BEN BUTLER has been numerously dubbed, but his latest nick-name is most comical of all. He is now styled the "cock-eyed coquet." But "old spoons" can stand it.

FROM an article in last week's Sun we are led to the conclusion that Bro. Taylor is at least anticipating a change. We believe W. Z. was one of Laird's earnest supporters two years ago. Wherefore the change.

This seems to be a still-hunt campaign from beginning to end, not a commendable state of affairs to put it mildly. Let the candidates come to the front boldly. Let the people know for whom they are to cast their votes.

THE national prohibition convention which was in session at Pittsburg, last week, nominated Ex-Governor St. John, of Kansas, for president, and William Daniel, of Maryland, for vice president. A pronounced prohibition platform, roundly scoring both the old parties, was adopted.

HON. GILBERT A. PIERCE, the new governor of Dakota, finds himself between two fires—one from Bismarck and the other from Yankton. Although he was sworn in at Yankton, the old capital, he would not commit himself on the capital question. He concluded not to meddle with the matter, but to leave it to be settled by the next legislature.

TRIAL was made in Cleveland, Ohio, on Friday last of a new street railway invention called "The tramway electric motor." A mile of track of the street railway in that city was prepared for the occasion, the electrically charge wire running in a sunken box midway between the rails. Forty persons were carried for forty trips up and down this mile at different rates of speed ranging from one to fifteen miles an hour, and the experiment is declared a great success. Street railroad horses will hear of the new invention with the greatest delight.

ON Wednesday night of last week two dastardly attempts were made to wreck the "cannon ball" on the B. & M. The first was at Diller in Jefferson county, where ties and other obstructions were placed across the track, and the second at Burchard, Pawnee county, the fish-places being removed and the spikes drawn. The hellish designs of the fiends were frustrated by the timely appearance of section men, who removed the obstructions. In view of the late occurrences in the train-wrecking line, we affirm that the lives of those caught in the commission of such crimes won't be held sacred—but on the other end of a rope.

THE sympathies of the entire people will be with Governor Cleveland if he causes the arrest and immediate prosecution of the men who wrote and published the "terrible tale" about his morals. If the story is a lie the sooner the penitentiary yawns for the rascals that told it the better. But if it is true, every father and mother of daughters in the land will be thankful for the exposure, and there will eventually be but one substantial opinion in the community about it, and that is that the penitentiary ought to yawn for the accused party. Let the matter have a legal sifting as soon as possible.

WE are informed that Mr. Hocknell, responsive to the solicitations of his friends, has finally consented to be a candidate for Representative, although he had determined to the contrary some time since. Mr. Hocknell is well qualified in every respect to discharge the duties that devolve upon those who make the laws of this great and growing commonwealth. Having been in this western country for a number of years he is acquainted with the wants and needs of the same, and he is possessed of the requisite ability to take care of this constituency. We know of no one who can represent us more ably.

"THE press is favoring Dawes' renomination with great unanimity." This is a specimen of the paragraphs now going the rounds of the press. Why? Are there no other Republicans in this state capable of filling that place with more credit than Dawes? We are of opinion the woods is full of them. "A man of such mediocre ability as Dawes should be satisfied with being struck with (gubernatorial) lightning once," we hear a prominent Republican remark, one who is intimately acquainted with the Governor. We hear another say: "There are a number of Republicans who can easily defeat Dawes in convention." And is this not what this portentous silence means? Vide.

THE call for the Republican County Convention appears on the first column of the editorial page. It will be observed that the convention is called to meet on Monday, August 11th, and that the primaries on Saturday, August 9th. Also, that a new precinct has been formed called Bondville. Let the voters turn out and be at the primaries. Select delegates, who will vote for your choice for office. Through and by the primaries these can and ought to be decided, and then there remains no room for kicking. So turn out and give them your attention.

A good deal of excitement has prevailed in Brooklyn and New York circles over the disappearance of Col. Morton, deputy postmaster of Brooklyn. His accounts were examined and some trifling discrepancies were found, but his friends had confidence that there was no defalcation. It was supposed that he had gone to the country for a week or two of rest, and his failure to notify any one of his intention was set down to eccentricity. It is now announced that he has been found and is in the care of his friends and that he is insane. He commanded a New York regiment during the war and was highly respected.

County Institute,

EDITOR TRIBUNE:—Please find enclosed the names of the members of the County Teacher's Institute at Indianola closing with examination on Friday, July 25th, 1884: Mrs. Mary E. Dutcher, Jno. Short, C. L. Nettleton. Misses Minnie L. Mann, Nellie Owen, Jessie Mott, Hattie Phillips, Gertrude Humphrey, Cilvia Baker, Alice Murphy, Mollie Heed, Anna Mann, Addie Spring, Amelia Finch, Abbie Wilcox, Eunice Dow, Jennie Janison, Nettie Black, Lettie Boughton, Lillian Boyle, Ada Buck, Viola Mosher, Stella Mosher, Irma Phillips, Emma Phillips, Christine Prof. J. S. Brown, Supt. C. L. Nettleton, Messrs. Thomas M. Clark, F. D. Pitney, L. Stephenson, Wm. McCool, George Bebe, M. H. Cavanagh and Foster Sturgebouner.

Permit me also to state that we have reason to regard the Institute as very successful. The earnest attentiveness of the teacher's continued to the last session. It is a pleasure to state that the people of Indianola, without exception, seemed interested in the success of the Institute and did what they could for the teachers. On Thursday evening the citizens gave a reception to the members at the school house. The band furnished music; also, others supplied pleasant music, both vocal and instrumental. Speeches were made by Col. Snively and Dr. Shaw. After which the Institute was invited to the Indianola House for refreshments—and more music. All of which was a very much enjoyed surprise to the teachers attending.

Respectfully,
July 29th. C. L. NETTLETON.

STOCKVILLE.

The new school house is nearly completed. Galland has moved into his new hotel, and is doing a "land office" business. A heavy wind storm visited this place, last Friday evening a week, and wrought considerable damage. It took McCartney's store off its foundation, and tore one of our blacksmith's shop all to pieces.

The tide of emigration is surging into this county, and government land is being rapidly occupied.

We should judge from the resplendent, effervescent aroma, that Bondville Batter has fermented.

JUST as we thought, The Culbertson Sun has got the abracadabra on its local page after a "minute microscopic investigation" by the McCook TRIBUNE. We did not think it was as bad as that, but after that immense flying-ship went up there, the Sun would have most any thing, and the TRIBUNE has the thanks of the Press for the discovery. Will it dissolve in water?—Orleans Press.

Tommy, please send up the key to your irrelevant mutterings. It won't dissolve—too well preserved.

A NEW game, called the "Printer's Delight," is the latest. It is played in the following manner: Take a sheet of white paper and put your autograph on it, then fold it around sufficient currency to pay a year's subscription to the TRIBUNE, put it in an envelope, write our name on the outside, stick one of Uncle Sam's little red chromos on the corner, drop it in a postoffice, and we will risk the consequences.

IT is well for all having wire fences to fully protect them from lightning, which can be cheaply done by taking some smooth wire and wrapping round the fence wire at least three times and then putting the wire into the ground not less than four feet. Have these ground wires at not to exceed 150 feet apart. A little care on your part in thus protecting your fences, is liable not only to save you many fence posts, but also horses and cattle.
