RESCUING THE DEAD.

Entrance Gained to the Mine Where the Fatal Explosion Occurred.

After everything was got in readiness at Pocahontas on the 11th, the police placed a guard at the main entrance to the mine in order to keep back the crowd, which was being attracted by a notice posted that bodies were claimed.

The bodies, as recovered, were placed in boxes on the inside of the mine and several were brought out together on the poles. A number of miners who were well acquainted with the victims were placed at the entrance for the purpose of identifying the bodies.

Some of the bodies were horribly mangled, and some heads were blown off. Others had their arms and legs torn from the socket, while some had their entrails torn out entirely.

A thrill of horror passed through the crowd as the rescuing party brought out charred and disfigured remains of a miner, with a dinner bucket clasped in his hand, probably just partaking of his midnight meal when the explosion hurried him into eternity.

At 3:30 o'clock it was announced that no more bodies would be removed until 10 o'clock next morning. The remainder of the day was occupied in getting out the carcasses of mules, which being too heavy to drag, had to be quartered and hauled out.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

MONDAY, April 7.—After the transaction of unimportant business the senate resumed consideration of the education bill.

Resolved, That the committee on post-offices and post-roads be and is authorized to take the place of the bill referred to that committee intended to provide for the settlement of postmasters' salaries under the act of March 2, 1883.

Mr. Platt introduced, by request, a bill for the better protection of citizens in their rights and property and to punish infringers of patents.

The senate resumed consideration of the naval appropriation bill.

Mr. Eaton, from the committee on laws relating to the electing of president and vice-president, reported a substitute bill on that subject, with an amendment in the nature of a substitute.

The house then went into committee of the whole.

Mr. Eliot reported back the senate bill authorizing the secretary of the navy to offer a reward of $25,000 for rescuing or ascertaining the fate of the Greely expedition.

Mr. Henry reported a bill for the forfeiture of the Northern Pacific grant. Placed on the house calendar.

The house went into committee of the whole on the pension appropriation.

Appropriations for the current year aggregated $126,000,000, of which only $25,678,000 were expended the first half of the year.

After debate and without action the committee rose and the house took a recess until evening, when five pension bills were passed.

SATURDAY, April 15.—The senate was not in session.

Bills were introduced: By Mr. Boland, regulating appeals from the supreme courts of territories. Placed on the house calendar.

By Mr. Green, for the relief of fruit growers and encourage cultivation of fruit.

By Mr. Kleiner.—To restrict the use of distilled spirits to art and manufacture.

By Mr. Murphy.—For acceptance by the United States of the grant of the Illinois and Michigan canal. House calendar.

The house proceeded with consideration of the resolutions expressive of regret at the death of the late Thomas H. Henderson of Alabama.

MORMONISM IN IDAHO. Residents of Idaho are very much alarmed over the spread of Mormonism in that territory.

Butler for President. Intimate friends of Butler say that before the meeting of the national democratic convention the general will already be elected.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE. The house committee on judiciary adopted Representative Maybury's adverse report on the joint resolution, proposing a constitutional amendment to give women the right of suffrage.

LAND GRANT FORFEITURES. The house committee on public lands today adopted the report proposed by Mr. Bland in a bill to forfeit the portion of the land grant of the Northern Pacific railway.

INSPECTION OF MEATS. The senate committee on foreign relations agree to report favorably certain of the amendments to the bill to provide for inspection of meats for exportation.

Mr. Hopkins, (Pa.), offered the following preamble and resolution, which was referred to the committee on commerce:

WHEREAS, It is charged that the flesh of animals so treated, including that of dead and dying, is sold to the people and cannot, when dressed, be distinguished from sound meats and is the source of many and various diseases;

WHEREAS, It appears by report of the committee on agriculture to this house, Jan. 21, 1876, that the loss by shrinkage alone in the weight of animals caused by this system of transporting live stock by railroad companies engaged in interstate commerce is barbarous and destructive;

PROTECTION OF RAILWAY EMPLOYEES.

The bill introduced by Senator Bowen provides for protection of employees of railroad corporations; that railroad companies shall be compelled, after the 1st of September, 1884, to have all new freight cars purchased or built so equipped as to admit their being coupled without it being necessary for the employe to go between them for that purpose, and in making repairs upon old cars to furnish them with similar equipments; also, that when any employe of such railway company may sustain personal and disabling injury by reason of going between freight cars for the purpose of coupling or uncoupling the same, where both or either one of said cars are in use, the company using such car shall forfeit to the employe or his heirs, if he should die, $500 as a penalty, this penalty being not to the recovery of any damages for such injury, which a competent court may award.

BOUNTY AND BACK PAY. Representative Warner reported from the committee on pensions the back pay and bounty bill, providing that every person as specified in the pension law, who served for a period of three months or more, who has an honorable discharge, and who is not receiving a greater pension than that provided by the bill, and who is now disabled by reason of any wound, injury or disease which there is reason to believe originated in the service, shall be entitled to receive a pension during the continuance of the disability at a rate proportionate to the degree thereof.
