Wednesday they were at E. E. Moore's, and Thursday at John M. Clark's. All are thoroughly enjoying the reunion.

Happy New Year

We extend to all our readers our wish that they may have a happy and prosperous New Year. May peace and contentment abide with them. May we all try to live better and make others happier. May we have more charity one for the other, and be ever ready to lend a helping hand to those in distress or affliction.

Hog cholera or hog disease of some kind has been playing havoc with some of the herds of hogs in this county recently. John A. Lawrence and Ben T. Skeen are both heavy losers. Mr. Skeen says the cholera strikes him every seven years.

Jay Cohoe of Auburn was last week convicted in district court of larceny of money belonging to Joe Ulbrecht, an insane man now in the asylum at Lincoln. Cohoe was tenant of the house where Ulbrecht lived before he was taken to the asylum, and found $1925 which he turned over to R. C. Boyd, guardian of Ulbrecht, and was rewarded for his honesty. Afterward it is claimed he found $1000 more which he kept. It is understood the case will be appealed.

Manager Killarney of the Auburn Telephone Company will build a toll line from Nemaha to Shubert, connecting with the independent line at that place. This will be a great convenience to the Nemaha people. Heretofore it has been impossible to talk with any satisfaction to farmers living south of Nemaha who are on the Shubert line, but when the new line is built it will obviate the necessity of going through the Auburn and Stella centrals and give better service all around.

The Nemaha poultry breeders carried off several premiums at the poultry show at Auburn last week. J. D. Drumm got first on pen of White Plymouth Rocks. W. W. Liebhart got second on same. Mr. Liebhart had the highest scoring White Plymouth Rock in the show, but his pullets were a little weight, being young birds. Frank Titus got first on Rhode Island Reds, having some pullets scoring 93 and 94, and none under 90. Mrs. Elmer E. Allen got second on Partridge Cochins. Mrs. Geo. Yackly got special for largest pen of Partridge Cochins.

Mrs. N. B. Scrivener Gets Pension

Mrs. N. B. Scrivener has been granted a pension of $8 per month, the pension dating back to the date of her husband's death, Sept. 18, 1905. Stull & Hawxby have had charge of the case and have done good work. F. G. Hawxby has had the case in his especial charge and has pushed it to a completion as rapidly as possible, as there were many complications. A special pension examiner recently made Nemaha a visit to examine into the case. Mrs. Scrivener needs the money very much and is deserving of it.

Leases Poor Farm

"In accordance with the custom that has been in vogue in this county for some years past, the county commissioners have renewed their contract with R. I. Brown, superintendent of the poor farm, for the lease of the property and the care of the few paupers that there are in that institution for the coming year.

"Mr. Brown pays $550 rental for the farm, keeps up the fencing and sees to it that the buildings are in good repair. He boards and clothes the inmates of the institution and the county furnishes medical service to the sick. In the event that one of the inmates die the county furnishes the casket and undertaking service and the superintendent of the poor farm attends to the burial.

"Since this system was first put into operation it has given the greatest satisfaction as Mr. Brown has proven to be one of the most conscientious of men and cares for the unfortunates committed to his care as though they were members of his own family. He has made the poor farm more than self sustaining and it is one of the model institutions of the state."

The above, taken from last week's Auburn Republican, is all right except the price and the fact that the farm is not self sustaining. The county pays Mr. Brown $550 per year and gives him the use of the farm. For this he clothes and cares for the paupers, usually from ten to twelve, most of whom are able to do very little work, and several of whom require a great deal of care.

The poultry show at Auburn last week was not so successful as was expected, but was an interesting exhibition nevertheless. About 200 birds were shown. Nemaha poultry cranks did well, and carried off a number of premiums. More poultry raisers would have exhibited but for the fact that it seems to have been poorly advertised and many did not learn of it until too late. The Republican has the following notices of our exhibitors:

J. D. Drumm, of Nemaha, shows a Buff Cochins cock that is a beauty in color, symmetry, size and carriage, a bird that would do credit to any show. Nemaha, which seems to be a town made up of poultry cranks, and whose fanciers are top notchers in every sense of the word, has done more than her share by the show. The birds exhibited by the breeders of that place are away above the average and must be a source of pride to their owners.

W. W. Liebhart shows some pure white Plymouth Rocks which are worthy of a national reputation. The birds are all young and have been scoring as high as 93. They have been cut for weight more than for anything else and when they can get a month or more of growth on them they will go the limit.

The Partridge Cochins exhibited by Mrs. Elmer Allen, of Nemaha, have been much admired for the beauty of their penciling, the depth of their color, and their splendid size and shape.

The following were the Nemaha exhibitors:

Frank Titus, 5 single comb Rhode Island Reds.

J. D. Drumm, 7 white Plymouth Rocks and 2 Buff Cochins.

C. W. Fick, 6 single comb White Leghorns.

W. W. Liebhart, 5 White Plymouth Rocks.

Mrs. Elmer E. Allen, 5 Partridge Cochins.

Mrs. Geo. Yackly, 8 Partridge Cochins.

A Miraculous Cure

The following statement by H. M. Adams and wife, Henrietta, Pa., will interest parents and others. "A miraculous cure has taken place in our home. Our child had eczema 5 years and was pronounced incurable, when we read about Electric Bitters, and concluded to try it. Before the second bottle was all taken we noticed a change for the better, and after taking 7 bottles he was completely cured." It's the up-to-date blood medicine and body building tonic. Guaranteed. 50c and $1.00 at Hill Bros drug store.

The Christmas Exercises

At the Christian church an arbor was nicely arranged and decorated, and was full of presents. The members of the Sunday school all got presents, and many nice ones were placed on the arbor for other than the scholars. The exercises held were appropriate to the occasion. The church was crowded.

At the Methodist church a beautiful entertainment was given. The recitations by the children and the singing were especially good. To Mrs. Elmer E. Allen and Mrs. A. R. McCandless is due much praise for the effective training of the children. After the entertainment all members of the Sunday school and all the children in the audience were treated to a sack of candy, nuts and oranges. The church was well filled and good attention was given to the program.

A. G. Warren's pony team took a lively spin Friday evening. He had been papering J. I. Dressler's farm house and drove home with his wife. Both got out at the barn and began to unhitch the team. Each had one tug down when the ponies became frightened and started to run. Mr. Warren and his wife both held on but after going a short distance Mrs. Warren was thrown down and the buggy ran over her, hurting her back some. The ponies made a quick turn at the corner by S. Yates' and threw Mr. Warren, who had held on the lines until that time. He lit on his head but was not much hurt. The ponies ran north to Geo. Yackley's, where the buggy ran against a tree and the pole was broken. The ponies tore loose from the buggy and ran on west, until they came to W. W. Liebhart's place, where they ran into a potato patch and circled around until Dr. Frazier caught them. They were not hurt and not a strap on the harness was broken.

Catarrh of the nose and throat should lead you to at least ask for a free trial box of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. Nothing so surely proves merit as a real, actual test—and Dr. Shoop to prove this, earnestly desires that we let you make that test. This creamy snow white healing balm soothes the throat and nostrils and quickly purifies a foul or feverish breath. Call and investigate. All dealers.
