Joe Titus went to Beatrice on the excursion Sunday but did not return until Tuesday.

Ellis Young had about 60 acres of corn flooded but is in hopes only about half of it is killed.

Mrs. Elmer E. Allen went to Johnson on the excursion last Sunday. Elmer went on to Beatrice.

Mrs. Emmert Collin has been engaged to teach the Larkin school (Dist. 60) for the next school year.

A number of our citizens, fractured the Sabbath by giggering fish. Some nice ones were caught—mostly carp.

The wheat that is being threshed in this vicinity is yielding from 25 to 30 bushels per acre, of a fine quality.

Reed's anti-rust tinware, guaranteed not to rust, at Edwards & Bradford Lbr. Co.

The high water is now past. It has all receded inside the river banks, except what is left in pools and low places.

Mrs. J. S. Hadlock of St. Joe arrived in Nemaha Tuesday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hadlock and other friends.

Dan Maxwell and family went to Johnson Tuesday and visited Mrs. Maxwell's sister, Mrs. Russell, returning the next day.

The first of the week was quite cool—so much so that at times a fire felt good. But Wednesday and Thursday were very warm.

Mrs. Curtis of Peru returned home Tuesday after a few days' visit with her daughters, Mrs. E. H. Knapp and Mrs. D. E. Littrell.

The excursion train to Beatrice was on time both ways Sunday. Agent Wheelon sold 36 tickets. Those who went report a fine time.

Dressmaking

Mrs. J. E. Crother requests to inform her friends and patrons she is now prepared to cut and fit to order.

Joe Smith is now acting as section foreman for the B. & M. at Beatrice. While the position at present is only temporary, he is promised a permanent job either there or at Tecumseh.

The boys took advantage of the high water and enjoyed themselves on rafts and wading in the water. The men giggered many fish.

Mrs. J. C. Broady went to Auburn Tuesday to visit a few days while Cal cleaned the mud out of the house that had been left by the Missouri river water.

The small bridge across the ditch east of Bracken is not safe for the crossing of teams and should be repaired at once. One corner has fallen into the ditch.

Mrs. F. L. Woodward went to Kansas City Monday to visit her sons, C. M. and Leslie W. Woodward. Charley has been quite sick with rheumatism but is getting some better.

G. Edwin Sanders has been engaged for next year as teacher of the Maple Grove school. Mr. Sanders taught here last year and gave such good satisfaction that the patrons asked for his return at an increased salary.

Mrs. M. W. Knapp and Miss Anna drove over near Humboldt Tuesday to visit their daughter and sister, Mrs. Shellenberger. Miss Anna returned that evening but Mrs. Knapp will visit for a couple of weeks.

Thirty years ago Monday the Midland Pacific road and the Brownville, Ft. Kearney & Pacific railroad companies were consolidated, and called the Nebraska railway. A few years ago it was absorbed by the B. & M.

W. W. Seid threshed his wheat on the Brinegar farm last Saturday. He was afraid the water would rise over it, so rushed the threshing a little. He got 425 bushels of fine wheat from 14 acres. It weighed 62 pounds to the bushel.

The high water on the low land caused the snakes rabbits, mice, etc. to take refuge on the railroad track. Numerous parties walked down the track to the bridge Sunday and saw numerous snakes, but all were the harmless garter snake.

The fourth quarterly meeting of the Methodist church will be held in the park Sunday evening, beginning at 7 o'clock. Rev. Geo. I. Wright, presiding elder, will preach. The quarterly conference will be held at 10 o'clock Monday in the Methodist church.

The Verdon old settlers picnic will be the 9th and 10th of August, the Union picnic will be on the same dates, the German-American picnic will be August 15th, and the Nemaha old settlers picnic will be on August 24th. So there will be plenty of picnics next month in this part of the state.

Sunday and Monday the water was over shoe top deep over the walk next the depot and part of the walk floated away. When Agent Wheelon could not catch a ride across he pulled off his shoes, rolled up his pants and waded over like he used to do when a boy. But he managed to catch a team most of the time.

Mrs. David Frazier went to Auburn Tuesday to see her sister-in-law, Mrs. C. C. Banks of Cozad, Nebr. Mrs. Banks, who is a sister of Mrs. J. W. Taylor, is sick and is going to the hospital at Omaha for treatment. Her friends in Nemaha will be sorry to learn of her poor health and hope for a complete recovery.

Ed Knapp drove down to the depot with the dray wagon Sunday morning and hauled the excursionists across the raging waters. The water was then shoe top deep over the sidewalk near the depot and part of the walk was floating. At night Ed met the train again and brought over a dray load, but most of the excursionists got off at the tank. The water was hub deep to the wagon.

The Auburn Republican last week had in a puff of Henry Hartwick because he had roasting ears on the Fourth. John M. Clark had roasting ears in June, and those of us who did not have any until the Fourth have been keeping quiet about it because we were ashamed of being so late. Mr. Hartwick is all right as a gardener when he has the right kind of soil, but if he wants early truck he will have to move back to Nemaha.

The Auburn school board has voted not to accept any resignations of teachers when such resignation is offered to accept another position. We have had a little experience in this line in Nemaha. A good many years ago Prof. W. A. Hawes, now county superintendent of Lancaster county, was elected principal of our schools. The week before the school was to begin he resigned in order to accept a position at Lincoln. Last fall Prof. Crichton resigned to accept a better position at another place.

Last Sunday committees were appointed at the Christian and Methodist churches to arrange for Sunday evening union services at the park the remainder of July and August. The park will be seeded and made as comfortable as possible. Services will begin at 7 o'clock. The bell at the Christian church will ring at 6:30 and again at 7. Everybody is invited. The services next Sunday evening will be the fourth quarterly meeting of the Methodist church, and Rev. Geo. I. Wright, presiding elder, will preach.

Elmer Allen was leading the strenuous life Wednesday. He got word in the morning that he was needed at Bracken to help put up hay for his father, as one of the hands had got hurt in a runaway. As Frank Titus was away he had to open the bank and put his wife in charge. He then drove out to Bracken, but when he got there found he wasn't needed, so he drove back home, looked after banking business and other matters for awhile, got his dinner, and then drove down to Shubert, returning in the evening. He says he doesn't know whether they thought at Bracken that he couldn't or wouldn't work or was afraid he would work so hard he would make himself sick, but says he didn't insist on showing them. He was willing to come back home.

The Prospectus of the Nebraska Epworth Assembly has reached the Editor's table and the handsome booklet tells the story of a remarkable program to be given in Epworth Lake Park, Lincoln, from August 2 to 10 inclusive. The following partial list of names of speakers engaged will give an idea of the magnificent program in store for those who attend:

Mark Guy Pearse, of London.
Governor E. W. Hoch, of Kansas.
Bishop David H. Moore, of Portland.
Fred Emerson Brooks, Poet of the Sierras.

Col. H. W. J. Ham, the Georgia Humorist.
Frank R. Roberson, the World Traveler.
Spence and McDonald, Scottish Entertainers.

Kaffir Boy Choir, from South Africa.
Copy of prospectus and program may be had by addressing President L. O. Jones, Lincoln.

A horsethief was captured near Shubert Wednesday. He had stolen a team from a small town near Sioux City, got as far as Craig, Mo., where he traded it for another team, and then came on. He was captured by Joe Henderson. The sheriff of the county where the horses were stolen was right after him, and by phoning ahead caused his arrest. He got to Shubert about noon and took charge of the prisoner, who acknowledged that he was implicated, but claimed it was his uncle who stole the horses and turned them over to him. He says both were drunk at the time. The sheriff had found the team at Craig, and started back that way to leave the team traded for, and get the team that was stolen.

A few years ago buffalo fish were plentiful in the Missouri river, but now very few are caught. Carp seem to be taking their place.

Again we inquire, what has become of John H. Dundas, the independent people's candidate for congress, regardless of the aid or consent of any party on earth? John appears to have got lost in the shuffle.

In talking with G. S. Christy on day last week we elicited the information that Mr. Christy has two acres of ground in small fruit and that these two acres this year yielded him $800 worth of fruit. This is a poor fruit year, which makes the showing all the better. We know of no other crops that will net as much per acre as fruit properly handled.—Brook Bulletin.

How to take care of the swine exhibit at the Nebraska State fair is puzzling the management. The 450 pens have been assigned to 86 exhibitors, and applications are on file for 150 additional pens. To provide for all applicants would mean an exhibit of nearly 1,800 head. Truly Nebraska is in the front rank as a breeder of registered swine. To erect barns of 150 pens capacity would require an expenditure of more than $2,000.

Last week's Advertiser, in referring to the interviews in the Lincoln Star and News with F. L. Woodward and G. N. Titus, said: "It is now time for V. P. Peabody to get before the public." Mr. Peabody promptly followed our advice or else the papers recognize that we have other statesmen, as Tuesday's Lincoln News had an interview with Mr. Peabody regarding the political situation here. It was on the first page with a big "scare head" to it. Who will be next?

The Missouri river rose rapidly the latter part of last week, flooding the low bottom land. It was over almost all the land east of town, spoiling three stacks of old hay belonging to the Hoover estate. It overflowed about 30 acres of corn belonging to C. P. Barker. 20 acres belonging to W. W. Seid, and 7 acres of millet belonging to Alf B. Kinton, across the Nemaha southeast of town. On the bottom northeast of Nemaha J. C. Broady had about 70 acres of corn and some alfalfa covered with the water but is in hopes he will get a part of a crop. Ellis Young's crop was also flooded. Both Broady and Young had to move out, as the water got in their houses. It was only in one part of Young's house and not deep there, but it rose 10 or 12 inches in Broady's. Other parties on the bottom also lost heavily. Hi Flock had his corn crop destroyed. Hilt Stanley and Wm. Gillespie got help and threw up a dike around their fields and by hard work day and night managed to keep the water off and save their crops.

The water began to recede Sunday night and it is thought the trouble is over for this year.

Ben Baldwin, who is farming the old Seymour Howe farm, had part of his corn field flooded but is in hopes it is not much hurt. He hauled his wheat to August Quiller's and stacked it Saturday and thus saved it. Dan Maxwell, who had wheat west of Harry Hoover's farm, on the low land, became alarmed at the outlook and had his wheat hauled off and stacked on higher ground.
