Bravery blackens the eyes of bad luck.

Dogged endurance defeats even despair.

This is the time for every wise wife to husband her resources.

It is never hard times to the man who finds pearls in his oyster stew.

The big battleships are to have have bigger battleships to smite 'em.

You never hear of a divorce in a family where the shelves are loaded with preserves and pickles.

"Occasional separations are good for married couples," says a woman writer. Good or unavoidable?

A descendant of an Iroquois chief made a million out of the market. His specialty doubtless is scalping.

Pianists are insuring their hands and dancers their feet. There is never any telling what insurance will do next.

The fact that butter is to be advanced to 50 cents a pound by the trust is likely to cow the economical housewife.

Gladys Vanderbilt's fiance is being criticised for his extreme economy. This is a very unusual fault in a foreign husband.

A Chinaman in New York kissed a white woman in public. Then he took his cue and departed before the mob could get at him.

While the cost of living may go down, the weary householder is afraid it will take a distressingly long time to pass a given point.

The "bigger" the men in the crime business, the more essential it is that they be run in and locked up, the same as the smaller fry.

The sultan is putting up telephones in Turkey, but it is safe to say that he will do all of his talking to the harem in the good old way.

Lillian Russell says that divorce is a blessing, but she would probably feel irritated if her ex-husbands should publicly express the same opinion.

After a little while the possibility of war may become so remote that there will be no need of repeating the assurances that there will be no war.

An Englishman is going to seek the south pole in an automobile, possibly in an effort to emulate the glorious achievements of Mr. Wellman at the north pole.

The oldest newspaper in China, and the oldest also in the world, is to be modernized. This means the breaking down of the strongest Chinese wall ever erected.

The popularity of bridge in Chicago was never more strikingly illustrated than by the fact that 56,349 wagons crossed eleven bridges in eight hours the other day.

Hazers were assessed $14,000 damages by a merry court at Kewanee, Ill., which entered right into the spirit of the fun. Making hazing come high is the only way to break some people of the habit.

That Cincinnati man who quit when he had $1,000,000 might find others to follow his example provided they had the money. Many of our millionaires are thankful if they have 30 or 40 cents in loose change after settling up their weekly accounts.

Another Aurora man is going to see if he can sustain life on sauerkraut. That is no experiment. Not only will the man who feasts exclusively on that delicacy live and wax fat, but he will also begin to think in long, involved sentences interspread with compound and triple-expansion words.

Laundry work at home would be much more satisfactory if the right Starch were used. In order to get the desired stiffness, it is usually necessary to use so much starch that the beauty and fineness of the fabric is hidden behind a paste of varying thickness, which not only destroys the appearance, but also affects the wearing quality of the goods. This trouble can be entirely overcome by using Defiance Starch, as it can be applied much more thinly because of its great strength than other makes.

"Lost your position?" queried the kind citizen, handing over a dime.

"No," replied the other, pocketing the coin, "but I'm scared to death of work."

With a smooth iron and Defiance Starch, you can launder your shirt-waist just as well at home as the steam laundry can; it will have the proper stiffness and finish, there will be less wear and tear of the goods, and it will be a positive pleasure to use a Starch that does not stick to the iron.
