Mrs. Florence Jarvis, Grace and Lynn went to Wabash, Neb., Thursday to visit a week or two.

T. J. Rumbaugh and wife went to Republican City Tuesday to look at some land they think of buying.

We had a good rain Thursday, which was greatly needed. It will help out the pastures and crops wonderfully.

A fine line of carpet samples at Edwards & Bradford Lumber Co. Call and see them and give your orders for carpets.

Mrs. Earle Gilbert and Miss Minnie May started for Chicago Tuesday. Mrs. Gilbert goes to buy a stock of fall dress goods, notions, etc.

Josh Matney and Lemuel Bradley started for South Dakota Monday afternoon, and expect to go from there to Wyoming to look at the country.

Miss Pearl Thompson, who has been visiting at Shenandoah, Iowa, returned home Thursday. Her sister, Mrs. Henry Field, came home with her.

Glendyn Crother who has been visiting his aunt Mrs. J. D. Rainey and Grandma Hooyer for the past week and taking in the circus at Auburn returned home Saturday.

W. W. Seid was brought home from the country Friday of last week, with a high fever, suffering from malaria and biliousness and was sick for several days, but is able to get out again.

G. N. Titus went to Lincoln Tuesday morning to assist in booming Ellis Good for state treasurer. Nat is one of the strongest supporters of the anti-railroad, anti-pass reform republican movement.

R. I. Brown brought us in a big watermelon Saturday. We ate on it that night and Sunday and had some left for the next day. It was a good one, too. Uncle Jack, the gardener at the poor farm, knows how to raise watermelons. He always has good ones.

J. M. Clark returned from Smith county, Kansas, Tuesday, with 90 head of fine 2-year-old steers he bought out there. Forty head are especially fine, bright red, natural muleys. He bought another car load that will come later as it was too hot to drive them to the station.

D. C. Holmes seems to be stuck on Alberta, Canada. He invested in some land that he says has doubled in value the short time he has been there. He is still there and enjoying himself in hard work.

Wm. Rossell brought us a big piece of fine catfish Tuesday. Uncle Billy is the oldest resident of Nemaha—almost 87 years old—but he is one of the best fishermen in town yet, and has been catching some good ones lately.

Helen Marie Walsh, one of the very nicest little girls in Nemaha was six years old Monday, and invited a number of her little friends to a party in the afternoon to assist in celebrating that event. Of course they had a fine time.

Friday evening a number of young people of Nemaha went out to the poor farm to pay Curtis Brown a farewell visit before he left for the east. A feast of fruit, watermelons, muskmelons, etc., was enjoyed by those present.

Walter S. Maxwell went to Superior, Neb., Tuesday. He went out to try and buy the crop of the owner of the farm he recently bought south of Superior, and if he succeeds will move out there as soon as he can get possession.

A post card from Elmer E. Allen says they expect to be home about Sept. 1st. They appear to be having a fine time. The card was bought on Lake Otsego, on which Cooperstown, N. Y. is located. They were boatripping on this lake.

The Brock Bulletin says that nine graduates of the Brock high school will teach in this county the coming school year, and believes that more of the graduates of that school are teachers than any other school in the county. Perhaps so. The trouble with the Nemaha young lady graduates is that they are too popular and the young men persuade them to quit teaching and go to housekeeping.

Clyde Brown of Roseville, Ohio, who has been visiting his brother, R. I. Brown, for a few weeks, started for his home Saturday morning. Curtis Brown went with him. They expect to do considerable traveling in the near future.

Walter S. Maxwell and wife returned home Thursday of last week. They bought a farm of 160 acres in Jewell county, Kansas, south of Superior, Nebr. The farm is well improved and is five miles from Hardy, Kansas. They will not move until next spring.

Ed Littrell started off Wednesday afternoon with a load of trunks on the dray wagon, a commercial man sitting with him. He started to turn in front of the livery barn and something broke, and the wagon upset. Both men jumped and escaped without damage. The wagon was broken somewhat. The trunks were loaded on another wagon and another start made.
