An Appeal

We have been to considerable expense lately and need money very much. If each of our delinquent subscribers would pay up it would put us on easy street. We ask each one who is owing on subscription to consider that this means him or her, and trust the response will be immediate. Help us out.

We notice by the court proceedings in the Granger that the case of Nessa M. Foutch vs. School District No. 33 was amicably settled out of court. This is the case where Miss Foutch, daughter of Rev. Mr. Foutch, sued the "Happy Hollow" district for damages on account of being dismissed as teacher of said school in the middle of the term. We understand the district pays Miss Foutch damages.

The Kimmel Comedy Co. will give their first engagement this season in the Nemaha opera house on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, Feb. 1, 2 and 3. Harry Kimmel is a fine actor and has engaged a good company. There will be seven in the company besides himself, his wife and the boy. This will also be the first theatrical company to play in the new opera house. A first class entertainment is promised for all three nights.

One of the most potent pleas of the advocates of saloons is that the schools cannot be run without the license fees. Nemaha has not had a saloon for seventeen years, and yet we have had a good school all that time. We had rather pay a little more tax for school purposes than to pay it indirectly in keeping up courts, etc. But the greatest reason for not wanting the saloons and the saloon money is that we do not want to go into partnership with the devil in ruining the men and boys of our community.

Saved From Terrible Death

The family of Mrs. M. L. Bobbitt of Bargerton, Tenn., saw her dying and were powerless to save her. The most skillful physicians and every remedy used, failed, while consumption was slowly but surely taking her life. In this terrible hour Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption turned despair into joy. The first bottle brought immediate relief and its continued use completely cured her. It's the most certain cure in the world for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed Bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial Bottles Free at Keeling's Drug Store

The roads were in an almost impassible condition last Saturday on account of the mud. As corn was being hauled to market the roads were cut up in bad shape and when the freeze came it made the roughest roads we have had for years.

We received a copy of the Broken Arrow (Indian Territory) Ledger Monday. By this paper we notice that John D. Shubert, until recently a resident of Shubert, is advertising the ice business, in which he is now engaged, and says he makes daily deliveries. We are afraid he would not have much trade if it was as cold there as it is here.

Lyrann Brown of Ft. Collins, Colo., arrived in Nemaha Tuesday of last week on a visit to his sister, Mrs. Lindsey, mother of George, Frank and William Lindsey. He started home Monday. Mr. Brown had not heard from his sister for years and did not know where she was, but finally learned in some way that she was at Nemaha, so wrote the postmaster, found she was here, and came to see her.

A number of our farmers have been using the drag on the roads with beneficial results. C. L. Russell dragged the road Wednesday from his farm to town. One of the best roads in the country now is from the poor farm north and south for a mile, and this used to be a very bad road. But Curt Brown has used the drag frequently. If all our farmers would do likewise we would soon have splendid roads.

Edson Rich of Omaha has been appointed general counsel of the Union Pacific for Nebraska. He is a former Brownville boy and was a classmate of the editor of this household necessity. We belonged to the same debating society and used to settle questions affecting the policies of the world at our meetings. But while we have tried to do all the good possible by editing a paper, Ed has degenerated into a lawyer at a salary of several thousand a year.

About 9 o'clock Sunday morning Mrs. W. F. Keeling saw fire starting on the roof of Fred Seabury's house. She gave the alarm and Fred ran out. She saw the fire, caught up a pail of water, threw it on the fire, putting it partly out, drew another pail of water and with it extinguished the remaining blaze. The fire had evidently caught from a spark on the shingles, which were old and fuzzy, and had just started when seen by Mrs. Keeling. If it had got a fair start nothing could have stopped it. The Methodist church bell was rung when the alarm of fire was given, but the fire was out before the people got to the scene.

WONDERFUL NERVE

Is displayed by many a man enduring pains of accidental Cuts, Wounds Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Sore feet or stiff joints. But there's no need for it. Bucklen's Arnica Salve will kill the pain and cure the trouble. It's the best Salve on earth for Piles, too. 25c at W. W. Keeling's, Druggist.

Walter S. Maxwell, carrier on rural route No. 2, met with quite an accident Saturday. The team he was driving was feeling pretty lively. When he met a team with a load of corn near Jacob West's farm Walt turned out of the road, but one of the horses began to kick and pulled in toward the wagon, and the hind wheel of the mail wagon ran over the hub of the corn wagon, almost upsetting the mail wagon. In kicking the horse got straddle of the wagon pole. In the trouble Walt's head was thrust through the glass door in front of the mail wagon, which is hinged at the top and was fastened up. A piece of glass cut a gash in Walt's head about an inch and a half long and clear to the bone. Walt held on to the team until he got them quieted down a little, then got out and straightened them out, and drove back to town. He had the doctor patch up his head, but did not attempt to take the mail out, so the people on route 2 did not get any mail that day. The cut was an ugly one and Walt's head and face were covered with blood when he got back to town.
