

Calling cards for sale at the postoffice box store.

August Quiller went to Ord Tuesday on a hunting expedition

It is less than a month until election. There will be more lively work on all sides until Nov. 6.

John W. Ritchey has had a deck put in the rear of his store room, to make more room for his stock of fall and winter goods. It was put in the first of the week by A. G. Warren and Ralph Ritchey.

Wood Wanted

Bids will be received by John I. Dressler, director, for sixteen cords of dry hard wood, to be delivered at the school house in Nemaha. Bids will be received until October 20.

Judge Stull writes us that he is improving from his recent severe spell of sickness, but is very weak yet. It is the worst sickness he has had for twenty years. It is hoped he will permanently recover in a short time.

The Kimmel Co. gave their first entertainment of the season at the opera house Saturday night to a good sized audience. Monday they started on the road, giving their next entertainment at Brownville. They give a good entertainment.

C. H. Kindig and V. P. Peabody have formed a partnership in the real estate business. They make a specialty of the famous Alberta Canada lands, and are pushing the sale of these lands. If you are thinking of changing your location you should see them.

A big pile of rock for the foundation for the new Methodist parsonage has been hauled up, and it begins to look like business. At a meeting of the building committee Saturday plans were adopted for a six-room house, with closets, pantry, a big porch, etc.

For some time there have been reports of an insane woman roaming around in the vicinity of Nemaha and Bracken. It is said the woman is a Miss Ray, whose home is near Barada. Three or four weeks ago she stopped over night with Mrs. David Frazier, who is acquainted with her, but it is said no one knows of her getting a meal anywhere, since that time. She has frequently been heard screaming, so it is said.

Some time ago Willie Yates was severely injured while playing base ball by being struck on the groin with a base ball. He went to Auburn Saturday and consulted Dr. Dillon, who informed him that a surgical operation was necessary. Willie came home and the next day Drs. Dillon and Lutgen, assisted by Dr. Keeling, performed the necessary operation. The patient is getting along nicely and it is thought will be sound again.

Wm. Campbell, president, and F. E. Allen, vice president of the Bank of Nemaha, drove down to Nemaha Monday and inspected the bank. Probably they got a little suspicious, as the cashier had taken an extended trip back east and now the assistant cashier was away, and the last heard from him he was headed for Canada. But the officials evidently found everything all right or they looked well pleased when they left in the afternoon.

A stack of hay containing about ten tons, belonging to W. R. Davis, living on J. I. Dressler's farm, was burned Tuesday. The hay was near R. I. Smith's home, this side of Bracken. It is not known how the hay caught fire.

Nemaha precinct got first prize for precinct exhibits at the county fair last week, the prize being $40. John I. Dressler and Jeff Drumm collected the exhibit, much of it being their own raising. If there had been a square deal they would have received more prizes.

Joe Littrell got one foot hurt Tuesday and will be laid up for awhile from the effects of it. He was working with W. W. Seid tightening a belt on a pulley when the lever he was using slipped and a piece of 6x6 timber fell, the end of the timber striking him on the instep of one foot, badly bruising it.

The first of last week there was a little frost in low places, but the first frost noticeable on higher ground was the morning October 1. There was considerable frost then, but it did little damage. There was quite a heavy frost the next morning, and the thermometer stood at 36 degrees at 6 o'clock—only four degrees above freezing. But the only thing these frosts can hurt are late tomatoes.

Notice

We would ask those who have so kindly subscribed to the Methodist parsonage fund to please pay to the bank to Mrs. Elmer Allen's credit, and ask those that have not subscribed to please help us on this fund if possible, as we have almost one hundred dollars yet to raise.

M. A. WOODWARD,
LILLIAN ALLEN,
Soliciting committee.

Ora Thorp had a bad time getting through to his destination in Colorado. He started here early Saturday morning, Sept. 15. On the way the car broke down once, and later, while they were going through a long tunnel in Colorado, there was a wreck, in which the conductor was killed. Ora was sitting in his car, pretty well up, and was thrown down among the stock but fortunately was not hurt, and none of the stock were hurt. He got to his destination Friday night, the 21st. His wife and children arrived the night before.

The rural route business must certainly pay. T. J. Rumbaugh carried the mail on route 1 for three years and nine months, and then retired and bought a farm and is talking of buying another one. W. S. Maxwell carried the mail on route 2 for a little over two years, and then retired and bought a fine quarter section in Kansas. Wm. Smith has been carrying the mail on the Brownville route for about five years and is putting in a big stock of general merchandise. Pres Barker carried it only a few months and then put in a dray line. Ed Knapp has had his route about three months and takes a trip to Minnesota. You don't hear of any postmasters doing that well.

Marshall Webb worried considerably while away for fear he would miss getting any pawpaws, but was much pleased when he got back to be told that the pawpaw season was not passed yet. The pleased look on his face when he got hold of a big ripe pawpaw was a sight. There is no other fruit equal to a pawpaw for a Missouri river man.

Bicycle supplies at Keeling's. Bicycles repaired.

We are having magnificent fall weather now.

Mrs. Pierce and daughter, Miss Eva, of Indiana, arrived in Nemaha Thursday. Mrs. Pierce is a sister of Hebron Smelser.

Mrs. Nate Russel of Johnson visited her sister, Mrs. Dan Maxwell, and other relatives in Nemaha and vicinity Wednesday, returning the next day.

Judge Stull is still unable to get down town to his office, although he is able to walk about a little, and he feels that he is slowly improving.—Granger.

Traveling men say Nemaha is now one of the best little business towns anywhere around. We have enterprising business men, good stocks of goods, and are getting the trade.

John C. Boyd went to Omaha Wednesday to visit a daughter and consult a specialist on heart and stomach trouble, as he has been suffering all summer from these diseases.

Mr. and Mrs. Hicks of Joplin, Mo., are visiting Sherman Merritt and family. Mrs. Hicks is a sister of Mr. Merritt. Mr. Hicks is railroad agent at Joplin and is enjoying a vacation.

Del Weaver and his mother of Sioux City, Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. George Keith of Stella were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Keeling Wednesday. Mrs. Weaver is a great aunt of Mrs. Keeling and the mother of Mrs. Keith.

County Superintendent Carrington stopped over night in Nemaha Monday. He has been inspecting schools in the southeastern corner of the county, and finds things running so smoothly that he will not put in any more time here. All the schools that he visited are doing good work.

During the chautauqua at Auburn the north siders claimed that the south siders got the circus to come to the south side to injure the chautauqua. This week the stock show is on at the south side, and the north siders got up an excursion to Omaha to the Ak-sar-ben Wednesday—just to try to injure the stock show so the south siders think. Too bad that they cannot agree.

A baby boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Chandler, living near Bracken, died early Tuesday morning and was buried that afternoon in the Nemaha cemetery. The little one was a twin baby, the other one being a girl. The little boy was about a week old and was apparently well and strong until a short time before his death when he was taken with spasms and died. The parents have our sympathy.

If reports are to be believed, Nemaha will soon have more shipping facilities. It is said boats will begin to make regular trips on the Missouri river next spring. Then it is said the C. B. & Q. passenger train that now runs from Nebraska City to Lincoln and return will have the run lengthened, and will go to Falls City, by way of Nemaha, going down in the evening and returning the next morning. But these reports have prevailed before. We will believe it when we see them.

There was much complaint at Auburn Wednesday because the stock show had been advertised for Wednesday and Thursday, when in fact there was little display Wednesday, as the exhibitors had all that day to enter their stuff. In reality there was only one day of the show, although toward evening Wednesday there was considerable live stock, agricultural exhibits, fruit, bread, cake, etc., on exhibition. But when people go to anything of that kind they want to see the whole thing.

Miss Madge Carlisle, who has been teaching the primary department of our school for three weeks, in place of Miss Lillian Neal, returned to her home in Peru Friday. Miss Carlisle gained the affection and esteem of her pupils during her short stay with us. We understand she has been persuaded, however, that her true vocation is not teaching, but housekeeping, and that she will soon become helpmeet to a young gentleman in Peru.

Pete Kerker is getting a big exhibit of fruit at the meat market—all fine specimens, too.

The Republican Rally

Congressman E. M. Pollard and the republican county candidates held a meeting at Nemaha Wednesday night. Although the notice of the meeting was short, the opera house was well filled.

Hon. V. P. Peabody acted as chairman. Hon. J. W. Armstrong, candidate for float representative, was the first speaker. He was followed by Chas. H. Backer, candidate for county commissioner, Abe L. Lawrence, candidate for representative, and Chas. O. French, candidate for county attorney. All made short speeches, the legislative candidates pledging themselves to vote for an anti-pass bill and the other measures advocated by the republican platform, and said if elected they would not accept railroad passes. Mr. French dwelt a little on national and state politics and urged the election of the legislative ticket in order that Norris Brown might receive the support of the delegation from this county.

Congressman Pollard made a fine address, speaking a little over an hour. He quoted figures to prove the prosperity of the country under republican rule and the contrary under the democratic regime. He also spoke on the railway rate legislation. The congressman is an admirer and strong supporter of President Roosevelt, and stands by him in all his reform measures.

Close attention was paid to all the speeches. The meeting was a good one in every respect.

Congressman Pollard and the republican county candidates will be at Brownville Thursday night of next week, Oct. 11th, and at Peru on the 22nd.

Call at the postoffice and see the Herald county map. The map and the Auburn Herald one year for $2. Subscriptions received at the postoffice.
