Evangelist, and pastor of the Christian church at Nemaha. He is not a candidate for office.

Jerry Simpson—the famous "Socks-less" Simpson of Kansas—died at Wichita Monday morning.

The ladies of the Christian church will serve chicken pie and other kinds of good things for dinner on election day. Patronize them.

A. D. Murrell of Fremont, Nebr., state agent for the F-P lighting system, assisted by H. W. Moss, put in a system of lights in the Nemaha opera house this week that are fine. In addition to giving a fine light, it is perfectly safe.

The Epworth League will give a Hallow'en social at the Minick hall tomorrow (Saturday) night. Pumpkin pie, gingerbread, coffee and other good things to eat will be served. There will be various kinds of amusements. Everybody invited.

Norman Mead, who has been living near Blue Springs, Nebr., for several months, has returned to Nemaha. He has rented Mrs. Rosy Gilbert's house, until recently occupied by N. B. Catlin. They expect to live in town until spring and then move on a farm.

A. G. Warren planted some crook-neck squash seed on the hillside south of his home last spring, and the whole hillside was covered with squashes. One of them measured 39 inches from end to end and others were almost as long. He certainly had a big yield.

The north bound freight will be held at Nemaha Saturday morning until seven o'clock, to accommodate our people who desire to go to Nebraska City to attend the ceremonies connected with the unveiling of the monument erected to the memory of J. Sterling Morton.

Harry Trumbull Sutton, prohibition candidate for regent, who is to speak at the Methodist church next Tuesday night, is a cousin of Mrs. W. E. Wheelon. He is a member of the faculty of the Cotner university, and a Christian minister. He is said to be a very eloquent speaker.

J. H. Seid and Geo. Fisher bought the fine imported Percheron stallion sold at T. H. Jones's sale Wednesday. The horse won the first prize at the fair and also at the Auburn stock show and is a good one in every way. Horse breeders in this section are very much pleased to have him brought here.

Mr. and Mrs. John Watson have again changed their minds, and have concluded to go to California to spend the winter. They will probably start in about three weeks, but may go sooner. Mrs. Watson has a brother, Briggs Flack, living at Orland, Glenn county, California, whom they will visit.

On Thursday the editor took dinner at the beautiful home of Mrs. W. H. Hoover, by invitation of the ladies of the Christian aid society. We always accept such invitations. The dinner was a feast, and the way it was enjoyed by Dr. Matthews, who occupied the head of the table, Dr. Frazier, Pres. Barker, John Clark, Uncle Henry Clark and A. G. Warren was certainly a great pleasure to the ladies. Dr. Matthews thinks of staying here permanently if he can be assured that our people always fare that well, and he can get a boarding place of that kind.

A. R. McCandless and J. H. Littrell drove down to Ally's coal mine Wednesday and dug out some coal. The vein crops out along the bluff of the Missouri river about a quarter of a mile, and is from five to six inches thick. Over the vein is a layer of granite rock. The coal is said to burn well, leaving no cinders—nothing but a white ash. Several years ago when a well was dug on I. N. Cooper's farm a vein eleven inches thick was found. It is thought if a shaft was sunk a much thicker vein would be found, as old coal miners say there are usually three veins. Mr. McCandless will do a little prospecting.

Marion, the seven-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Shiveley, died Wednesday morning of this week after an illness of only a few hours. He had not been very well for about a month previously, but was apparently feeling fairly well until about noon Tuesday, when he became very sick and vomited severely. A physician was called who checked the vomiting. The symptoms were of appendicitis, though a case of that disease in a person so young is extremely rare. The boy did not get any better and died at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning. The funeral services conducted by Rev. J. W. Sapp, were held Thursday, and the body laid at rest in the Prairie Union cemetery.

A. R. McCandless has found a vein of coal cropping out of the bluff on the farm he recently bought of Jacob West, a mile and a half south of Nemaha. The vein is only four or five inches thick. A number of years ago I. N. Cooper found at least a wagon load of coal washed up on the banks of the creek running through his farm, after a heavy rain. By searching he found where the vein cropped out of the creek bank. The vein was about five inches thick. The coal was of fair quality, and that which washed out was used in a threshing machine engine. The vein runs back in a bank so it would not pay to mine it unless it was a thicker vein than where discovered. It is probable the same vein discovered by Mr. McCandless. The places where coal was discovered are probably a mile and a half apart.

On account of the great amount of hay that was destroyed and spoiled by the high water on the Nemaha bottom, that article will probably be scarce next spring, and the price will be higher than it has been for many years.

T. J. Oliver, at one time principal of the Nemaha schools, and who was pastor of the Christian church here, is the democratic candidate for county superintendent of Richardson county. Mr. Oliver was a republican when he lived here.

The Nemaha opera house will be ready for business in a few days. The lights have been put in and the chairs are here and will be put up at once. Probably the first entertainment will be the meeting of the teachers' association Saturday of next week.

Harry Trumbull Sutton, prohibition candidate for regent of the state university, will speak at the Methodist church next Tuesday night. Mr. Sutton is said to be very eloquent, instructive and inspiring. It is hoped he will have a large audience. A collection will be taken, to help defray the expenses of the prohibition campaign.

The Epworth League conducted the services at the Methodist church Sunday night. The topic was "Sacred Songs that have Helped," and many of the old standard hymns were sung. The exercises were very interesting.

Woodward & Allen have their lighting system now in working order in the Nemaha opera house, and have also received 200 chairs. A. G. Warren is doing the inside painting, and in a few days all will be in readiness for entertainments.

For Sale—My eighty acre farm one mile northwest of Nemaha. Very desirable place to live, no better neighbors anywhere. I want to go farther west. For terms write or call on E. L. PARIS, Nemaha, Nebr.

We would again call attention to the dinner and supper and the bazaar to be given by the ladies of the Christian church on election day. The bazaar will be held and meals served in the Minick hall. The members and friends of the church are asked to contribute to the bazaar, dinner and supper by contributing work and things to eat, and the patronage of everybody is invited.
