Fresh fish every Tuesday and Friday at City Market. If you want cheap pork call at John Farley's meat market. Leave orders for Chicago Daily Times at Postoffice News Stand. Ice cream and cake will be served at the Opera Hall, the 19th, by the Union Sunday school. The Union S. S. will give an entertainment at the Opera Hall, Thursday evening, June 19th. A man by the name of Murphy was arrested, Wednesday evening, for drunkenness, and fined $5 and costs. J. T. Wray will have some fine mares at Dunbar's livery stable, Saturday, which will undoubtedly sell at $40. The dwellers along the bank of the classic Republican, in South McCook, indulged in a dance, Tuesday evening. There has been more dust than music in the air this week, though the volume of the latter has not been inconsiderable. Call at City Market for early vegetables: Tomatoes, peas, string beans, onions, sweet potatoes, radishes, lettuce, etc. A handsome prize will be given to the best guesser, next Thursday evening, at the Opera Hall. Go and try your luck. The partnership hitherto existing between Dunbar & Olcott in the livery business, has been dissolved. Mr. Olcott retiring. Prepare for the 4th of July by purchasing one of the beautiful Fans, next Thursday evening, and encourage the Sunday school. Just arrived, at the City Bakery, a car-load of the Cream and Fancy brands of Grand Island Flour. Also, a supply of white bolted corn meal. The latter part of last week, Orleans received an unwelcome visit from burglars, who were afterwards captured, and are now safe behind prison bars. Remember that Wray will have a fine bunch of horses at Dunbar's stable, Saturday, which can be bought cheap for cash, or well secured paper. An entertainment, consisting of tableaux, dialogues and recitations will be given by the Union S. S., next Thursday evening. Admission 10 cents. You can make a bargain by buying a horse at Dunbar's stable, Saturday. J. T. Wray will have a bunch of fine saddle horses on hand which will be sold cheap. The amount of profanity one can hear on our streets on an evening is disgusting. It is a shame that the ladies of this community have to be insulted thus at every street corner. The band boys were out Wednesday evening for the first time this summer. Their playing gathered together quite a large crowd of appreciative citizens, who take pride in our band. Real estate has been fluctuating this week, to say the least, and this uncertain condition of the market made outdoor exercise rather disagreeable—in connection with the high winds.

Silk Jerseys are now woven in ribs, with open strips between, like silk stockings. The best, the cheapest and the largest dishes of Ice Cream at Silver Moon Restaurant. All kinds of popular Magazines, Newspapers and Periodicals at the Postoffice News Stand. Another lot of good horses will be offered for sale by J. T. Wray at Dunbar's stable, Saturday. Tucked skirts are all the rage—not only for cottons and woollens, but for silks and satins as well. That spanking little team of blacks that Dr. Kay used to sport has been purchased by W. O. Russell. 160 acres (more or less) of Iowa soil, all covered with house plants in full bloom, for sale at Wilson & Hickling. Our "holy of holies" was brightened by a bundle of fragrance and beauty at the hands of Mrs. J. B. Meserve, this week. Our milk peddler, A. Rheischick, lost a horse, Sunday night. The animal became tangled in his lariar rope and was strangled to death. Cowboys note a great improvement in the matter of hash on the round-up this season over that of the past four or five years. Another stray. Go to the Silver Moon for choice goods, such as confectioneries, cigars, fresh peaches, gooseberries, strawberries, cherries, oranges, lemons, etc. A number of prairie schooners started for their claims west of her Tuesday noon. That section of country is gradually being occupied—and by a good class of settlers. "Roll on silver moon. Guide the traveler on his way." And show him the Silver Moon Restaurant where he can find a good, square meal to strengthen him for his journey. Cambridge Monitor:—Mr. Pickle has moved his old saw mill up on the Red Willow, about twenty miles west of here, and expects to have her "ripping" up elms and cottonwoods, 'ere long. Sixteen car-loads of stock were unloaded at this station, Friday evening. From here they were driven out on the range. The usual outfit of horses, household goods, etc., accompanied. With the rapidly increasing importance and growth of our town comes the tramp and general scamp. And the number of these individuals diminish eth not, but is rather on the increase. "Move along, sir!" Saturday was a Waterloo for the finny tribe. A number of gentle disciples of Isaak, the lamented, were so successful in their work of annihilation as to require the intervention of heavens ponderous artillery to save the day. "Don't monkey with the buzz saw," is a safe warning clothed in classic diction. Unmindful of this premonition, Rev. Dungan almost amputated a finger, last Thursday, while exercising a cross-cut saw. Ditto, Dungan, the younger. We are not alone with our pet. Tom McInroy, who directs the new freight locomotive 116 in the way she should go, in testing the comparative hardness of his foot and a piece of gas pipe, came to grief, and has been nursing a bruised foot for some days. "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches." So say Wilson & Hickling, proprietors of the booming restaurant, second door south of P. O. Consequently hereafter we style our house the Silver Moon Restaurant. "Bound to Shine." The mouse colored equine owned and operated by J. F. Collins, made a break for liberty, Tuesday noon, which was nipped in the bud, doing no damage, but badly frightening the owners little daughter, who was in the wagon to which the animal was attached. The ladies and friends of the Methodist church will hold an Ice Cream and Strawberry Festival in Menard's Hall, to-morrow (Friday) evening, and a cordial invitation is extended to all to be present and partake of the delicacies that will be spread before them. A number of civil engineers came into town, last week, from the north. As soon or later a road will be built from Kansas up through this part of the state somewhere, their appearance was the subject of comment here and elsewhere. They took train her for Brush, Colorado.

A number of our exchanges contain the following laconic: "The festive fly is here." Our personal experience that that "fly" little winged insect that makes life a burden these days, is difficult to locate. It is well nigh omnipresent, if not omnipotent in this part of the moral vineyard. Now that a street commissioner has been appointed, there are a number of places on Madison street and elsewhere within our corporate limits, that it might be well to give immediate attention to. There is plenty of work to be done on our streets, and we have an idea Leland will do the work well. The interior of the Citizen's Bank has been very materially improved in appearance. The walls have been treated to a covering of handsome paper and the ceiling kalsomined. The woodwork has been brightened up by a coat of varnish. More light has been added by cutting a window in the north side of the building. We move for the adoption of the shot gun policy. Reports of numerous thefts in this vicinity come to us. From the number of worthless characters now infesting this town, these robberies are likely to occur until some enterprising citizen introduces a load of bird shot into the carcass of these midnight thieves. Even so, let it be. A bountiful supply of milk is now assured to the consumers of that hitherto scarce article. N. M. Constable's cream dairy is now ready to deliver that commodity to those wishing it. Mr. Constable has a bunch of 10 or 15 fine milk cows that he is ranging north of the village limits, and he will add more to his dairy as the business demands them. Our village fathers met in special session, Saturday evening, and disposed of a grist of business. The bond of D. Kendall was accepted. The bond of Walsh & Boyd, applicants for liquor license, was accepted, and clerk ordered to issue the same. An ordinance was read and adopted fixing the levy. The ordinance under which licenses are issued was amended making the liquor license in this village $800. George Leland was appointed street commissioner of the city. Adjourned to meet Wednesday evening. The contract for the erection of the school building has been awarded to J. F. Collins. The building is to cost between $5,000 and $6,000, and is to be completed by the first day of October next. For the faithful fulfillment of the contract, a bond of $3,000 is given by Mr. Collins, who will go to work on the building as soon as materials can be gotten together and framed. He has also commenced the erection of residences for Messrs. Berry and Pate. Mr. Berry's house is going up just opposite Joseph Odwarker's residence on the hill, and Mr. Pate's adjoins A. Constable on the west, and his residence will be one of the neatest in the village. On his return trip from Indianola, Saturday, Leander Starbuck met with what might have been a very serious accident. He was driving one horse and leading another, and the two became enraged and between them made Lee's position on the sulky an unenviable one indeed. The horse he was driving kicked furiously, planting his ponderous blows on the drivers "shins," legs, and finally, by way of variety, one in the ribs which knocked him out of his seat. The horses dragged him a short distance before they could be stopped, when Mr. Helm of Red Willow stabled the one and Lee rode the other one home. Mr. Starbuck has been moving around with the assistance of a cane. It is a wonder that his leg was not broken, as the kicks received were severe. Teachers' Meeting. The Red Willow County Teacher's Association will meet at the School House in Indianola on Friday and Saturday, June 20th and 21st, 1884, commencing at 2 o'clock, P. M., on Friday, and closing at 12 o'clock, M., on Saturday. It is hoped that all the teacher's will attend; and all interested in the improvement of our county schools are cordially invited. C. L. NETTLETON, Pres. Attention, Soldiers! There will be a meeting of the old soldiers of Red Willow county in the Band Hall at McCook, Thursday, June 26th, at 1 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of organizing a G. A. R. Post. A full attendance is requested. BY ORDER OF COMMITTEE.

Mrs. James Hetherington of Indianola came up to McCook, Monday. Miss Rowell returned from a visit of a few days at Indianola, Monday. Dr. Kay moved into his pleasant residence in West McCook, this week. R. O. Phillips of the Lincoln Land Co. came up on No. 39, Wednesday. Patrick McKillip, one of Red Willow's substantial men, was in town on Monday. Rev. Dean of Bloomington occupied the Congregational pulpit, Sunday evening. A. McG. Robb returned, the middle of the week, from a visit to Burlington, Iowa. Mrs. T. S. Bosley returned from an extended and pleasant visit at Fairmont, Friday. Mrs. Bishop and Mrs. Goddard of Indianola spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Berger. Mr. and Mrs. A. Constable and daughter went down to Cambridge, Wednesday afternoon. C. H. Reed has been entertaining his father, an old-time "king of the road," for the past two weeks. Mrs. T. G. Rees is entertaining her sister of Jersey City, who arrived in McCook, Monday night. J. F. Collins went to Cambridge, Monday, to make arrangements for getting stone for the school building. Misses Lunn and Lane of Culbertson, (recently arrived from Michigan,) drove down to McCook, Friday, returning the same evening. Mrs. W. S. Perry, in company with Mrs. Highland of Red Cloud and others, went out on the homestead near Parks, Colo., last week. John Connor and daughter, Miss Mary, of Stoughton, were in town Friday and Saturday, attending to some land business before the local office. President Perkins, Treasurer Peasley, Assistant General Manager Holdredge and other officials of the Burlington lines, went through this station en-route to Denver, Sunday. J. R. King of Benkelman was in town, Monday, providing tickets for the special election, which is to be held in Dundy county, this week. J. R. is on the ticket for county clerk. A. J. Clute, Jr., of the firm of Vinton & Clute, real estate dealers of Hubbell, was in town a few days the first of the week. He also is one of the editors of the Hubbell newspaper. I. J. Starbuck went up to Culbertson, this noon. He is one of the attorney's in a "little racket" of long standing, which Messrs. Steinhaus and Hunter of that place, are giving a summer airing. Mrs. Cornut of Culbertson and Miss Buetter of Nebraska City, who is visiting in Culbertson, came down to town on 40, Wednesday. They were the guests of Mrs. LaTourette during their visit. Elder Lemon preached to a large audience in Menard's Hall, Sunday evening. He also dedicated a church on the Willow in the morning. The Elder never fails of drawing an appreciative audience together to hear him. Mrs. Maddie Berry of Wymore was in town, to-day, and entered claims in this section of country. Like others who are acquainted with the history of the state, she thinks the Republican Valley has a bright future. Messrs. Waters and Edmiston of the Union Central Life Ins. Co., who have been in town during the past ten days, report very encouraging success. They have written more insurance in McCook than in any other town or city in the state—Lincoln excepted, and their class of risks is the best in the state. This speaks well for the healthfulness of this climate.

BONDVILLE.

Seeing our last communication escaped the waste basket, have decided to open up our "cork" again. A. J. Brent has been taking in Indianola, this week. Samuel Graham has the nicest outlook for timber we know of in the county. Wm. Parkins now sings "My daughter! oh! my daughter!" it arrived one day this week. Perry Jones has begun hauling the lumber for our new church. We are growing impatient. A. S. Boughton's family and W. O. Bond left this place for McCook to inspect that village. In the coming campaign Bondville will stand staunch for Blaine. Let her sister cities do likewise. Rev. Long has closed his labors among us. The new minister, Rev. Moore, is expected next Sabbath. Crops are growing at a fearful rate; rye and other fall grains are beginning to head out and sod corn is doing finely. J. C. Lafferty of Danbury was perambulating our streets Saturday last; his mother, late of Illinois, is now visiting him. Mrs. W. E. Rollings has been homesteading, this week. W. E. now talks of putting up a tenement house on Main street, this fall. Bondville is waiting patiently for an invitation to help some one celebrate. Her people are too industrious to prepare for one themselves. W. O. Bond is planting quite a number of black and yellow locust and maple seed. We understand he expects to put in a nursery stock. J. A. Carter has in this spring some very choice potatoes which are doing finely. The varieties are early Ohio, Beauty of Hebron and White Star. We think the young folks of our town ought to form some thing for amusement; if we cannot have a base ball club let's have a croquette club. We are away behind the times. Engineer Archibald was seen wending his way across the prairie one eve this week. A. S. Boughton has just finished a well for him 150 feet deep. Water is very acceptable if we do have to go nearly to China for it. Quite a number of new arrivals in our town since our last writing, but that which pleases us bachelors most, is the addition of several young ladies to our circle; heretofore we have had but a few old maids and school girls. Mirrors are now relieved of their long accumulated dust and blacking brushes are being resurrected from the rubbish with zeal and trembling; each bachel, wondering if he will be the favored one. Bondville was nearly on the swim. The recent rains have proved very disastrous to the sod houses in this vicinity. Quite a few have been rendered unfit for habitation, and if such showers continue, sod houses (like the buffalo) will become a thing of the past. Geo. W. Burt has come to realize this fact and has already let the contract for a neat little frame cottage. He made a flying trip to Orleans to look after the interests of his farm there. June 7th, '84. MOTHER'S SON.
