THE District Convention which met at Hastings, Tuesday, sends W. T. Scott of York, and Geo. C. Burton of Orleans, to the National Convention to be held in Chicago, June 3rd.

WE are pleased to see Bro. Watkins of the Blue Hill Times brighten up and have some style about him. The Times now presents quite a neat news paper-like appearance.

WHISKY, wool and oil is the curious mixture that has upset the Democratic party in Ohio. The Iroquois club ought overseer road district 11. to have sampled the new beverage and explained wherein they found it unwholesome, but it doubtless forgot it.

IT is noted that judges in Cincinnati now make some effort to earn their salaries. They used to dwadle over a case for several weeks, while the lawyers frittered away time and the clients grew poor. Now they get through a case in two or three days. As a result the courts present a scene of unusual activity. The riot was not without its effect on some persons, evidently.

COLORADO, in order to check the rush of her miners to Cœur d'Alene, in Idaho, sprung a boom of her own in the shape of a great gold discovery in a gulch, which had been abandoned for eighteen years. It was claimed that the ore was as rich throughout as the assays indicate, $8,000 to $15,000 could be produced per day by every man employed. It was expected that this would hold the miners in Colorado, but unfortunately it now turns out that the story is a fiction, and consequently the boom has fallen by the wayside.

FROM Iowa and Pennsylvania, from Ohio and Minnesota and Kansas, from all the states that can and will give a majority for the Republican nominee, whoever he may be, the tidings are "all for Blaine." Talk about sentiment! It's a regular epidemic .- Omaha Republican.

The only trouble THE TRIBUNE sees in Jeems' political horizon is that the Plumed Knight may catch an epidemic himself similar to the one that laid him low in the last National Convention. His friends seem to be too fresh to be curbed, and run out of ammunition before the battle waxes warm.

THE year of 1883 was an unparalleled one in the history of the world. Observe a few figures: The number over the globe was 149,050. The murder record in the United States and Canada, a long and ghastly catalogue of bloody deeds, adds 2,248. The number of suicides in this country and Canada was 1,502. In the United States alone 7,196 deaths were the result of casual- 28 west, was granted. ties. The number of executions was 159, and 186 were assisted up the golden stairs by Judge Lynch, in the U. S. and British Domains. The fire fiend claimed $85,700,000 as his own during that year of horrors.

Hor Springs, Ark., appears to have a two-fold mission, the first being, to use a scriptural phrase, the healing of the nations, while the second appears to be about an equal mixture of legal and illegal deviltry. If Blackstone himself arose from the dead and attempted to settle the question of land titles in that distracted village, he would gladly again retire to the seclusion of the grave after a preliminary hearing of the points involved. As matters now stand, there are two claimants for almost every available foot of earth in that narrow canyon, while the general government looms up in the rear as the probable rightful owner of the whole tract. The Supreme Court of the United States seems as badly mixed up on this subject as anyone else, and has within the last ten days practically reversed its decision of four years since, and left the purchasers and improvers of property under the congressional commission, all at sea as to their right and title to what they have paid for. As for the illegal deviltry, the record of crime, particularly that of murder, is the most shocking for the past twelve months of any in history. Altogether it needs some powerful sanitary reason to induce any outsider cognizant of the situation to visit Hot Springs, and it is SENATOR FAIR of California is about to re-marry his divorced wife. So ends another great Pacific coast scandal Just where the next new one will break out it is impossible to say, but California has too long been accustomed to festive and exuberant immorality in her statesmen to be without some development of this nature for many months. The next revelation as to the private lives of her great men will be awaited with interest.

MAJOR EDWIN H. WEIRMON, who acted as private secretary to President Johnson and swung "around the circle" with him, dropped dead in New York, Wednesday night. Letters found upon his person indicated that he centemplated suicide, and his sudden death from heart disease only prevented him from taking his own life.

A NEW YORK saloon keeper testified before the legislative committee that he paid money to detectives to avoid prosecution for selling without license.
