

TO CLEAN PILLOW COVERS.

By This Method Tinted Ones Will Not Be Harmed.

Soiled sofa pillow covers are among the most disgusting of house furnishings.

They certainly cannot be either decorative or useful.

It is a simple matter to do up washable sofa pillow tops, but one hesitates before attempting to clean the tinted ones.

However, they may be done up several times if the following method is used: Make a suds of tepid, not hot, water, and wash the cover rapidly by squeezing in the hands.

Rinse in tepid water and shake in the air until partly dry.

Place face down on a pad, cover with a thin, smooth piece of cotton cloth, and iron rapidly with a hot iron until perfectly dry.

If there are no grease spots or stains it may be dry-cleaned by ripping it apart, placing it right side up on a board, fastening it with thumb screws, and rubbing the surface with kneaded rubber until the cover is perfectly clean.

When cleaning the embroidery be very careful to move the rubber in the same direction as the stitches. A five-cent rubber will be large enough.

ONE WAY TO MEND CURTAINS.

Treatment That Will Make Them Appear Like New.

These curtains were of plain net with border on one side and bottom, and this one pair had broken in holes through the border for about a foot above the window sill, says a writer in the Chicago Tribune. I cut the border off clear across the bottom, carefully following the curves in the design, then, noticing the figure at the edge of the curtain, raised the border till it overlapped a corresponding figure in the side border, which, in this case, occurred at such a distance as to remove all the worn part. Then, with curtain still hanging at the window to insure proper adjustment, fasten border across with pins, remove from curtain pole, lay on flat surface, and baste carefully.

Stitch twice on machine, having tension loose enough not to draw the net, and using care in turning corners, raising the presser foot often. Remove and cut away the old part underneath, and press thoroughly. I then let down the extra length which had been turned over at the top and rehanging them and the mending does not show at all. My curtains are like new and still hang within three inches of the floor.

It is reported that a man in Denver has married his mother-in-law. This may seem strange, but Edgar Allen Poe, who was somewhat hypercritical, once wrote a sonnet eulogizing his wife's mother. The opinion of Mrs. Gilson, of Champaign, Ill., that the substitution of the Teddy bear for the doll will not mean a "diminution of the instincts of maternity," carries with it the weight of her position as president of the National Congress of Mothers. An additional argument for the substitution of bears is that it may help the young idea to shoot, beginning at the earliest possible period.

By way of variety, why not sing the praises of the peaceful fleets that plow the waters of the great lakes? asks the Detroit Free Press. They outnumber far the armored and towered crafts of destruction. They build and do not tear down. They symbolize life, prosperity and progress; not death or suffering. There is a glorious and bloodless mission, contributing ever to the strength and renown of the country.

Two Paris physicians are reported to have demonstrated that radium will remove birthmarks. The method is very simple—the application of a plain surface covered with a varnish containing radium—and it is said to be painless as well as radical in its removal of all trace of the marks, without any disfigurement. If the report is correct it will cause radium to be recognized as a boon to the human race by a number of persons who heretofore have taken very little interest in it.

CLEWS DEFENDS ROOSEVELT

The President Had no Intention of Menacing Prosperity.

Facts Revealed By Government Prosecutions Justify His Actions in Turning on the Light.

New Haven, Conn.—The Economic club, an organization of business and professional men, listened Thursday night to a discussion of the question "Is the Policy of President Roosevelt Against Capitalism?" by Henry Clews of New York and John W. Alling, an attorney of New Haven.

Mr. Alling attacked the policy of the president in strong terms, particularly with reference to the packing industry, the president's ruling on the Standard Oil company and the railroad rate question.

Mr. Clews, in his defense of the president's acts, was equally earnest and declared that whatever President Roosevelt had done he had done to promote the public good, whether his speeches have helped to cause distrust or not. "I contend," said he, "that he had no intention of menacing the prosperity of the country in denouncing and instigating the prosecution of law-breaking railway corporations and industrial trusts. While he was instrumental in turning on the light he was not responsible for the abuse of that power which the light revealed and it is the revelation of graft and illegal methods on the part of certain railway and other corporations, through the acts of their responsible managers and controlling capitalists that has undermined public confidence in many of them. The fact that in nearly every instance of government prosecution the guilt of the party accused has been proved on their trial justifies President Roosevelt in his action."

TO REDUCE KANSAS RATES.

Complaint Against Existing Freight Tariffs Filed With State Railroad Commissioners.

Topeka, Kan.—A formal complaint against the existing freight rates in Kansas was filed Wednesday with the state board of railroad commissioners by G. F. Grattan, the board's attorney. Accompanying the complaint was a schedule of rates, which employees of the board have been busy preparing for some time. These rates are based on the distance tariff plan and provide for a reduction of about 18 to 20 per cent. They are intended to help the interior jobbers.

All the leading roads in the state are made parties to the suit. The present rates are alleged to be unreasonable and unjust and the proposed schedule is alleged to correct them. Governor Hoch is known to be in favor of a freight rate reduction and the move has his approval.

Filson, which stated that the proclamation was a public necessity and prevented a serious condition of affairs.

Friday's Cabinet Meeting.

Washington. — President Roosevelt was in consultation with his cabinet three hours Friday. His Wife—I see by the paper that at a wedding in Oklahoma last week the man promised to obey instead of the woman. I wonder how the marriage will turn out?

Her Husband—Oh, about like any other marriage, I suppose. He probably didn't mean it any more than a woman does when she says it.—Chicago Daily News.

Taken At His Word.

Master Walter, aged 5, had eaten the soft portions of his toast at breakfast, and piled the crust on his plate. "When I was a little boy," remarked his father, who sat opposite him, "I always ate the crusts of my toast."
"Did you like them?" inquired his offspring, cheerfully.

"Yes," replied the parent.
"You may have these," said Master Walter, pushing his plate across the table.—Harpers' Weekly.

A Value.

"Nonsense," said the high financier, "we did not sell a worthless franchise."
"But such is current report," ventured the interviewer.

The high financier made a gesture of impatience. "Young man," he returned, severely, "if you got hold of any old franchise that you could unload for two millions, would you regard it as worthless?"
No reply being possible to this, none was made.

HER "BEST FRIEND."

A Woman Thus Speaks of Postum.
We usually consider our best friends those who treat us best.

Some persons think coffee a real friend, but watch it carefully awhile and observe that it is one of the meanest of all enemies for it stabs one while professing friendship.

Coffee contains a poisonous drug—caffeine—which injures the delicate nervous system and frequently sets up disease in one or more organs of the body, if its use is persisted in.

"I had heart palpitation and nervousness for four years and the doctor told me the trouble was caused by coffee. He advised me to leave it off, but I thought I could not," writes a Wis. lady.

"On the advice of a friend I tried Postum Food Coffee and it so satisfied me that I did not care for coffee after a few days' trial of Postum.

"As weeks went by and I continued to use Postum my weight increased from 98 to 118 pounds, and the heart trouble left me. I have used it a year now, and am stronger than I ever was. I can hustle up stairs without any heart palpitation, and I am cured of nervousness.

"My children are very fond of Postum and it agrees with them. My sister liked it when she drank it at my house, but not when she made it at her own home. Now she has learned to make it right, boil it according to directions, and has become very fond of it. You may use my name if you wish, as I am not ashamed of praising my best friend—Postum."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."
