Dolan of Indianola, accompanied by a friend, E. Peterman, of Exeter, this state, took dinner at the Dining Hall, on Sunday. The pay car came up on Monday evening and paid out the usual amount of wealth, consequently money has been easy for a few days. Misses Mabel and Edna Meserve entertained a number of their friends on Saturday evening last. The party was highly enjoyed by all present. The Roman Rye dramatic troupe passed through on No. 39, Sunday. They had to leave a car of scenery here until repairs could be made to the car. W. C. LaTourrette has rented the handsome new residence of W. H. Stodert on Madison street, and will go to housekeeping when his goods arrive.

S. W. Green and wife of Akron, Col., are in the city, the guests of the B. & M. Dining Hall. Mrs. Green is the sister of Mrs. Sanders. J. P. Israel comes to the front with his new grocery store in good shape this week. Read his advertisement appearing in another place in this issue. Engineer Archibald has moved into his pretty and convenient cottage on the hill, and is about as comfortably fixed as any man ought to want to be. The Hastings Gazette-Journal says that the beautiful vision of loveliness whom we mentioned in our last issue was a Hastings girl on her way to Denver. Mr. John Farley has erected a neat little brick smoke house in the rear of his meat market to supply the place of the frame one that burned, some weeks since. Sol Smith, the efficient engineer who pulls the throttle on No. 86, returned from a pleasant visit to his old home in York state on Saturday. The "boys" were all glad to see him back. The Bloomington Guard changes hands. R. W. Montgomery retires, and is succeeded by T. J. Pickett, a gentleman who had considerable experience in newspaper work at Lincoln. The 47 cattle company has incorporated, with J. H. Drinkwater, President, S. P. Lyon, Vice President, and I. A. Yale, Secretary and Treasurer. They have ranches in Red Willow and Hitchcock counties. At the recent meeting of the county commissioners, the petition of Joseph Braun for license to sell liquors in McCook, was continued to the next meeting, and the petitioner given permission to file a corrected bond. Mrs. And. J. Willey expects to start this morning, for her home in Iowa. The doctor has enjoyed the visit of his wife very much, and regrets that circumstances are such that she cannot remain to spend the winter with him. Dennis McKillip and Annie S. Kendall proved up on their homesteads, on Monday. Both are to be congratulated on becoming absolute owners of one hundred and sixty acres of Nebraska soil. It will be worth a fortune to them in time. Miss Jessie Johnson is lamenting the untimely disease of her dog, Ponto, who, it seems, indulged in poison that had been placed within his reach, and quietly laid down on Thursday night and died. "The good die young." The Ladies' Parlor at the B. & M. Dining Hall has been very handsomely and tastily papered. Mr. Sanders selected the paper in Lincoln, and it is a credit to his taste. It was hung by Will Warren, and the work shows that he is quite an efficient paper hanger. Rev. Stuart Crockett preached at the church, on Sunday morning, to a large audience. He announced that he would hereafter hold Episcopal services on one Sunday of each month, and probably more frequently. Due notice of his next service will be given in the TRIBUNE. The additional room made by the removal of Byron's jewelry establishment, has given Dr. Green an opportunity to arrange his line of drugs to much better advantage. The tasty manner in which his stock has been arranged, reflects credit upon himself and his assistant, Mr. Kelley. We received, last week, a copy of "Copp's U. S. Salary and Civil Service Rules," a book containing 160 pages of solid information, prepared by H. N. Copp, a lawyer of Washington, D. C. All the government salaries are given from President Arthur's $50,000 to postmasters with $500, officials of the Treasury, Interior, War and Navy Department, Custom Houses, post offices, and fully 20,000 federal offices arranged by stations and territories. Also specimen examination questions for admittance to the civil service throughout the country. The book contains a great deal of interesting information, and can be purchased for 35 cents. Address, H. N. Copp, Washington, D. C.

Rogers has received a stock of overcoats that exceeds anything ever brought into the valley. They range in price from $3 up to the finest, and the man who goes around shaking with cold when he can get one of these good, warm coats at a price so low that all can buy, had better go back east and give up the ghost, probably then he will have no use for one. The corner stone of Grace Episcopal church at Red Cloud was laid, a week ago last Tuesday under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge of that city, and pursuant to the forms prescribed by the Episcopal service. The services were conducted by Rev. Stuart Crockett and were witnessed by a large concourse of people. The edifice will be of Gothic design, and cost about $1,500. Ground was broken on Monday morning for the new building 24x90 feet, which C. H. Rogers is going to build on Main street, opposite the post office. Buildings of the size of the one which Mr. Rogers proposes to build are credited to a new town as well as evidences of prosperity, and we are glad to see that the business of Mr. Rogers is such as to justify him in his new venture. The burglars who cracked Hayden & McCartney's safe made a better haul than was first supposed. In addition to the fifty dollars belonging to the firm, they captured three hundred and fifty belonging to Tom McCartney individually. It seems that just before Mr. McCartney started for St. Louis, he put three hundred and fifty dollars in a pocket book, and locked it up in a private department in the safe. He said nothing about it to the boys in the store, and the first intimation of it they had was when he returned home Thursday morning. Train No. 1 on the B. & M. ran over a man and injured him so that he died almost instantly, shortly after leaving Lincoln on Sunday afternoon. The man and a woman were walking on the road, and were engaged in some kind of an altercation. The train coming around a curve at a rapid speed, the man was unable to get out of the way, and the engineer could not stop the train. The woman barely escaped by stepping to the side. The man was supposed to have been under the influence of liquor, as a bottle of it was found in his pocket afterwards. Frank Jeffreys, yard master of the B. & M. railroad at McCook, was married to Miss Annie Sagle of Culbertson on Sunday night. The many friends of the happy pair assembled at the Churchill House after the ceremony, and showed their appreciation of the occasion, and expressed their congratulations, in a manner that neither the bridal couple, nor the neighbors, will ever forget. The TRIBUNE can not make as much noise as did the friends on that evening, but its wishes for the happiness and prosperity of Mr. and Mrs. Jeffreys are just as warm. We learn that a new town on the line of the B. & M. cut-off has been laid out in Phelps County. It is eight and one-half miles northwest of Sacramento, and about the same distance southeast of Phelps Centre. Capt. Phillips, representing the Land Company, visited both of these towns, inviting the people of each to move to the new town, which is to be called Holdredge, after the Superintendent of the B. & M. R. R. and offered as an inducement that each owner of a business lot, or residence lot in their present location would be given a business lot or residence lot in this new town, as the case might be. The offer was accepted by a great many business men of both places, and before very long the probability is that both towns will be on wheels moving toward the new location. It is said that great excitement exists over the choice in selection of lots, and that many are selling at high figures.

We learn of a case of most cruel and heartless desertion in our city, in which a former railroad man deserts his wife, and in company with another woman, goes way out west, making no provisions for the poor woman and young children whom he leaves behind. Words are too weak to express our condemnation of this cowardly act, and no punishment would be too great for the scoundrel. As the wife desires to shield the husband by denying the reports, we suppress the names. To the honor of the railroad boys in our city, it can be said that in a very few hours, on Tuesday, they raised a purse of nearly $50, and sent it to the unfortunate woman to relieve her present destitution. We learn from the Hastings Gazette-Journal that an attempt was made to crack the safe of the U. P. railroad in that city on Sunday night. The burglars, it is supposed, were three in number, and they tried to get into the safe by cutting it open on the side with an axe and a sharp pick. They got through the outside plate and had scraped away the fire proof composition, when for some unknown reason they desisted from further work. The manner in which they attempted to get into the safe, and the tools used were the same as when a more effectual attempt was made on Hayden & McCartney's, and Byron's safes in McCook, and it is not improbable that the same parties participated in both jobs. If the same, they will be picked up one of these frosty nights, and justice meted out to them in western style. Success in Life. Major R. H. Criswell of Indianola, lectured on the above named subject at the Band Hall, on Wednesday evening. The lecture was full of good points, and deep historical research, and carried the close attention of the audience from the opening until the close. We are sorry that a larger number of our people could not have heard the lecture, for it was one that was not only entertaining and instructive, but one that must also have a good, moral effect upon its auditors. While the attendance was not large, owing to the inclemency of the weather without doubt, the Major can congratulate himself that the audience was FAIR and select. Fleeced by a Sharper. On Tuesday morning at Plattsmouth Junction, a farmer, accompanied by his family, who was on his way to Indianola, was approached by a stranger and fleeced out of $500 by the same old story, about a consignment of goods by freight having to be paid in advance, and offering the farmer a bond for $1000 as security. A false baggage agent who was called in vouched for the validity of the bond. After the aforesaid farmer has been in the wide-awake west awhile he won't be gulled so easily. WATER. All persons wishing water put in their houses, will please notify W. F. Wallace at Citizen's Bank, immediately. Dissolution of Partnership. The partnership heretofore existing between Drs. Willey & Johnson, in the drug business and the practice of medicine, is this day dissolved by mutual consent. The B. & M. Pharmacy will be conducted by Willey & Co., at the old stand. The books of the old firm will be settled by Dr. L. L. Johnson. A. J. WILLEY. Oct. 13, 1883. L. L. JOHNSON. NOTICE. All monies due the TRIBUNE for subscription come by the terms of the sale to me. Parties who know themselves to be in arrears for subscription will be warmly received at any time, if they come cash in hand. A. B. COPFROTH, Publisher. Wanted, Stock to Winter. HEART DISEASE!
CURED BY
Dr. Rush's Regulator,
FOR HEART TROUBLES.
Wm. G. Osceola, the well-known safe manufacturer of Buffalo, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, New York, and Atlanta, Ga., says:
OFFICE OF OSCEOLA'S IMPROVED SAFES,
17 S. Broad St. N. Y.
ATLANTA, Ga., October 17th, 1883.
Dr. Rush's Medical Association:
DEAR DOCTORS:—The large bottles of "Dr. Rush's Regulator" I ordered were received by express last week. I have taken nearly one bottle and am thoroughly satisfied with the result. For over ten years I have been troubled with sharp pain in my heart. My physician, upon examination, pronounced it enlargement of the heart and was unable to give me any relief. The trouble grew worse until I had become convinced that I could not be cured. While in New York City, last week, I called upon one of the most prominent physicians there, who examined me for an examination and then recommended "Dr. Rush's Regulator." Knowing you to be a member of the Medical Association, and not a patent medicine vender, I ordered the three bottles. I have not been troubled since I commenced taking it, but shall continue to take the entire three bottles, as you obtain a permanent cure. You have my sincere thanks.
I am, gentlemen, very respectfully,
Wm. G. OSCEOLA.
