On account of the continual rains Rev. G. W. Ayers did not move to Nemaha as soon as expected, but moved most of his household goods down Thursday, and is now a resident of Nemaha.

Not a paper has charged anything wrong against Congressman Pollard's votes while in congress, so it must be that he voted right while there. He is a farmer representative. He knows their needs and is a worthy representative of this great farming constituency.

BAND CONCERT and POLITICAL SPEAKING

The fusion campaign will be opened in Nemaha county at the court house in Auburn Monday evening, Sept. 24. The Auburn band will give one hour's concert from 7 to 8, followed by an address by Hon. A. C. Shellenberger, nominee for governor.

The Coming Attraction

The Harry Kimmel Co. which comes to the opera house Sat, Sept. 29 promises to give the people of Nemaha a rare treat. Mr. and Mrs. Kimmel are too well known to need any comments on their work on the stage. The comedetta, "The Happy Pair," is truly very beautiful. Their acting is so real and life-like that one thinks it is an actual reality. They have surrounded themselves with some very clever talent this season. DeLisle Chappel, in his contortion work, is simply unsurpassed. Miss Bessie Milan in her serpentine dance, is truly an artist. The lovers of music will have the pleasure of listening to Frank A. Thomas, a graduate of the Chicago university. Taking it all in all, they give a very clever show, and you will make no mistake in patronizing them.

A tornado on a small scale did a little damage at several places in this vicinity last Friday. It broke down about fifteen acres of corn for Alf Rowen, laying it flat breaking the stalks as bad as if they had been gone over with a stalk cutter. Trees in different places were broken down. At T. L. Fisher's farm the old orchard was almost ruined. It seemed to be a twister here, as the trees were apparently twisted and broken. A patch of willows was torn up and piled together. At Dan Maxwell's a corn crib 12x36 feet was pushed lengthwise on the foundation for four feet. The crib was shoved north, but boards from one close by were thrown west, and trees in the orchard east of the house were broken over to the east, showing the wind came from at least three directions hard enough to do much damage. Dan had just got home from Nemaha and had put his team in the barn. The north doors were shut but the south doors were open. Dan climbed over in the feed way, not thinking much about the storm, when he noticed a ten pound sledge hammer being shoved along the floor by the wind. He began to think that wasn't a very safe place for him.

The rain Sunday night was a heavy one at Nebraska City, the rainfall being 4.6 inches. A long iron bridge was washed out and much other damage done.

There was a 14-inch snow in Colorado last week, and in New York State the thermometer fell 40 degrees in one night and they had a hard frost. Glad we live in Nebraska.

The streets of Nebraska City are certainly in a bad condition. Sunday night one horse of a hack team that was driving along one of the streets sunk in the dirt and mud almost over its head, and died before it could be dug out.

The election in Zion, Dowie's town, resulted in an overwhelming victory for Voliva, who is in opposition to Dowie. Thus Dowie is put down and out of the town he founded and built up. The old man is very sick and it is doubtful if he lives much longer.

The election in Maine resulted in a great gain for the democrats. The usual republican majority is from 25,000 to 40,000. At the recent election the republicans elected their ticket by about 8,000 majority. The issue was not national politics this year, but the question of prohibition. The republicans were in favor of the present prohibition law, while the democrats favored resubmission. If the party prohibitionists do as they usually do in the west, they put in their hardest work against the republicans.

Dr. B. Bell Andrews, sr., excepted, the physicians of Cordell, Oklahoma, decided some time ago that it was not proper or ethical to run a professional card in the local papers. Then the papers decided that were it non professional to run such cards, it is also non professional to prefix "Dr." to a physician's name, and since then the names of the doctors appear in print just the same as any other man's name. Neither do the papers mention the physician's names in any case, no matter how serious. Dr. Andrews carries a professional card in the paper, and in addition advertises his hospital. He is the only physician in Cordell whose name appears in the papers of that town with the dignified title of Doctor.—Stella Press.

J. L. Young of Brownville was an Auburn visitor Friday last. In speaking of the fruit industries of that section of the country, Mr. Young stated that four or five years ago he purchased twelve acres near Brownville and set it out to peaches and raspberries. The whole cost him in the neighborhood of $240. This season alone he has already sold 1000 bushels of peaches at from 90 cents to $1.50, to say nothing of the late varieties to come, and not counting what he received for his raspberries. Up to the present he has paid out about $60 for crates, boxes, etc., and about the same amount for labor. That is getting interest on an investment with plenty to spare.—Herald

The Williams Murder

On Thursday of last week Isaac Williams was shot to death by his son, Clarence. From what can be learned of the sad occurrence it appears that Mr. Williams and two of his sons, Clarence, aged about 25 years, and Charles, 18 years of age, were in the barnyard and getting ready to go to a neighbors to help thresh. Charles had been expecting to go to Shenandoah to school and broached the subject at this time. This started a quarrel between him and his father, and the latter, who was on the wagon, jumped off and started for the boy with the pitchfork. The boy ran in an old house with his father after him. He either had a revolver or got one there and began firing at his father, but it appears did not hit him. Then Clarence got a shot gun and fired at his father, hitting him in the back between the shoulders, and killing him almost instantly. The father was then in the barnyard. After shooting his father it is said Clarence struck him over the head with the gun, breaking it. There were no witnesses except those concerned in the terrible affair. This all happened about one o'clock.

Clarence phoned to Auburn for the coroner, but did not tell of the murder. He was told that Coroner Smith had started for Brownville, so he watched for him and when he drove along called to him and told him of the affair. Up to this time no one except the two boys knew what had been done, and one man who called to see Mr. Williams was told he was at the neighbors helping thresh.

Dr. Smith impaneled a jury composed of Will J. Davies, E. A. Magor, J. S. Furnas, A. L. Asa, S. Hosterman and Geo. Hosterman and an inquest was held. The two sons were sworn and testified that the younger boy had fired four shots at his father with the revolver, and Clarence had fired both barrels of the shotgun.

The verdict of the jury was that Isaac Williams came to his death from the result of gunshot wounds, and the two young men were arrested and taken to Auburn by Sheriff Rohrs and are now in jail.

Mr. Williams was very high tempered and when angry appeared to lose all control of himself. He had repeatedly driven his family from home. He had attacked the boys with a pitchfork, club or anything he laid his hands on, and at one time choked Clarence until he was perfectly limp and would probably have killed him if he had not been pulled off by his daughter.

The funeral was held at the home, four miles west of Brownville, Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Pringle, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Auburn. Interment was in the Brownville cemetery.

The preliminary hearing has been set for next Tuesday at 10 o'clock a. m. M. S. McIninch and H. A. Lambert are the attorneys for the boys.

The Breath of Life

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stevens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by Hill Bros, druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Chas. Parker is one of the best informed men of the state today on the issues and differences between the railroads and the people, and he has already accomplished an understanding between the two that has saved the fruit men of South Eastern Nebraska many thousands of dollars as well as made the railroads more money at the same time.

He still stands on a platform that he laid down in a speech before the Farmer's Institute at Johnson in January 1904, before President Roosevelt gave his idea of reform to the nation. One item of this speech was as follows: "We desire to define our position in regard to the railroads as follows: While we have no unjust war to wage against them, neither do we wish to destroy or cripple them, and while we believe they should be treated as fairly as individuals and pay their just share of the taxes, we also believe they should be relegated to the place of servant and not our masters."—Johnson News.

We remember that when William Jennings Bryan was running for congress, in 1894, he denounced especially the tariff on tin plate and the contentions of the republican party that a tariff on tin plate would encourage its manufacture at home. He told how the republicans were taxing the poor man's dinner pail, and ridiculed the idea of there ever being any tin plate manufactured here. His assertions were recalled to our remembrance by a statement that all the tin plate now used in the United States was of home manufacture. The money is kept at home, and we get tin ware about as cheap as when we sent all the money for it abroad.

Starving to Death

Because her stomach was so weakened by useless drugging that she could not eat, Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair St., Columbus, O., was literally starving to death. She writes: "My stomach was so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not sleep; and not before I was given up to die was I induced to try Electric Bitters; with the wonderful result that improvement began at once, and a complete cure followed." Best health tonic on earth. 50c. Guaranteed by Hill Bros, druggists.

Traffic on the Burlington railroad between this city and Lincoln is impaired by the washing out of a small bridge one mile west of John Williams' farm. The heavy rain of Tuesday morning caused the damage. The westbound passenger train which leaves this city at 8:45 o'clock, crossed the bridge before the structure fell. The "stub" train was run to the scene of the washout and the passengers on the returning noon freight from Lincoln were transferred and brought to this city. This mode of keeping this city and the state capital in Burlington railway connection will be utilized for the next few days, as the bridge cannot be repaired until the Burlington pile driver and crew arrive.—Neb. City Tribune.

TO REPUBLICANS:

We are anxious to have every Republican in close touch, and working in harmony with the Republican National Congressional Committee in favor of the election of a Republican Congress.

The Congressional campaign must be based on the administrative and legislative record of the party, and, that being so, Theodore Roosevelt's personality must be a central figure and his achievements a central thought in the campaign.

We desire to maintain the work of this campaign with popular subscriptions of One Dollar each from Republicans. To each subscriber we will send the Republican National Campaign Text Book and all documents issued by the Committee.

Help us achieve a great victory. JAMES S. SHERMAN, Chairman. P. O. Box 2063, New York.
