I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Treasurer of Nemaha county, subject to the action of the republican primary election.

J. R. MADDOX.

I hereby announce myself as a republican candidate for the nomination for County Treasurer subject to the actions of the primaries of the republican party of Nemaha county.

LESTER ARMSTRONG.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for reelection to the office of County Commissioner of the First District, subject to the decision of the republican primaries.

G. W. CUMMINGS.

TO MY FRIENDS:

I shall be a candidate before the Republican primaries for re-nomination to the office of Clerk of District Court. If you think I have made a good clerk; if you have confidence in my ability to fill the office; if you think I deserve a second term, I will be pleased to have your support at the primary and your vote at the election and shall appreciate both.

Yours truly,
G. B. BEVERIDGE.

A Good Field of Corn.

During a drive of nearly twenty-five miles east and northeast of town last Friday the finest piece of corn noticed was that belonging to Louis Lewis, five miles northeast. The corn was planted May 7th, and laid by on June 2th. On Tuesday of this week, July 9th, some of the stalks measured seven feet and five inches in height. The field was formerly in pasture, and this is but the second year in corn. May and the first of June were too cool for the rapid growth of corn and although the past month has been good and hot, still the corn is far shorter than it should be at this season of the year. The fields are most uneven, as a rule, so far as height is concerned. In general, too, the corn is far better ten miles northeast of Stella than near the town. Residents of that neighborhood say that every season their yield of corn is larger to the acre than it is on the farms near Stella.—Stella Press.

We are glad to see that the Stella Press acknowledges that around Nemaha lies the very best farm land. No better can be found anywhere. And Nemaha and vicinity have the best class of citizens, too. For all of which we give thanks.

The home of Mrs. Allie Lewis, five miles north of Shubert, is so pretty and well kept that it attracts much attention from the passer-by or visitor. The farm consists of 160 acres, and on it are two good houses but a few rods apart. Mrs. Lewis and her three sons occupy the larger house, which was built five years ago and consists of ten rooms. A view can be had from the house of the Missouri river, which is only a mile and a quarter distant. W. J. Weddle, a brother of Mrs. Lewis, farms the place in partnership for her.—Stella Press.

Burned to Death.

Mrs. Lizzie Gillespie, wife of John Gillespie was burned to death at their home in Auburn Monday night. They had moved from a farm to town that day, getting the household goods unloaded about 9 o'clock. Mr. Gillespie started a fire and his wife put some meat on to fry for supper. The fire died down and she took the can of coal oil and poured some on the fire. Immediately there was an explosion and the burning oil was thrown over the woman and everything in the room. She ran screaming out of the front door, a mass of flames. Mr. Gillespie had stepped out of the back door. He ran in, saw the little babe on the couch, its clothing on fire, caught it up and brushed the fire out with his hands as he ran, laid it on the grass in the yard and ran after his wife. He caught her and threw a comfort over her but this did not extinguish the flames, and her clothing were all burned from her body. Dr. Lorange, who was brought as soon as possible, told the friends there was no hope. She was made as easy as possible, living until 2:35 a. m. Tuesday. She was fully conscious until the last.

The deceased was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Morton and formerly lived in Nemaha. The deceased was aged 19 years, 5 months and 12 days. She leaves a husband and a little babe only a few months old.

The body was brought to Nemaha Wednesday and short services, conducted by Rev. J. W. Sapp, were held at the cemetery at 11 o'clock.

Warren Whitten got one finger badly mashed in a spring trip cultivator Thursday of last week. He was working with the cultivator in the field, when the horses started forward, the cultivator caught against a root or other obstruction, causing it to fly back and catch one finger. It held it so fast Mr. Whitten couldn't get it out, and he couldn't make any one hear him call. Finally he got the cultivator against a stump and started the horses forward, but the cultivator tipped over, and of course Warren went with it. He managed to get the cultivator straightened up, and the second trial was successful. He has a very sore finger.

Want Lewis and Clark Holiday

At the regular meeting of the Douglas County association of Nebraska pioneers, held yesterday in the public library, a resolution was adopted, to bring before the next legislature the matter of declaring June 27 a legal holiday in this state, this being the date on which the Lewis and Clark expedition reached the site on which Omaha now is located.—Omaha News.

A Wonderful Happening

Port Byron, N. Y., has witnessed one of the most remarkable cases of healing ever recorded. Amos F. King, of that place says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured a sore on my leg with which I had suffered over 80 years. I am now eighty-five." Guaranteed to cure all sores, by Hill Bros. Druggists. 50c.

Wm. Aue was the victim of an accident last Saturday evening while riding in a buggy on the street near the court house. His horse became frightened at an automobile which was passing and bid fair to give him plenty of trouble. Mr. Aue attempted to get from the buggy and as he was between the wheels the horse gave a lunge forward, and the rear wheel struck him on the back, hitting him exactly on a malignant tumor from which he has been suffering for some time.

Mr. Aue was not in a strong condition, owing to his recent illness and the extreme agony caused by the blow rendered him unable to get to his home alone. Dr. Boal came to his assistance and helped him to his home. Before this happened he had been confined to the house for several days, and this accident once more confined him to his bed. His condition is very critical, but it is hoped that the recent injury will not prove serious.—Herald.

High Priced Land.

A Table Rock, Neb., correspondent says: Rev. Peter Van Fleet, who recently purchased what is known as the "Blacklaw Farm," has just sold to the Burlington people therefrom a strip of twelve acres of land, for which the elder was paid the snug sum of $2,400—precisely $200 per acre. The land in question is about half a mile from the depot, and one and one-half miles from the public square. The Burlington people are again getting ready to burn ballast, and did not have quite room enough. This was the only available tract to be had. Preparations are about completed and the work will begin in the near future.

Some trouble has been caused in the Champion neighborhood recently by an undue amount of talk, probably, and it culminated Saturday in the arrest of James L. Knight, who was charged by Jas. A. Stephenson with being insane. The two had trouble Saturday forenoon. Mr. Knight was taken to Auburn and on Monday had his trial. A number of the neighbors were called as witnesses. Mr. Knight was pronounced sane, and released. It is to be hoped the trouble is now over with, and that peace and good will will prevail hereafter.

A new barn will be completed this week at the farm of Robert Jones, several miles northeast of town. The dimensions are 32x42 with 16 foot posts. The barn contains room for 1,200 bushels of grain, thirty-five tons of hay, and stall room for nine head of horses. The barn is well constructed and right up-to-date in conveniences. F. M. Hacker was the carpenter.—Stella Press.

A Brownville correspondent to the Auburn Herald complains that Auburn parties who have visited Brownville to take advantage of her beautiful scenery have acted very ungentlemanly.

Home-Made Saratoga Chips

"Home-made Saratoga Chips are much more of a rarity than they should be," says Fannie Merritt Farmer in the August Woman's Home Companion. "If one owns a potato slicer, which is not an expensive utensil, they are not difficult to prepare. They are always an acceptable accompaniment to fried fish, but perhaps are never more happily in evidence than when served as one of the accessories of a picnic luncheon. Wash and pare medium-sized potatoes. Slice thin, using a vegetable slicer made for the purpose, into a bowl of cold water, and let stand one and one-half hours, changing the water twice. Drain, plunge into a kettle of boiling water, and let boil one minute. Drain again, cover with cold water, and let stand five minutes. Take from the water, and dry between towels. Fry in deep fat until delicately browned, keeping in motion with a skimmer throughout the cooking. Remove with a skimmer to a pan lined with brown paper (which will absorb the superfluous fat), and sprinkle with salt. Always drain fried potatoes on brown paper, for fried food if properly cooked and properly drained seldom absorbs enough fat to be indigestible to adults."

At a special meeting of the city council of Auburn Saturday morning a license to sell liquors was granted to Floyd Osenbaugh of Auburn. The remonstrators did not make any objections to the granting of this license, as they have previously done to every request for license that has come up with the exception of those of Til Bailey and H. L. Workman. These were the only two that had saloons in the town up to about a month ago, when another was opened and the one granted Saturday will give Auburn four saloons, out of twelve petitions which were filed for license.

Long Live The King!

is the popular cry throughout European countries, while in America, the cry of the present day is "Long live Dr. King's New Discovery, King of Throat and Lung Remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Ryder Paine, Truro, Mass., says: "It never fails to give immediate relief and to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Paine's opinion is shared by a majority of the inhabitants of this country. New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throats after all other remedies have failed; for coughs and colds it's the only sure cure. Guaranteed by Hill Bros. Druggists. 50c and $1.00 trial bottle free.

After an illness of four weeks Frank Copeland succumbed to the inevitable on Friday, July 12, 1907, at his home on the William Daniels place in London precinct, aged 47 years, 2 months and 24 days. He leaves a wife to whom he was married in February 1906, and five daughters by his first wife survive him. The funeral was held on Sunday and the remains were laid to rest in Sheridan cemetery.—Granger.

"There is nothing that is more likely to disappoint than a mail-order wife or husband," says the Fremont Tribune. "Every few days we hear of some Nebraskan being lured into a foolish deal of that kind and getting pinched or cinched. Love at best, they say, is blind, but when it works at long range it is likely also to be deaf and dumb and nutty."

The Charming Woman

is not necessarily one of perfect form and features. Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artist's model, possesses those rare qualities that all the world admires: neatness, clear eyes, clean smooth skin and that sprightliness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive, not even to herself. Electric Bitters restore weak women, give strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, beautiful complexion. Guaranteed at Hill Bros. Druggists. 50c.
