In the blessed era of airships no one will be able to wreck the trains by pulling up the rails.

Alabama has five former governors still living. They are Rufus W. Cobb, elected in 1878 and 1880; Thomas G. Jones, elected in 1890 and 1892; William C. Coates, elected in 1894; Joseph F. Johnson, elected in 1896 and 1898, and William D. Jelks, who succeeded to the office on the death of William F. Stamford and was elected to a full term in 1902.

It isn't necessary for a person to go to Europe nowadays to get the name of being a globe-trotter. An enterprising New Yorker will for five dollars plaster your baggage with red, white and yellow labels of European hotels, steamship lines and railroads, each label bearing a date stamped on it that will defy detection from the genuine, says the Express-Gazette. The labels are sold in lots of 40 and include different itineraries. Each set, however, is sold at the same price, and the dealer, at whose little store can be purchased European novelties, is enjoying a large and increasing patronage.

Renewed interest in the preservation of the Alhambra has manifested itself in Spain. The governor of Granada has had building experts and influential citizens meet to discuss plans for preventing the palace from going into complete decay. The structure was begun in the thirteenth century, and has passed through various vicissitudes. When the French evacuated it in 1812, they blew up some of the towers to destroy its value as a fortress, and in 1821 it was damaged by an earthquake. Queen Isabella interested herself in it in 1863, and began the work of restoring it to its original condition so far as that could be ascertained.

According to the latest returns from the Chinese census, the empire has a population of fully 400,000,000 persons; enough, certainly, to have considerable influence on the future of the world if they all become enlightened. It is the possibility of depredation that lies in these hundreds of millions of Asiatics that keeps the military students of the world awake. European civilization must be preserved; and although the prospect of an Asiatic invasion of the western countries is remote, so conservative and sane an observer as Admiral Mahan has warned Europe of the peril of neglecting to prepare against it.

LITTLE CAUSE FOR WORRY.

More or Less Glittering Bait Held Out to Cow Punchers.

Over in the Salmon river meadows country, in Idaho, ranged a wild and woolly bunch of long-haired cow punchers, whose knowledge of the world was confined mainly to trips after cattle into surrounding counties. Into this reckless but verdant community there came the smooth-tongued representative of a wild west show, who hired several riders at a high salary to do a hair-raising act, the chief feature being that they should appear to be thrown from their horses and dragged by the foot.

After they had practiced in a corral for a while one of them loosened himself and rising from the dirt, disheveled and dazed, inquired: "Say, mister, ain't this rather dangerous? We might get killed." "That's all right," chirped the show's representative cheerfully. "Your salary will go on just the same."—Lippincott's Magazine.

THE REORGANIZED NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

The new Board of Trustees of the New York Life Insurance Company, chosen by the policyholders under the Armstrong laws, has taken charge of the company's affairs and has begun the work of reorganization.

In choosing the principal officers of the company, the Board has adhered to the idea that a life insurance company should be managed by life insurance men. The new president is Darwin P. Kingsley, a college bred man of good New England stock, who has been in the company's service in a variety of capacities for a period of nearly twenty years. In the parlance of life insurance, he "began with the rate book" and has advanced step by step up to his present position.

The first vice president of the company is Thomas A. Buckner, who has served the company for more than a quarter of a century,—indeed has never had any other business connection.

Associated with these men are others long trained in the company's service, each an expert in his own department of work. Wm. E. Ingersoll, who has for many years had charge of the company's great business in Europe, is one of the second vice presidents, and will continue at the head of the company's office in Paris.

Rufus W. Weeks, who has been in the company's service for nearly forty years, ranks next to Mr. Buckner as vice president, and continuous as chief actuary of the company.

The policyholders have expressed their belief in this company in no uncertain terms. The upheaval in life insurance within the last two years has resulted in a great deal of misunderstanding and policyholders, alarmed on matters which were not very clear to them, have been disposed to give up their contracts at a heavy sacrifice. This has not been true in the New York Life to any great extent. The company had $2,000,000,000 insurance on its books when the life insurance investigation began, and while the laws of the State of New York now do not permit any company to write over $150,000,000 a year (which is about one-half the New York Life formerly did), the company's outstanding business still exceeds $2,000,000,000.

Policyholders generally will be still further reassured by this action of the Board, as it places at the head of the company to protect their interests men of thorough training and unexceptionable character.

The Mules Understood.

A story is told of Senator Knute Nelson, who spent some of his early years in a logging camp. He there discovered the necessity of certain emphatic language in order to make mules move. "All varieties" of tongues were in demand in that camp: Scandinavian, German, Italian—but none of the words used seemed to have the explosive force to adjust the tempo of the mule to the desired pace. Along came a strapping Irishman, who used some popular expletives, usually indicated in print by blank, blank, or ———. The mules moved! "There's a language all mules understand," said the Irishman—"and it's not me mother tongue, ayther."—Joe Mitchell Chapple, in National Magazine.

Good for Evil.

One Sunday a teacher was trying to illustrate to her small scholars the lesson, "Return good for evil." To make it practical she said:

"Suppose, children, one of your schoolmates should strike you, and the next day you should bring him an apple—that would be one way of returning good for evil."

To her dismay one of the little girls spoke up quickly: "Then he would strike you again to get another apple!"

SCOTTS BLUFF MEN SECURE DIS-SOLUTION OF INJUNCTION.

FARMERS WIN OUT IN COURT

Strenuously Object to Movement of Tri-State Land Company and Demand Rights in Case of Irrigation Ditch.

The temporary injunction granted by Judge Vandevanter of the federal court in the matter of the Tristate Land company against Clinton D. Baker and thirty-two other farmers and former incorporators of the Farmers' Ditch company of Scotts Bluff county was dissolved June 21 by Judge W. H. Munger of the United States district court at Omaha upon the motion of the attorneys for the farmers.

The case involves irrigation matters in the North Platte country. The defendants are among the pioneer projectors of irrigation in that section and incorporations of the Farmers' Ditch company of Scotts Bluff county, a ditch of about thirteen miles in length. The company, by its articles of incorporation, secured to the stockholders perpetual water rights. A mortgage was given to complete the work and a few years later the mortgage was foreclosed and bought in by Rogers Walker, subject to the perpetual water rights of the incorporators. Walker subsequently sold the property to the Tristate Land company subject to the original conditions of perpetual water rights to the original builders of the ditch. The Tristate Land company proceeded at once to close the ditch for the ostensible purpose of enlarging and extending it. To this proceeding the farmers strenuously objected and threatened to use force in keeping the ditch open if the Tristate Land company persisted in closing it.

The trouble threatened to become serious and the Tristate Land company made an application for a temporary injunction restraining the farmers from interfering with the work of enlargement. This application for an injunction was made before Judge Carland in the United States courts, during the illness of Judge W. H. Munger and the application was denied. Subsequently the Tristate Land people secured a temporary restraining order from Judge Willis Vandevanter and the work of enlarging the canal proceeded and the water was shut off during this period, much to the disgust and inconvenience of the farmers. The matter was set for hearing before Judge Munger at Lincoln in the case of several of the defendants, but before it came to trial the injunction was withdrawn at the request of Dilworth & Kelby, attorneys for the Tristate Land company and also the Burlington railroad, as regards several of the defendants who compromised their difficulties with the Tristate Land company.

BODY ALMOST CUT IN TWAIN.

Union Pacific Man Victim of Horrible Accident.

Daniel Scott, an employe of the Union Pacific railroad, was instantly killed and his body cut in twain by falling between the cars while engaged at work at the coal chutes at North Platte. Mr. Scott was standing on the chutes while the cars were being shifted and the presumption is that, thinking the cars were placed in proper position, he stepped upon one to begin his work, when, either for the purpose of getting slack to remove the coupling pin or to push the cars further back, he was jarred from the platform and fell head foremost across the track. The deceased was a highly respected citizen of this city and an old employe of the railroad. He was about fifty years of age and left a wife and daughter. The accident was a great shock to the community and general sorrow and sympathy is manifested.

The board of trustees of Cornell university have appointed Judge Frank Irvine dean of the college of law to succeed Dean Ernest Huffcutt, who committed suicide last month on the Hudson river. Judge Irvine is a graduate of Cornell University and the National University. He received his degree from the latter institution in 1883. At one time he was judge of the Fourth judicial district of Nebraska. Since 1901 he has been professor of practice and products at Cornell and for several years he has been active in athletics as head of the Cornell athletic association.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Gathering at Hastings Proved to Be Largest Ever Held.

The largest attended, the most interesting and most enthusiastic state Sunday school convention in the history of the middle west was held last week at Hastings. Had it not been for the fact that quite a number of those who came to attend the first two days of the convention returned to their homes early it would have been absolutely impossible to find accommodations for the later arrivals. As it was, it was found necessary for many people who had promised to furnish quarters for two persons to take double and even treble that number.

The following persons were declared elected officers of the state organization for the ensuing year:

President, George Wallace of Omaha; recording secretary, H. Lomax of Broken Bow; statistical secretary, Paul Dietrick of Red Cloud; treasurer, E. C. Babcock of Omaha; home department, Mrs. C. L. Jones of Hastings; teacher training, W. R. Jackson of University Place; temperance, Rev. Alice Palmer of Silver Creek; primary secretary, Miss Mamie Haines of Lincoln.

Nebraska City Boy Drowned.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Winton of Nebraska City received a telegram from Clayburne, Texas, stating that their son, Herbert, was missing from a Y. M. C. A. camp some twenty-five miles from that place. The parents got ready to leave to assist in the search, but received another message stating that the boy's body had been found in a river near the camp, where he had fallen in and drowned. The body was ordered shipped to Nebraska City for burial. The deceased was twenty-one years of age and had been working on a railroad near Clayburne.

Used Gasoline For Water.

A distressing accident occurred here in the Alma laundry recently. A workman named Fred Dillman was replenishing a gasoline tank, and had filled a pail for that purpose when he discovered that something was on fire in the drying room. Setting down the pail he began trying to put out the fire. A companion coming to his assistance picked up the pail of gasoline, supposing it to be water, and dashed it upon the fire. It burst into flame, completely enveloping young Dillman.

Lightning Strikes Church.

During a thunder storm lightning struck the Catholic church at Falls City and damaged the tower as well as throwing down plastering from the ceiling in a number of places. The bolt followed an electric light wire from the church to the parsonage and tore the ceiling down in the office and put out all the electric lights. Rev. Father Bex was in the room and was very much frightened, although not injured by the shock.

Water Bonds Lefated.

The election for water works bonds at Benedict resulted in the rejection of the proposition by the narrow margin of two votes, fifty-eight being cast in favor of it and thirty-two against. A two-thirds majority was necessary to carry the proposition, which called for the issuance of bonds in the sum of $6,000.

He Passed a Check.

A man giving the name of R. J. Harris, went into Henry Collamore's restaurant at Utica, and asked if he could cash a check on the Utica bank, saying he had money there. Collamore cashed the check for $18 and later found there was no money to Harris' account. Harris in the meantime proceeded to celebrate and was arrested.

Leonard Taylor Loses Foot.

C. E. Taylor, of Nebraska City, was called to Aurora, Nebr., to attend the bedside of his son, Leonard Taylor, who had his foot cut off by a train. The young man was in the service of the Burlington and had been working for them but a short time, having been previously running as an express messenger out of Lincoln.

Want Co-Operative Elevator.

The farmers in the vicinity of Cedar Creek, near Plattsmouth, have started a movement for organizing a co-operative elevator company. About sixty-five farmers are interested in the project and about $5,000 in stock has already been sold. A meeting will be held in the near future, at which time officers will be elected and an organization effected.

Want $16,000 Bonds.

The Tecumseh city council has called the special election to vote on a $16,000 bonding proposition for a new electric lighting plant for July 9.

G. C. Fuller Electrocuted.

While cleaning out a grate at the power house of the Lincoln Traction company G. C. Fuller, a young man employed about the shops was electrocuted. He was about thirty years old and had been in Lincoln only five months.

NERVOUS COLLAPSE

IS OFTEN PREVENTED BY DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

Taken When the First Warning Symptoms Are Noticed Much Needless Suffering May Be Saved.

Are you troubled with pallor, loss of spirits, waves of heat passing over the body, shortness of breath after slight exertion, a peculiar skipping of the heart beat, poor digestion, cold extremities or a feeling of weight and fullness? Do not make the mistake of thinking that these are diseases in themselves and be satisfied with temporary relief.

This is the way the nerves give warning that they are breaking down. It simply means that the blood has become impure and cannot carry enough nourishment to the nerves to keep them healthy and able to do their work.

Rest, alone, will sometimes give the needed relief. The tonic treatment by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, however, prevents the final breakdown of the nerves and the more serious diseases which follow, because the pills act directly upon the impure blood, making it rich, red and pure.

Mrs. E. O. Bradley, of 103 Parsells avenue, Rochester, N. Y., says:

"I was never very healthy and some years ago, when in a run-down condition, I suffered a nervous shock, caused by a misfortune to a friend. It was so great that I was unfitted for work."

"I was just weak, low-spirited and nervous. I could hardly walk and could not bear the least noise. My appetite was poor and I did not care for food. I couldn't sleep well and once for two weeks got scarcely an hour's sleep. I had severe headaches most of the time and pains in the back and spine."

"I was treated by two doctors, being under the care of one of them for six months. I got no relief and then decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I soon began to feel better and the improvement was general. My appetite became hearty and my sleep better. The headaches all left and also the pains in my back. A few more boxes entirely cured me and I was able to go back to work. I felt splendid and as though I had never been sick."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are invaluable in such diseases as rheumatism, after-effects of the grip and fevers, neuralgia, St. Vitus' dance and even partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $3.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.
