Miss Ruth Worden of Kalamazoo, Mich., arrived in Nemaha a few days ago and will spend the summer visiting her aunts, Mrs. Rose Gilbert and Mrs. Elizabeth Duerfeldt.

There has been quite a siege of measles and whooping cough in Nemaha an vicinity in the last few weeks, but as nearly every one has had these diseases now it is letting up some.

S. S. South of St. Deroin, who was arrested last week and tried for criminal assault on his adopted daughter, was released at the preliminary trial held before Judge McCarty, as he was found not guilty. It is probable the girl will be sent to the reform school, as Mr. South acknowledges he has little control over her now.

Shubert will have their third annual carnival and street fair July 17 to 20. Nemaha people should patronize this liberally, as Shubert people always turn out to the old settlers picnic.

The school board had a meeting Monday night to elect teachers. No principal was elected as there was only one application. Miss Mamie Anderson of Sutherland, Nebr., was elected teacher of the intermediate department and Miss Lillian Neal of Peru primary teacher.

W. W. Seid got a hard fall a few days ago. He was standing on top of the water tank at the old Seid farm, pumping water into the engine, when the pump handle broke and he was thrown to the ground, about seven feet, lighting on his left side. His side has been very sore ever since.

A large steamboat, the R. C. Gunter, passed up the river last Saturday. Steamboats are now more of a curiosity than they were in early days, when they passed up or down the river almost daily. Then was when times were lively in river towns—about the only towns there were in Nebraska.

Those fine barred rock cockrels and pullets—all my breed, ery—very cheap. Come and see them. W. W. LIEBHART.

Wednesday afternoon fire caught in the roof of the shed kitchen of Steve Colerick's house. Fortunately it was discovered before it was far advanced and the alarm given. The neighbors gathered and soon extinguished the blaze, but not before the fire had done considerable damage.

Rev. G. W. Ayers on Sunday night appointed a parsonage building committee, consisting of James A. Stephenson, W. T. Russell, A. L. P. Thompson, A. R. McCandless, J. W. Ritchey, I. N. Cooper, Mrs. F. L. Woodward, and Mrs. Elmer E. Allen. This committee will proceed to adopt plans for the Methodist parsonage and operations will doubtless soon be commenced for the erection of a good parsonage on the corner north of the church.

It does a person good to go out in the country these days. The cornfields, with the clean corn, most of it "laid by," the golden wheat in shocks, the oats being harvested, hay being cut, apple and peach trees hanging full of fruit, flowers everywhere—it makes a person feel like this old world was a good place to live in, and a feeling of thankfulness wells up in the heart toward the giver of all good gifts for his kindness to man. We live in the best part of the world and in the best times we ever had. All is prosperity and peace. No people have so much cause for gratitude as do the people in this vicinity.

Eyes and Glasses

At a certain age, usually forty years, normal eyes have failing vision for reading or sewing. This is due to loss of accommodation for vision in near work. Old sight or presbyopia is a condition of normal eyes and as positive as gray hairs.

Often people try to fight off this change that steals over them and avoid glasses as long as is possible to even discern their near work. This is an unjust tax on the accommodative power of the eye and surely reacts and causes pain, fatigue and irritation of our best friends.

The remedy is properly fitted glasses to assist the accommodative power of the eye thus giving clearness of vision, heal irritable conditions and promote the longevity of the eyes and the happiness of the owner.
