AUBURN, Neb., July 23.—With a salary of $2,000 attached to the honor of postmaster, the situation in Auburn becomes more and more animated each day as the time draws nearer for the resignation of the present incumbent to take effect. The number of candidates has simmered down to three: Thomas H. Horn, Arthur L. Allen, Ex-Mayor Freeman. Mr. Horn is a pioneer citizen of Nemaha county and has resided in Auburn a number of years. He is well known throughout southeastern Nebraska as a man of noble character and amply capable of managing the office should he be successful in landing the "plum."

Mr. Allen is a young business man of the town, a son of F. E. Allen, one of Nemaha county's most substantial farmer capitalists. As a business man Mr. Allen has made a phenomenal success during his career here in Auburn. He is also secretary of the Auburn Chautauqua association.

Mr. Freeman is a real estate agent and has been identified with the business interests of Auburn for twenty years or more.

In speaking of the situation here the Hon. H. B. Howe said, last Tuesday: "I am in favor of letting the people vote on the postmastership, and he who secures the majority vote be made postmaster."

The situation is a rather peculiar one owing to the fact of Auburn's having two presidential offices and the said offices being situated within less than one mile of each other; while the town is under one city government, and divided into three wards. The Auburn office is situated in the second ward and the South Auburn office in the third ward. The Auburn office pays $1,600 per year with $215 allowance for clerk hire, rent, fuel and lights furnished. South Auburn gets $1,400 with $100 for clerk hire, otherwise same as the Auburn office. A number of citizens receive mail and have rented boxes at each office and as there is no distinction as to what is South Auburn, but the postoffice, it is claimed that in case this matter is left to popular vote the southsiders will dictate who shall be the North Auburn postmaster—State Journal Cor.

AUBURN, Neb., July 25.—Only a few years ago it was thought that beavers were becoming extinct in this section of the country, but recent developments bring light that they are really becoming more numerous. Those who are familiar with the habits of these little animals have found numerous evidences of their work along the Little Nemaha in this county. Large maple, walnut, elm and cottonwood trees that have been felled by the beavers can be seen all along the river's course and other traces of their plentitude have been observed. Muskrats are becoming very plentiful and the little "pesky" minks are no longer a rarity in this county. The successive wet seasons have, no doubt, had much to do with the creation of conditions that have been favorable to their propagation.

The Woman's Home Companion for August, with its nine short stories, might well be called a fiction number were it not for the fact that there seems to be no diminution whatever in the quantity of other matter. More particular noteworthy of the special articles are "When the Tornado Goes Skylarking," with some striking photographs; "The Americanization of the Holy Land," also illustrated; "Notes from the Diary of an Employment Agent," "There Ought to Be a Law" and "The American Social Invasion of England." The pages devoted to fashions and to young people are as many and as entertaining as usual. There are two pages of the best cat-and-kitten pictures, all from photographs, that were ever published. Published by The Crowell Publishing Company, Springfield, Ohio; one dollar a year; ten cents a copy.

J. C. M. Pollard of Nebraska is the legally accredited representative of the First Congressional district in the national house of representatives. The official vote cast at the special election last Tuesday was canvassed by the state board at 9:30 a. m. Monday, and Mr. Pollard was declared elected by a majority of 2,590, having received a total vote in the district of 8,822 against a vote of 5,732 for Mayor Brown. Immediately after the result was announced and declared official Governor Mickey issued a certificate of election to Mr. Pollard, declaring him the legally elected representative to congress from the First district. The official vote by counties, as disclosed by the official returns is as follows:

County	Pollard	Brown	Scat'g	Total
Cass	1272	1032	1	2313
Johnson	631	402	5	1041
Lancaster	2774	1614	0	4415
Nemaha	729	525	3	1275
Otoe	958	927	0	1888
Pawnee	733	278	0	1010
Richardson	1225	954	0	2185

Total 8322 5732 9 14054
After the election it was rumored that probably the election of Mr. Pollard would be contested. Then a plan was formulated whereby the state canvassing board was to be enjoined from meeting and canvassing the vote. By this method it was intended to prevent him from presenting his credentials at Washington, where it was admitted he would be seated. The canvassing board learned of the proposed move and quietly met this morning. As Mr. Pollard has the certificate of election safely tucked away in his inside pocket the dissatisfied ones will have to transfer their contest proceedings to Washington. In ordinary regular elections the legislature is made the canvassing board to canvass the vote for congressmen in Nebraska, but another statute provides that in all cases of special election the results shall be canvassed by the regular state canvassing board, composed of the state officials. This does away with the possibility of a contest of the canvass.—Neb. City Tribune.

W. W. SANDERS

What is undoubtedly the best sample of good road building in the county, and, for that matter, probably within the state, is in evidence around the little town of Julian, eight miles north of Auburn. All the highways leading to town are in an excellent condition. They are constantly dragged with a road scraper, which is drawn by a ten horse traction engine. The roads are graded to the centers and then crowned in such a manner that the water drains off and the ditches on each side of the road are so constructed that they carry off the water easily. The road beds that have been treated thus are as hard and smooth as if they were macadamized or asphalted and vehicles run over them with the ease and lightness that a sulky runs over a race track. The credit for this condition of affairs, surrounding the little French town, is largely due to C. L. Meeset, cashier of the Bank of Julian. He was father to the idea and through his energy in collecting money by subscription the funds were raised to carry on the good work.

Remember that W. W. Sanders writes insurance. He is agent for several first class companies, both mutual and old line. His rates are as low as any. Give him a call.

No Secret About It

It is no secret, that for Cuts, Burns, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Sore Eyes, Bells etc., nothing is so effective as Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "It didn't take long to cure a bad sore I had, and it is all O. K. for sore eyes," writes D. L. Gregory, of Hope, Tex. 25c at Keeling's drug store.

Huge Task

It was a huge task to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease, as that of C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Ia., but Electric Bitters did it. He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone I could not sit on a chair without a cushion; and suffered from dreadful backache, headache, and depression. In Electric Bitter, however, I found a cure, and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great tonic medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach. Guaranteed by W. W. Keeling druggist; price 50c.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, uric acid, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

I was all run down from nervousness and overwork and had to resign my position and take a rest. I found that I was not gaining my strength and health as fast as I could wish, and as your Wine of Cardui was recommended as such a good medicine for the ill of our sex, I bought a bottle and began using it. I was satisfied with the results from the use of the first bottle, and took three more and then found I was restored to good health and strength and able to take up my work with renewed vigor. I consider it a fine tonic and excellent for worn-out, nervous condition, and am pleased to endorse it.
