible tragedy occurred at Brownville last Saturday evening. A few days previous a young colored girl 14 or 15 years of age, brought suit against Chas Chantz, a man 66 years of age, accusing him of being the father of her unborn babe. Mr. Schantz denied the charge and it is generally believed that he was innocent. He has been a man of good reputation, several times mayor of Brownville, and highly respected. The charge so weighed upon him that Saturday evening he committed suicide by hanging himself, leaving a note declaring his innocence. Mrs. Schantz found the body of her husband hanging in a corn crib at their home. He had tied a small rope around his neck and then around one of the timbers in the upper part of the corn crib standing on a box to do this. He then kicked the box away and strangled to death. It was about 7:30 when the body was found and it was then cold. An inquest was held and a verdict of suicide given.

Mr. Schantz was 66 years of age. He was an old soldier and a member of the soldier's relief commission at the time of his death. He had lived in Brownville for forty years. The disgrace of the charge, even though he was innocent, was more than he felt he could stand. He leaves a wife, one son and seven daughters, all married but one.

The funeral services were held at the home Wednesday forenoon. Rev. G. W. Ayers preached the sermon. The G. A. R. post, of which deceased was a member, had charge of the services.

We believe, in common with the majority of people knowing Mr. Schantz, that a good man's life has been sacrificed on account of the false charges made by a degenerate colored girl, probably at the instigation of the party or parties guilty of the crime. It is a terrible affair.

The executive committee of the city settlers association met last Saturday afternoon and decided on Thursday, August 24, as the date for holding the annual reunion and picnic.

The Methodists will hold a protracted meeting in the park from August 4 to 18. Rev. G. W. Ayers will be assisted by Rev. A. Jacobs and wife, who are highly recommended as successful revivalists.

At Nebraska City on the Fourth some of the would-be wits rigged up a fake patrol wagon, with fake policemen, who, arrested numerous persons took them before a fake court, where they were fined—the fine presumably being spent for something to quench the ever growing thirst. Some of those arrested could not see the fun and strenuously resisted, when the regular police came along and arrested them. They have a queer idea of fun at the city.

O. M. Stonebraker of Brownville sold the Forest Hill fruit farm, just at the southeastern edge of Brownville Tuesday, to E. S. Bailey, of Fullerton. The purchase price of the farm was $21,000. As there is 160 acres the land averaged $130 per acre.

This fruit farm was laid out a few years ago by the late ex-Governor Furnas and is one of the best fruit farms in the west.

Part of land on which it is situated was laid out in the early and more prosperous days of Brownville as additions to the city. The plats were surveyed and laid out with streets and alleys and as the site was commanding and overlooked the enchanting Missouri valley it was thought that the time would surely come when the place where the orchard now is would be dotted with the beautiful homes of wealthy people of the "greater Brownville."

But the dreams of greatness of the pioneers were never realized and the forest crowned bluffs, instead of being converted into the aristocratic suburban abode of Brownville millionaires became one of finest orchards in the state and now possesses an historic interest for the reason that Governor Furnas, one of America's greatest tree planters, laid it out.—Auburn Herald.

We understand the Holiness church people have decided to hold meetings in the park some time this month.

One week from next Tuesday is the special congressional election. Special efforts should be made to get out a full vote.

A MONUMENT TO EX-GOV. FURNAS
Monuments commemorating the deeds of the late ex-Governor Robert W. Furnas and other Nebraska heroes, who by deeds of valor made it possible for the territory now occupied by the states of Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota to become a center of education, agriculture and civilization are to be erected at the expense of the state of North Dakota. The last session of the Nebraska legislature was asked to bear a part of the expense, but as it neglected to make an appropriation North Dakota is going ahead, with the undertaking alone and unassisted. The state, through its congressional delegation, has induced congress to set aside the battlefield of White Rock Hills, in North Dakota, as a national park and cemetery. The battlefield is the scene of one of the most noteworthy conflicts of the Indian war following the civil war. In the conflict 1,000 soldiers of the Iowa and Nebraska cavalry defeated 2,000 of the Sioux tribes.

Nebraska is interested in the establishment of the new national cemetery because the commander of the Nebraska, was Robert W. Furnas, one of her foremost citizens and early settlers, and because seven men of Governor Furnas' command were killed. Governor Furnas at that time had just retired as a colonel of the regular army during the Civil war and had organized the Second Nebraska cavalry to wage war against the hostile Sioux. The site of the battleground is 200 miles north of Pierre, the present capital of South Dakota.

The adjutant general of Nebraska recently received a communication from North Dakota, requesting that the old records of the famous regiment be gone over and that the names of those Nebraskans killed in the action be forwarded, that their names may be inscribed upon the monuments to be erected. As there is no way of identifying the individual graves several large monuments are to be erected and simple headstones will mark the spot where each trooper fell. Many of the killed were buried and their graves are in evidence, while the skeletons of others who were not given a burial lay where they fell. All of these are to be buried where found, as was done at the scene of the Custer massacre.

The adjutant general's department of Nebraska has been engaged in an investigation of the records of the Nebraska troops engaged and so far has found the names of six of the seven Nebraskans killed. They are as follows, with the places from which they enlisted:

Charles Davenport and John E. Van Order of Falls City, members of company G; James Freeman and Thomas H. B. Packard of Dakota City, members of company I; Sergeant Hugh S. Blair of Omaha, company K; Luke Johnson of Columbus, company K. One name is missing—Lincoln Star

No Secret About It
It is no secret, that for Cuts, Burns, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Sore Eyes, Boils etc., nothing is so effective as Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "It didn't take long to cure a bad sore I had, and it is all O. K. for sore eyes," writes D. L. Gregory, of Hope, Tex. 25c at Keeling's drug store.

Huge Task
It was a huge task to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease, as that of C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Ia., but Electric Bitters did it. He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone I could not sit on a chair without a cushion; and suffered from dreadful backache, headache, and depression. In Electric Bitter, however, I found a cure, and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great tonic medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach. Guaranteed by W. W. Keeling druggist; price 50c.
