We are now having some of the warm weather for which we sighed a short time ago.

The Missouri river has been taking in considerable land along the Nebraska shore near Nemaha, and also on the opposite side above town.

The district court has knocked out one of Auburn's saloons, so that town has only two now, and there is a prospect of one of these being wiped out.

Mrs. Helen Matthews, who has been visiting at Red Cloud and Lincoln, returned home Monday evening. Her friend Mrs. Meeds and daughter, of Lincoln, came down with her.

We hear that some of the ladies have evidently practiced jiu jitsu. One lady got her arm around a man's neck—a married man, too—and choked him until he was black in the face.

C. H. Kindig is living a retired life these days and doesn't come up town even to talk real estate. He got poisoned a few days ago and his eyes have been swollen almost shut for several days.

Auburn is making an effort, with good prospects of success, of getting a German college that is to be established by the Lutheran churches of this and several adjoining states. We hope they will land it.

Sunday School Convention

The Sunday school convention will be held at the Christian church today at 10:30 a. m. and 2 p. m., and at the Methodist church in the evening. Every one is invited.

Since the inside page was printed we are informed the Sunday school convention at Howe will not be held at night—only at 11 o'clock and in the afternoon. They expect to give an interesting and helpful program.

Mrs. Alice Thielen and Mrs. Annie Baileff of Glarinda, Iowa, came to Nemaha Wednesday evening to see their aunt, Mrs. Louisa Sowles, who has been so very sick for the past week. They returned home Thursday afternoon.

John P. Sanders started for Garretson, South Dakota, Tuesday morning, where he expects to stay this summer at least. He was solicited to take the leadership of the band at that place, and assured of lucrative employment.

The postmaster got notice from the department recently that after July 1 the rural carriers would be paid at the rate of $900 per year, or $75 per month. Our carriers have ordered uniforms and will put on considerable style then.

In another column may be found the announcement of the candidacy of John R. Maddox for the republican nomination for county treasurer. Everybody almost knows John, and he is liked by everybody. He is well qualified for the position to which he aspires.

Elmer E. Allen will have a heating plant put in his house this summer. Fred Seabury began excavating for the boiler Thursday morning. When the heating plant is installed Mr. Allen will have the most convenient home in Nemaha, with heating apparatus, bath room, gasoline lighting plant, etc.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harper of Auburn will be pleased to learn that Mrs. Harper is much better and it is now thought she will recover. For a time it was thought her recovery was impossible. She has been in an Omaha hospital for over a month. Joe was with her for four weeks, returning home Tuesday.

Will J. Davies, the merchant prince of Brownville, has made arrangements to move his stock of general merchandise to Kimball, Nebr.—in fact, part of his stock has already been moved there. He expects to remove the remainder in about a month. Del Vandevanter, we understand, is going to move his stock of goods to Peru.

The family and intimate friends of Mrs. Henry Clark gave her a pleasant surprise last Sunday, that being the occasion of her sixty-ninth birthday. Mrs. Clark went to church in the morning and when she returned found the house full of friends, with a table loaded with such good things as the people always cook for such occasions. The surprise was complete.

A Fortunate Texan

Mr. E. W. Goodloe, of 107 St. Louis t., Dallas, Tex. says: "In the past year I have become acquainted with Dr. King's New Life Pills, and no laxative I ever before tried so effectively disposes of malaria and biliousness." They don't grind nor gripe. 25c at Hill Bros drug store.

The children's day exercises at the Methodist church Sunday morning were excellent. The program was a good one to start on, and the children and young people had been most carefully drilled. The recitations and songs were all excellent. Much credit is due Mrs. Elmer E. Allen, Miss Lulu Cooper and Miss Mary Buell for the training given. The collection for the educational fund was $5.83.

Dr. F. E. Gaither of Clayton, Kansas, arrived in Nemaha Tuesday evening on a short visit to his Nemaha friends. The doctor is taking a post graduate course at the Omaha medical college. Robert Holdinge of Arnold, Nebr., arrived in Nemaha Saturday afternoon, to visit his mother, Mrs. Louisa Sowles, and his brother, Orville Holdinge. This is the first time Mr. Holdinge has seen his mother and brother for thirty-nine years. The mother of the two boys was left a widow when they were little chaps and Robert, who is two years younger than Orville, was taken to raise by a family that soon moved away, Robert at that time being only nine years old, and he never saw his mother or brother again until he arrived here last Saturday.

Grandma Sowles Dead

Mrs. Louisa Sowles, who had an attack of heart failure a week ago, and was thought to be dying, rallied from that attack, but later was taken with pleurisy. This was followed by a gradual decline of the physical powers, due to old age and general debility, until finally death came at 6:30 p. m. Thursday, June 13. She was in the 76th year of her age at her death.

The funeral services will be held at the Christian church this (Thursday) at 2 o'clock p. m.

The deceased was a most highly respected lady, a genuine Christian, and one who was universally respected.

A fuller notice will be given next week.

They have a good joke on Mr. and Mrs. John W. Colerick. A few days ago they went to H. W. Dreury's and spent the day. In the evening John came home before his wife and she told him to take a fruit jar of cream she had on a shelf and shake it to chura. John came home and shook the jar and kept on shaking it but for some reason butter wouldn't come. Finally he opened the lid and found out that he had been shaking a jar of soft yeast. When his wife came home he told her he couldn't get that butter to come and for her to try it. So she shook it a long while and then opened it to see what was the matter and made the same discovery John had. They gave up that they couldn't get butter from that jar of cream.

Miss Pearl Stevenson, daughter of John Stevenson of Bracken, arrived in Nemaha Thursday on her way home from Deadwood, South Dakota, where she has been teaching for the past year.

A most peculiar conflagration happened near Albion last week. A fishing party given by Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Scouter in honor of Miss Vera Allen of Omaha became so engrossed in their pleasant pursuit that they were utterly unaware of the fact that the carriage in which they came to the brook was burning while standing with the horses hitched to it. After awhile hunger drove the party to their base of supplies and when they arrived they found the feast in ashes, as was also their carriage, wraps, and bonnets. The faithful horses still stood hitched to the buggy tongue with their tails slightly scorched, but otherwise no worse for the fate that had overtaken the feast, the wraps and the carriage. The doctor is unable to offer any explanation as to the origin of the fire.

Making the Deserts Bloom

Prof. H. W. Campbell of Lincoln, Neb., known everywhere as the father of farming for the semi-arid region, has just gone to the Canadian northwest under the auspices of the Canadian government to lecture for three weeks telling what is being done in the western states to make farming possible in the dry country. He has recently made an extensive tour of old Mexico on the same kind of an errand, the government having large tracts of land which it is desired shall be brought under cultivation. He has also just made two trips to California on the same work, and the past winter has lectured in a half dozen states where farming the semi-arid lands has become a reality.

Such has been the success of the new movement in the west that Prof. Campbell is almost as well known in Canada and Mexico as in the states. It is reported that opportunities for this special kind of farming are many in these neighboring countries.

It is perhaps overstating the matter to advertise that the deserts are abloom with verdure, but it is true that a work of vast importance has been done in recent years in demonstrating what can be accomplished by proper methods of cultivation in growing fine crops where only small grass was known before and in doubling and trebling ordinary crops on old land, and the work is only fairly begun. It means an almost indefinite expansion of the tillable area of the west and the creation of millions of new farm homes. If the process is to continue, as now seems probable, then the so-called semi-arid west is to witness in the next decade the most marvellous development of any country in all history. The prejudices which have stood in the way of progress have been broken down by the realities of dry farming success.

In this movement for the development of the agricultural resources of the west it is significant that the business interests are standing loyally by the progressive and intelligent plainfarmers. In the adoption of best methods of tillage, in utilizing land before barren, and in making sure of good crops without regard to the amount of annual rainfall, the farmers have put a double cinch on prosperity that cannot be broken by all the croakers and the knockers.

Spokane, Wash., June 9.—Gov. Geo. L. Sheldon of Nebraska, has come into his own, having been raised to the rank of a full-fledged "booster" and prosperity promoter, and invested with the regalia of the Arabian Rite of the Mystic E-Nak-Ops and the insignia of the 150,000 Club. The ceremonies took place at a complimentary banquet by the Spokane chamber of commerce to members of the Omaha and South Omaha commercial organizations on their great northwest trade excursion, June 2 to 18.

The decorations were conferred by Dr. H. W. Allen, illustrious pesanck of the E-Nak-Ops, and C. Herbert Moore, mayor of Spokane, chairman of the City Beautiful committee of the 150,000 Club. Governor Sheldon accepted the honors, and in the course of a brief speech he referred to the neighborliness of the cities of Omaha and Spokane and the ties which bind Nebraska and Washington. He spoke of the community interests and said he voiced the sentiments of the people of the Golden Rod state when he expressed the hope that the reciprocal trade relations between the two resourceful and productive commonwealths would continue to grow. Two hundred representative business and professional men attended the banquet and the governor's remarks were loudly applauded.

He Fired the Stick

"I have fired the walking-stick I've carried over 40 years, on account of a sore that resisted every kind of treatment, until I tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve; that has healed the sore and made me a happy man," writes John Garrett, of North Mills, N. C. Guaranteed for Piles, Burns, etc., by Hill Bros. druggists. 25c.
