

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, uric acid, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Congressman Pollard

Tecumseh Chieftain.

Congressman E. M. Pollard was in the city, Wednesday, attending to matters political, and while here he gave the following interview:

"Senator Burkett was elected a member of the Fifty-ninth congress at the regular election held in November 1904. His certificate of election was duly filed with the clerk of the house of representatives. After his election as a senator from Nebraska he filed his resignation as a member of the house, effective March 4, 1905, leaving a vacancy in the First district. I was elected to congress from this district July 18, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Senator Burkett. My certificate of election showed my term should begin with the beginning of the Fifty-ninth congress. Certainly a vacancy existed. A special election was called to fill that vacancy. The law applying to the issue is found in chapter 4, and reads as follows:

"Sec 51. Whenever a vacancy occurs in either house of congress, by death or otherwise, of any member or delegate elected or appointed thereto after the commencement of the congress to which he has been elected or appointed the person elected or appointed to fill it shall be compensated and paid from the time the compensation of his predecessor ceased."

"Thus it is seen that by law congress specifically states that where a vacancy exists and an election is held to fill that vacancy, the newly elected member shall draw pay from the time his predecessor's pay ceased. This is the plain letter of the law.

"I am not a lawyer and do not make a pretense of understanding the technicalities of the law. I do think, however, that I understand the English language. I cannot understand section 51 to mean anything other than that members elected in cases similar to my own should receive full pay.

"There can be no doubt about the construction of this statute since this is the construction that congress places upon it, and congress itself adopted this statute. The construction of the statute was not made in my case alone but it has been the construction of the statute as made by congress since the foundation of this government.

"If I am to be criticised for having drawn pay for the period from March 4 to July 18, I might also just as properly be censured for drawing from July 18 till December 4, the day congress convened, the day when I was sworn in and the day all other members elected to the Fifty-ninth congress took their oath of office. If the law is to be construed that congressmen shall not draw pay for the full term, then the law would have to be revised so that congressmen shall draw pay for the period congress is actually in session only.

"During the last week of the first session of the Fifty-ninth congress the contested election case of Hon. Ernest Wood of St. Louis was acted upon by the house. Mr. Wood was unseated. He drew pay from March 4, 1905, until the day he was unseated. His successor also drew pay for the same period, although he was never even about the capital at all during the whole session of congress excepting as he appeared before the committee on election, where the contest was being heard.

"Thus it is clearly shown that it is the intent of congress to pay its members for the full term for which they were elected.

And this, again, is the construction of congress of this statute and has been adhered to in all cases. In view of this construction of this statute that congress itself has made, it is assuming a great deal for some gentlemen to criticise this construction and to put up their own judgment of the law against that of those who made the law.

"Late Senator Hayward drew pay up to and including December 5, 1899. He even drew pay for the very day of his death. Senator Hayward was never even sworn in as a member of the senate. He never was in fact senator, yet he drew nine months' salary, over $3,700, and never did any material work for his constituents. It was all right for Senator Hayward and numberless other distinguished and eminent lawyers to draw pay for a period of time for which they rendered no service to the people, but when a farmer boy, who does not pretend to understand the law, does the same thing he is to be condemned."

An effort will be made at the coming session of the legislature to have passed a county option prohibition bill. While we would prefer state prohibition yet county option is a big step in the right direction and we hope it will prevail.

We may not believe in Col. & Bryan's ideas altogether but nevertheless all Nebraskans should feel proud of the reception he has received in his trip around the world. His reception at Lincoln on his return will be a record-breaker.

Just as Bryan is honored by the adoption of his peace plank by the interparliamentary union the tip comes that Roosevelt is going to get the Nobel prize for promoting peace. It does seem as if they can't keep off the same side of the street.—Ex.

We regret to see that the Auburn chautauqua managers have arranged for Sunday excursions on the Missouri Pacific. The chautauqua is supposed to teach men to be better, as well as to afford entertainment. It has the patronage and encouragement of ministers and Christian people on that account. Our laws are against all Sunday labor except what is necessary. Sunday excursions cause many men to labor who otherwise would get to rest, if not observing the spirit of the Sabbath in any other way.

REPUBLICAN SENATORIAL CONVENTION

The Republican electors of the Second Senatorial and Fifth Representative districts are hereby requested to send delegates from their respective counties to meet in convention, Tecumseh, Johnson county, Nebraska, on the 20th day of August, 1906, at 12 o'clock of said day for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the following offices: one senator for the second district; one representative for the fifth district and to transact such other business as may come before the convention. The counties are entitled to representation as follows: Nemaha, 13; Johnson, 10, the representation being the same as in the state convention.

G. N. TITUS, Chairman.

Never before in the history of Nebraska has politics been of such vital interest to the masses as the contests now being waged in the state. The people are entitled to know the whole truth about all the men who are seeking office and about the principles that are being advocated. A paper having some personal or private interest in the outcome of such contests can rarely be relied upon to print the news from an absolutely unbiased standpoint. Has the thought occurred to you that The State Journal is the only newspaper of Nebraska whose proprietor is not an office holder or office seeker? This may be some explanation why The Journal is so especially interesting these days. Its attitude upon all absorbing topics of public interest is in behalf of the people and not for office-getting.

The world is growing better. There is no doubt of it. One of the indications is the increasing provisions made for the comfort of the poor, helpless and dependent people. The national and state governments look after the old soldiers. The Masons, Odd Fellows and other orders have homes for their brethren when they need it, and look after the support and education of the orphan children of deceased members. The printers have a national home in Colorado. There are homes for friendless children and aged people. All this besides the poor houses in almost every county. Nebraska is not falling behind other states in this regard. The latest is the donation of a fine home in Blair, Neb., for the use of superannuated preachers of the Methodist church. The place comprises a fine residence and eleven acres, much of it in fruit. It is presented to the church by C. C. Crowell and wife, pioneers of Blair. A conservative estimate places the present value of this home at $50,000, although it cost much more than this.

Major Hamm, editor and manager of the Constitutionalist, Eminence, Ky. when he was fiercely attacked, four years ago, by Piles, bought a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, of which he says: "It cured me in ten days and no trouble since." Quickest healer of Burns, Sores, Cuts and Wounds. 25c at Hill Bro's drug store.

While we are not personally acquainted with Mr. Good of Nemaha county, the candidate for state treasurer, we have information from reliable parties who know him well which leaves the impression that he is the right kind of man for that important office. We are informed that he is a man of strict integrity—one who is immune to the evil influences of the "machine" and who is not afraid to come out openly and state his position, so the people may know exactly where he is and at what the "machine" may know too.—Odell Wave.

Mrs. Thos. Stewart, living in the south part of town, is suffering severely from what the physicians term anthrax. She was bitten on the lip by some insect about a week ago, and although she noticed a slight sting at the time, paid little attention to the matter. In a day or so her lip began to swell and is now fearfully inflamed, her face being so swelled as to close both eyes. This condition is caused in most cases by the sting or bite of some insect which has previously become inoculated with the virus of cattle afflicted with anthrax or "blackleg" as it is commonly known. The lady's condition is reported as being serious.—Auburn Herald.

At the Nebraska State Fair the first week in September, the Fish Commission will have the largest channel cat-fish ever caught in Nebraska waters on exhibition. The weight of this monster cat is 87 pounds. Messrs. Carter and O'Brien can always be depended upon to make the Fish Exhibit one of the best attractions at the Fair.

The wonderful calloped-voiced Bert Morphy has been secured to appear at the Nebraska State Fair each day, Sept. 3 to 7, and "sing to beat the band." This human freak is easily heard above the volume of an 1000-piece band, and his songs are a feature wherever he sings.

A wealth of suggestions for the newest Summer gowns is to be found in the August Delineator, which is interesting, not only from the standpoint of fashion, but for its reading as well. Among the fiction of the number is the second installment of "The Chaperon and the Chaperon," the delightful motor-boat romance by the Williamses, authors of so many automobile stories; also two entertaining short stories by Carroll Watson Rankin and Marvin Dana. Carolyn Wells contributes the "Rubaiyat of Summer Khayyam," written in her inimitable style. Gustav Kobbé writes of the famous civil war song of the south, "Dixie" and its composer, Dan Emmet, the old minstrel. In the Campaign for Safe Foods, Mrs. Abel contributes a chapter on "The Market Inspector and the Buyer," which concludes this series of notable articles. There are numerous articles devoted to the interests of the home;—The Kitchen, House Furnishing, Needlework and Dressmaking; and the children's pages include a variety of features having for their purpose the entertainment of young folks.
