The B. & M. Dining Hall has been in the hands of the painter, and the interior has been noticeably improved by reason thereof.

"Garden sass," grown in this neighborhood is now in the home market. It seems that some things do grow in this country—and early and luxuriantly at that.

The new settlers who are now occupying Captain Holmes' house on Driftwood, had an addition to their numbers, last Saturday, in the shape of a little girl baby.

A force of men have been working in this vicinity, this week, on the line of telegraph, which the B. & M. company is putting in between Holdredge and McCook.

Sixteen car-loads of stock passed through this station, Saturday, en route to Roggens, Colo. Ten of the cars were filled with horses and the remainder by cattle.

Real estate is beginning to command quite a fair price in the vicinity of town. Charlie Hinman was offered $1,500 cash for his claim in the northeastern part of the corporation.

Our Blackwood correspondent relates the finding, and subsequent losing of bearings, of the mail carrier between Indianola and points in Hayes county. He has since come to light.

The Independent Order of Good Templars of the Republican Valley will hold a convention in Orleans on 24th of this month. All members of the order are cordially invited to be present.

Thirty timber-culture entries were made at this land office on Monday. It doth appear that some parties are becoming fearful lest that act be repealed. And that Congress may take just such action is very probable—and desirable.

The recent delightful showers have been of immense benefit to this country. The grass and crops retain their green appearance, and are doing finely. There never has been as encouraging a prospect in Red Willow county as there is this year.

"A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches." So say Wilson & Hickling, proprietors of the booming restaurant, second door south of P. O. Consequently hereafter we style our house the Silver Moon Restaurant. "Bound to Shine."

The property of Mr. McManigal on Macfarland street has been greatly improved in appearance and enhanced in value, this week. He has built a barn, enclosed his lot with a substantial fence, painted his residence and improved things general.

From a number of parties who have been driving through the country south of the river, we hear the most encouraging reports of the condition of small grain in that section. Barring unfavorable weather in the future the harvest of small grain will be large.

The festival held in the Opera Hall by the M. E. Sunday school, Friday evening, was a very pleasant affair, and quite a number of our people turned out to enjoy it. The band discoursed some of their choicest music during the evening, and added to the occasion materially.

We are frequently asked what McCook is going to do on the Fourth, by people in town and surrounding country. So far as our information goes we believe the only diversion will be the entertainment to be given on the evening of the Fourth by the Dramatic Company, to be followed by a ball.

The young son of E. M. Wilson cut an ugly gash in his foot, Monday, by stepping on a piece of glass or tin, while running along the road in company with some playmates. Our streets are pretty thickly strewn with pieces of broken bottles, and the boys should be instructed to be more careful. Serious results sometimes follow such accidents.

Two new telegraph stations were opened by the B. & M. last Thursday. One of them is at Phillips, on the Aurora & Grand Island branch, and the other at Fort Morgan, Colorado, between Akron and Denver. The former is named for Capt. R. O. Phillips. A new line is also being built between Holdredge and McCook, and stations are being put in.

By reason of the train being two and one-half hours late Dr. Shaw of Indianola was the only physician, in addition to those of McCook, who put in an appearance at the convention of the doctors of the valley, called to meet at this place on Wednesday. A meeting was called and temporary organization perfected, after which they adjourned to meet in Arapahoe to complete permanent organization, one month hence.

The cowboy, Jacob Van Meter, who was thrown from his horse on Sappa Creek, Kas., last week, died at Benkelman, where he was taken to receive medical attendance, Sunday. Dr. Willey was called out to see the injured man, Friday, and found that he had been thrown from his horse on his head and shoulder and that the animal had fallen on him, producing concussion of the brain and causing death as above stated.

A little racket occurred in Braun's saloon, Tuesday morning, which luckily ended in but slight injury to one of the participants—Stanta Rolla. It appears that Kenneth McDonald of Benkelman was in the saloon at the time, and that Stanta, who was under the influence of liquor, insisted upon following him, and that finally Mac's Highland-Scotch got the best of him, and he struck Stanta on the face with a beer glass, making quite a gash in his cheek.

The news of another sad accident reaches us from the west—this time from Culbertson. The victim is a young man by the name of Chase, a brother of A. Chase, station agent at Culbertson. Sunday, as he was riding after a cow, his horse's foot caught in a lariat rope and threw the rider violently to the earth, striking on his head. Dr. Willey went up on No. 39, Monday, in response to a telegram, but the young man's injuries were beyond human skill, and before the doctor returned, (he returned on No. 40, the same afternoon) death came to his relief. The young man was only 18 years of age, and had only been in the west about three weeks, when he was so suddenly called away.

Strawberries 20 cents a quart at Silver Moon Restaurant.

This week has been exceptional in the line of pugilistic exhibitions.

Timber planted last fall and this spring is doing as well as the most sanguine could expect. Reports from all over the county so indicate.

Remember the ice cream festival in the Opera Hall, to-night. Ice cream, lemonade and cake will be served. A short entertainment by the children will preface the festival.

An exchange says: We now have a calaboose which was built a private individual, and is rented by him to the village authorities at $4 per month. This would be an easy way to settle the question in McCook, all that we need is the man who will put up the building on these terms, we believe the trustees would be willing. We need it.

The news of a terrible railroad disaster reaches us from down the road. No. 40 was thrown from the track, by train robbers removing a rail, on the Wymore branch near Guide Rock, which resulted in a number being killed and many wounded. The report is to the effect that the train wreckers and robbers got away with the express and mail. Alex. Stewart, well-known to many of our citizens, was running the engine, and had both legs and one arm cut off. Nothing authentic has been received here up to the time of going to press.

HON. JOHN B. FISCH returned Tuesday, June 10th, from Washington, where he has been in attendance upon the Right Worthy Grand Lodge of the World of the I. O. G. T., of which body he was elected the chief officer. For this position his great executive abilities fit him well, and his active friends in Nebraska take much pleasure in his elevation. It is gratifying to every citizen of the state to see a Nebraska man in the place, and that he will administer the affairs of it very creditably will not be denied by even those who disapprove of his calling and his zeal in it.

A little ripple of excitement was occasioned, Friday evening, by Jos. Braun and a painter by the name of Hall. The facts as given us are substantially these: Hall entered Braun's saloon and called for the drinks, which were refused him, the reason assigned being that the customer wanted credit. As Hall was, by his own statement, one of the saloon's best cash customers, this refusal warmed his blood, one word called forth another until Braun ordered him out of the saloon, and stepped forth to enforce the royal mandate. Considering Hall's proportions, this attempted enforcement was anything but circumspect, and Joe soon came in contact with a large bunch of "fives" directed by a muscular arm, in an incredibly short time, without any striking improvement in his personal appearance.

A BRIEF conversation yesterday with Joe Swan, the well known B. & M. caterer, elicited the fact that the prospects for crops were never so good in the Republican Valley. As far west as McCook, which has heretofore been considered in the "doubtful" district, the farms look as promising as they ever did in the heart of Illinois. From that point west there are but few farmers, the country being given up to cattle. But even as far as Akron, Col., are to be seen beautiful patches of grain and vegetables, all looking as fine as heart could wish. Claims are being rapidly taken all along the line, and Mr. Swan says in five years the land will be taken by farmers all the way to Denver. The increased cultivation of the land and the planting of trees are certainly modifying the climate, and more especially reducing the effect of the hot winds that come from the southwest.—Topics.

Colonel Snively, Major Criswell, W. R. Cramer and wife of the county-seat were in town on land business, Tuesday. We did not broach the subject to the gallant Major, but wonder if his visit was not really to ascertain if there were any young ladies in McCook who intended to respond to his card, which appeared in a recent issue of the Courier.

T. J. Cleaver of the Orleans Press favored us with quite a little visit, Monday. T. J., as all who come to McCook for the first time, was surprised to find that such a town had sprung up in the so-called "American Desert," in such a short time. Particularly was he impressed with the substantial and elegant class of residences with which our town is graced. Mr. Cleaver is getting out a good paper and is fast taking first rank among the newspaper men of the Valley.

M. B. Reese of Wahoo, Associate Judge of the Supreme Court, Guy A. Brown of Lincoln, Clerk of the Supreme Court, and Captain John M. Ball of Osceola, Iowa, arrived in McCook, Saturday. Messrs. Reese and Brown remained until Monday afternoon. In company with Register Laws the entire party took a drive through the country north of town Monday morning, and all expressed themselves as being pleased and entirely satisfied with the country. Judge Reese was here for the purpose of purchasing land adjoining the town, with what success he met we know not, but we hear it suggested that the Judge thought seriously of making this his home. Captain Ball remained here all week, and looked into the prospects of the county more thoroughly, and will probably locate here.

At last the true reason of Tilden's declination has been discovered. He is ineligible to the presidency. A prominent Englishman, living in Dubuque, Iowa, says that he has seen the church register in the county of Kent, England, showing Tilden's birth there, and when he was two and a half years old, was sold by his father for a small holding of land previous to immigration to America. This story coming from such a high authority, ought to settle the question of Tilden's candidacy beyond the possibility of a doubt. We are surprised that Sam Tilden should have concealed for so long a time the fact that he is a bloody Englishman. Although shut out of the presidential race on account of his foreign nativity, we think he ought, even at this late day, to become a naturalized citizen of the United States. What a fortunate thing it was that this bold Englishman did not secure the presidency of this great and glorious republic in 1876. Had he been seated in the presidential chair, he would have turned us over to Queen Victoria, and we would now have been annexed as a British province to Canada. We certainly escaped a great calamity.—Omaha Bee.
