

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood. It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Dr. Tyler of Auburn is now a member of the Nemaha county board of pension examiners, having been appointed to succeed Dr. Wilson who resigned.

E. F. Burson and J. L. Speece, with their families this week moved to Ord, Nebr., near where their sheep ranch is located. They leave many friends here who wish them abundant prosperity in their new home.

"Bud" Odell, a citizen of Brownville in early days, when he was only a boy but who has lived in various states from Maine to California and from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico, has returned to this county to live. They can't stay away.

F. M. Anderson and his son-in-law, Wm. Hughes, have bought West Bros implement business and later also purchased the business of Sam Teare, county clerk elect, at Auburn. They will combine the business at the old stand of the West Bros.

Thos. L. Fisher is helping his brother-in-law, E. H. Dort, in the drug store at Auburn during the holiday trade. Tom was a clerk in Mr. Dort's store for several years, and afterward had a drug store of his own farther west until his health failed and he sold out to go on a farm.

Wm. Mead, who recently sold his eighty acre farm, and talked of going to Washington, has concluded that Nemaha county is good enough for him, so he has bought a thirty acre farm east of Howe, formerly belonging to Joe Smith. He paid $100 per acre for it

David Kennison, one of the pioneers of Lafayette precinct, but who has been living at York for several years, died at Pueblo, Colo., Monday of last week. He had been a minister of the United Brethren church for many years and was an earnest preacher and worker. He was buried at Brock Thursday of last week.

Fred Hoch got a hard lick on the head Monday. Jim Burus was working on top of Earle Gilbert's brick store building, helping put on the roof, and threw a board down just as Mr. Hoch came around the corner of the building. The board struck him on the head, cutting a deep gash, from which the blood flowed in streams until stopped. He was helped over to the drug store where his head was bandaged up, and in a little while was back at work again. It was an ugly cut.

J. W. Webber seldom sells a piece of land—he would rather buy. But he has sold an unimproved 80 acres lying north of the Larkin school house to John E. Lambert, getting $80 per acre for it. But Wal is not getting rid of his land, as he immediately bought the 207 acre farm of John C. Stokes, southwest of Nemaha, paying $77.50 per acre for it. Mr. Lambert now has 400 acres of farm land, all in a body with the exception of a forty, and that corners with the rest of his land. Mr. Webber has about 600 acres of land.

Weldon Shiveley had a bad runaway Saturday. He brought a load of corn to Nemaha and was unloading it at John P. Flack's when Clarence Aynes came running up and the horses, which were only three and four years old, were frightened and jumped, throwing Weldon out on the ground. The coupling pole was broken and the horses ran on with the front wheels, running through the barb wire fence around the park, and getting tangled up in the trees, where they were caught. They were badly cut up. The horses belonged to John H. Shook of Auburn but were being used by Mr. Shiveley.

A man who was digging over in Nemaha county discovered a zinc mine. There used to be a small stream over in that section that bore the name of "Whiskey Run." There was a distillery near where the zinc mine has been discovered, which may or may not account for the find.—Gage County Democrat

Bio. Marvin evidently remembers olden times in Nemaha when Whiskey Run gained its name. But we do not see sights now in Nemaha—it is strictly a prohibition town. Come down and see us some time, and we will take you around and show you the coal mine and the zinc mine and convince you that it is the real article and not a manifestation of "spirits."

Congressman Pollard has pulled off a nasty postoffice fight at Shubert, Richardson county, and it is believed has solved a difficult question diplomatically. M. H. Taylor, the present incumbent, was a candidate for re-appointment, but there were protests against his continuance in office, and to satisfy the desires of many of his constituents, Pollard has recommended the appointment of E. H. Evans, an old soldier of that place, as a compromise candidate, the fight being between Taylor and Mr. Morrow. Taylor's term does not expire until June 30.

The above dispatch from Washington, taken from the Omaha Bee, tells only part of the story. W. H. Morrow, former postmaster, resigned nearly four years ago, expecting to get the nomination for county attorney but failed. Recently he concluded he would like the postoffice again, and as there was considerable kicking on M. H. Taylor, the present postmaster, Mr. Morrow, J. P. Shubert, the newly elected state senator, who was an applicant when Mr Taylor was appointed, J. M. Evans, cashier of the bank, and a few others got together, wrote up a petition for Mr. Morrow's appointment, and started a vigorous fight for it. Mr. Taylor, finding he was likely to get let out, resolved that Morrow should not be the one to succeed him, so he made a proposition that if the opposing faction would agree on E. H. Evans, father of the bank cashier, he would resign, his resignation to take effect at the end of his four years' term, June 30. This was satisfactory to most of the opposition and was agreed to although Morrow and Mr. Shubert did not give their consent.

Taylor attends to the business of the office all right, keeps a nice clean place, but is cranky—always was, and probably always will be—and makes many enemies in this way. Mr. Evans is an old man, respected by all but has only lived in Shubert about a year.

PERU, Neb, Dec. 18—Last night at six o'clock occurred the death of little Cecil King, nephew of Mrs. King of this city. Little eight year-old Cecil had been adopted by Mrs. King, and for the past two years had been unable to attend the model school of the normal because of consumption from which he suffered. The little fellow had desired to unite with the Baptist church, and being unable to leave his home, was formally received as a church member in his own home last Thanksgiving evening. The same evening he contributed from his savings of $17. one dollar which he had earned long ago, toward the pastor's salary. A few hours before his death he placed his customary 10c in a little envelope, sealed it, and directed it to be sent to the church. The body was taken to Shubert, Neb., this evening for burial. A short service was held at the home before the departure for Shubert.

The Delineator begins the New Year with an attractive cover and a display of all that is new in the fashion world, to say nothing of the many features of literary excellence. Of particular interest is an article by Postmaster General Cortelyou, describing woman's place and share of work in the postal service. The article in the Safe Food series is devoted to a discussion of the real value of glucose as a food product. Cecelia Loftus gives her impression of Ophelia a character which she has acted with success, and N. Hudson Moore writes of Old-Fashioned Beds. The President of Quex, Helen M. Winslow's club story, is continued, a serious note being introduced in the discussion of child labor. At Spinster Farm is concluded, as well as John Luther Long's clever story of the stage Castles in Spain. The education of the child is the subject of a thoughtful paper by Dr. Grace P. Murray and the pastimes for little folks include the first of a series of fairy tales by Alice Brown. The various departments are filled with matter of interest and value to the woman of the home.

County Superintendent Carrington has issued the following circular directed to the teachers of Nemaha county:

There are some cases of violation and evasion of the Compulsory Education Law in certain school districts.

Children between the ages of seven and fifteen years must attend school continually. In districts having nine months of school they must attend for a period of at least six months; in districts having an eight months' school they must attend for five months; in districts having a seven months' school—four months and two weeks; in districts having a six months' school—four months. A school for the feeble minded is provided by the state at Beatrice; for the deaf and dumb at Omaha; for the blind and those having weak eyes at Nebraska City; for boys who cannot be controlled in the public school, the industrial school is provided at Kearney; same for girls at Geneva. The state of Nebraska has wisely provided for the education of the children within its borders and it is our duty to see that the Compulsory Education Law is enforced.

Will you carefully follow the directions given below.

1. Report immediately to me a children between the ages of seven and fifteen not in school. (Do not report children attending the German schools)
2. When any pupil between the ages of seven and fifteen is out of school for three successive days inquire,—even if it be necessary to see the parent,—into the cause of his or her absence. If the reason is insufficient report the case to me immediately.
3. Children must not break into the progress of the school by irregular attendance.
4. Report the feeble minded, deaf and dumb, blind or those whose eyes prevent them doing school work, also fit subjects for the industrial school.
4. Report pupils who are frequently and needlessly tardy.
