of Mrs. George Yackley Monday morning.

A splendid program has been arranged for the county Sunday school association to be held at Brock Wednesday and Thursday of next week. All Sunday school workers are invited to be present.

John Stephenson had his nose badly mashed Saturday and had to get Dr. Frazier to straighten it out. He was coming out of the barn when his toe caught and he fell forward striking his nose on a box. It rather spoiled his good looks for a few days.

Mrs. John H. Knapp, who has been very sick, is getting some better.

Mrs. Shallenberger, living near Humboldt, drove over to Nemaha Wednesday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Knapp. She drove a team of Shetland ponies to a road wagon. The team weighs only 650 pounds. They attracted attention all along the route, especially from the children.

A "Sane" Hallowe'en

The village board of trustees appointed Von Farson and Josh Matney special police for Saturday night, and there was nothing doing by the boys. This was the proper thing to do, and those who have had considerable trouble in the past in righting out-houses, replacing sidewalks, hunting up misplaced property, etc., feel under obligations to the trustees, although they were only doing their duty.

Election in Nemaha.

There was more talk in Nemaha on the county option question than on national politics. The following is the vote in detail. The first name is the republican candidate, the second the democratic and the third prohibition:

Miss Ruth Montgomery went to Syracuse Saturday to visit friends and be with her mother, Mrs. L. Morrison, who is receiving medical treatment at that place.

with a pair of Red Cross shoes.
Earle Gilbert carries a fine line

We believe the best arranged and most convenient house we have ever been in is the cottage erected by C. H. Kindig. There are six rooms and in addition a bath room, pantry, closets, a big basement well lighted, and two large mantels, the back porch being enclosed with screen wire.
The front porch extends on three sides of the parlor, in a circular form. In the basement is a small room made cyclone proof.
The carpenters work is not excelled by any work in the country. The house was planned by Mr. and Mrs. Kindig with a view to making a comfortable and convenient home, and they certainly succeeded in their plans.
The house completed will cost about $2,300, but this does not include much work done by Mr.
Kindig. Only the very best material has been used throughout.

NEMAHA.

Mrs. Gillan, wife of ex-Mayor Gillan, died at her home in Auburn Friday, after an illness of several months. She had lived in Auburn nearly a quarter of a century.

Rev. John Morrison, father of Rev. Leander Morrison of Nemaha, died at 2:45 Thursday afternoon, at the home of a daughter in Denver, where he has been living. His remains were brought to Smith Center, Kas., for burial, the funeral taking place Sunday. Rev. L. Morrison went to Smith Center last Saturday to attend the funeral.
The deceased was 80 years old last Christmas. Until compelled by the infirmities of age to retire he was a minister in the United Brethren church, and was instrumental in building twenty-two churches and making a net gain in membership of at least 1800 members during his years of service.

Freak Election Bets.

Nemaha had her share of freak election bets.

Curt Brown guessed wrong on the result in Nebraska, and therefor will wheel Dr. Frazier from the Quiller store building to the livery barn and back.

Dr. Frazier let his enthusiasm for Bryan bias his judgment on the national election and will therefore wheel Hank Barker over the same road as above.

George Hartwig is to whee Frank Titus from the postoffice to the corner of the Titus farm, three-quarters of a mile west, and return. George was too sure Bryan would be elected.

Jimmy Stephenson was so sure that Taff would carry Nebraska that he offered to stand on his head in front of the postoffice if the result was otherwise, and will not back out.

All these bets are to be paid Saturday afternoon.
