It is rather singular that immediately following the withdrawal of Minister in McCook assessed, Mr. Hocknell ap-Sargent from Germany, Bismarck has concluded to step down from the Prussian ministry, with the consent of Kaiser Wilhelm. CONGRESS has made another appropriation of three hundred thousand dollars to relieve the sufferers by the flood on the lower Mississippi. Of course there are many good arguments in favor of federal relief in great and sudden calamities like those caused by floods And yet it is difficult to banish the idea that the precedents now being set in this matter will eventually establish an annual expenditure of a large sum of money for these purposes. When the flood door is once open there will be no stopping it, and there will be high water and distress every blessed year if not twice a year and the member from the flooded district will not be considered half a man if he fails to get as big an appropriation through as was given in the Ohio and the lower Mississippi cases.
