THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST.

THE ENTERPRISE WIND MILL Ince Extrements is a "solid wheel" mill and dis-penses with all silding shafts and pitmans, and all segment gear, which are liable to become inopera-tive from snow or sleet. It has no superfluous joints, weights and levers, to wear and admit of lost motion or make noise. Its multiplying Ball Governor is the simplest, most direct and quickest in use. It is the most sensitive to varying winds. It is manufactured by a company of long standing and experience in the wind mill business, with large capital invested in special machinery, extensive works, and an efficient corps of skilled workmen. They are neat in appear-ance, noiseless in operation, and an ornament to the ance, noiscless in operation, and an ornament to the grounds. Parties desiring estimates and costs on an outfit, can obtain them by addressing us, giving plan of grounds, depth of well, points of delivery, etc. We manufacture iron Pumps, Brass Cylinders, Tanks and everything connected with farm, city or railway water everything connected with farm, city or railway water supply.

SANDWICH ENTERPRISE CO., Sandwich, Ill. WM. M. IRWIN, Agent, McCook, Neb.

CITY BAKERY.

Only a golden curl— So beautiful, dainty and smooth; What a power it has to recall Sweet memories, sorrows to soothe. Only a golden curl, Perhaps in a happier hour In merriment stolen, and prized More dearly than riches or power.

A METAMORPHOSIS.

Only a golden curl. Sweet treasure! How fragile a thing To summon dead memories back, And tears to the cyclids to bring!

Only a golden curl— But, oh! how the sentiment roughens And poetry changes to prose, To find it in one of our muffins!

A Cure for Sties.

Among the most troublesome and often noticed affections are what are known as hordeolum, or common sty. known as hordeolum, or common sty. Dr. Louis Fitzpatrick, in the Lancet, differs from some of his professional brethren, who persist in ordering the application of poultices, bathing with tepid water, etc. These, no doubt, do good in the end, but such applications have the great disadvantage of prolong-ing the career of these unsightly sores and encourage the production of fresh ones. encourage the production of fresh ones. Dr. Fitzpatrick has found, after many Better to be Lawyer Than Litigant. trials, the local application of tincture of iodine exert a well marked influence in checking the growth. This is by far preferable to the nitrate of silver, which makes an unsightly mark, and often fails in its object. The early use of the iodine acts as a prompt abortive. To apply it the lids should be held apart by the thumb and index finger of the left hand, while the iodine is painted over the inflamed papilla with a fine camel hair pencil. The lids should not be allowed to come in contact until the part touched is dry. A few applica-cations in the twenty-four hours is sufficient.

Shaved by Sections.

A commercial drummer, with several heavy cases in hand, panted into Warth's barber shop, Trenton, N. J. One side of his face had a several days' growth of whiskers, while the other side was per-fectly smooth. He threw himself into a chair. "Shave me," he said brusquely. The astonished barber began to adjust a cloth about his neck, looking at the drummer's face meanwhile with eloquent curiosity. "Been in the barber chair once this morning, haven't you ?" queried the bar-

"Twice," said the stranger correcting him; "once in Philadelphia and once in Bristol. Got my face lathered in Phila-

Proud of his Young Bride.

Prominent People Who Swore.

Last Thoughts.

A veteran physician speaking on this subject recently said : "Judging of the thoughts of men by their words just previous to death, I should say it often happens that a dying person gives no indication of thought upon a subject that has been a favorite topic of a life-time. I have known active business men, with important affairs unattended to, who died with words upon their lips that indicated absorption in some incithat indicated absorption in some incident of the moment, generally relating to personal comfort. It was that sort of a death that Washington Irving died, a death that Washington Irving died, saying: 'Well I must arrange my pil-lows for another weary night; if this could only end.' Long suffering under the afflictions of a painful disease will serve to divert the mind of the strong-est. Even the philosopher, Ben Frank-lin, was forced to say, with his last breath, 'A dying man can do nothing easy.' It is a very common thing for a dying person to express sympathy with attendants who have been fatigued in attending them. Among the last words attending them. Among the last words of Sir Walter Scott were 'Poor souls, I know you were up all night.'"

"Is it true that the case of Zabriskie against Van Riper is settled?" asked a reporter of lawyer L. M. Ward, of Paterson, N. J. This case has been in the courts for a long time. "Yes," replied Mr. Ward, "the case is settled."

"And it is said, Mr. Ward, that you have come into possession of the farm." "That's so," replied Mr. Ward, laugh-ing. ""I've got the farm, and Garry Ackerson, of Hackensack, the lawyer on the other side, has got all the money. I got a mortgage on the farm, and then I paid the balance and became the owner. The money I paid went to Ackerson." "And what have the two farmers got, Mr. Ward?"

"Nothing. When we began the case there were two well-off farmers and two poor lawyers. Now there are two poor farmers and two well-off lawyers."-New York Sun.

Millions That We Drink.

Statistics just published show that the quantity of beer brewed in the United States during the last twelve months, was five hundred and thirty-eight million gallons, or twenty-three million gallons more than was made during the preceding year. It appears that the production has been steadily delphia and then saw I couldn't make my train unless I started. Got the bar-The brew of 1883 shows an advance of The brew of 1883 shows an advance of ber to wipe off my face, and I ran and got on just as the train was moving. At Bristol I thought I'd have time to do some business and get shaved and catch the next train. Got through with my business, ran into a barber shop, got lathered again, and got half my face shaved, when I heard the train coming. I hundred and one million dollars, the

HUMOROUS.

-"Where is the girl of long ago?" sings Joaquin Miller. We saw her the other day, Joaq. But she isn't a girl any more. She had gray hair and a wart on her nose; had no teeth, and wore specs,

-An English traveler thinks we have mighty comfortable quarters in our sleeping cars. Yes, we generally do have a pocket full of 'em, when we start, but we fee 'em all out to porters before we get there.

-An observing pedestrian has made the startling discovery that the reason the startling can not succeed as well as when she is on the walk one hand is usually employed in holding up her dress.

-A gentleman, who was describing to his wife an accident he had witnessed, said, that for a moment he fairly held his breath. "Did you, dear?" was the reply, "and for a whole moment! It must have been a wonderful exhibition of strength." -There is a man in Burlington who has failed in businees five times since he was twenty-three years old, and has never lost anything but his temper. And pays fifty cents on that-never gets more than half so angry as other men.

A good deacon not a thousand miles from Oil City, Pa., being late at a church where it was his duty to hold service, asked the congregation to excuse his tardiness, as he had been up the night before opening the finest lot of dry goods ever brought to town.

-Human nature is pretty much the same the world over. Even in France, when a woman rushes out into the front yard bare-headed, the neighbors all know that a strange chicken has put in its" appearance, or that a dog has chased a cat across the verbena bed.

-"The boat has turned over and drowned your son," said a man approaching a fishing party and addressing an old gentleman. "Great goodness!" exclaimed the old man, bursting into tears. "He was my hope in this life. He was the best boy on the place; and besides that, he had the bait cup with him."

-A young lady from the rural dis-tricts entered a dry goods store the other day, and asked for a pair of stockings. The clerk politely asked her what num-ber she wore. "Why, two, you blasted fool! Do you suppose I ama centipede, or have got a wooden leg? How many do you compose a track here a the pairs." do you suppose a two-legged hair pin like me would wear?"

-A farmer widower of a back county m this State was chased over a barn lot by a bull, stamped on, tossed over the fence, kicked by a colt and suffered a concussion of the nervous system through the coy advances of a sportive ram. When picked up he was weeping bitterly, and upon being asked the cause of his grief replied with great motion : "That 'ar experience recalls such vivid memories of my poor lost Stiry." -The Arkansaw man has many ways getting his name into print, and when

ENGRAVING artistically done. Special attention given to repairing. All work warranted.

F. L. MCCRACKEN.

ARAPAHOE STAR MILLS FLOUR.

PROPRIETORS OF THE

A. PROBST & BRO.

PROPRIETORS.

WE KEEP ON HAND

BREAD, PIES & CAKES,

GRAHAM BREAD.

Cakes Made on Order.

Lunch Room in connection, where you can get hot coffee, etc.

Saddles 🖗 Harness.

[OPPOSITE HOTEL ON THE HILL.]

Manufacturer and Dealer In

SADDLES, HARNESS. BRIDLES, COLLARS, BRUSHES, COMBS,

Stock Saddles, Cow-Boy out fits, and Spurs.

R. H. HAMILTON.

WHIPS.

felicity.

Go to A. P. Sharp's for FIRST-CLASS

SHAVE or HAIR CUT.

HOT AND COLD BATHS

ON SHORT NOTICE.

Ladies' and Children's Hair Dressing a specialty.

It will purify and enrich the BL OOD, regulate the LIVER and KIDNEYS, and RESTORE THE HEALTH and VIGOR of YOUTH! In all those diseases requiring a certain and efficien. TONIC, especially Dyspepsia. Want of Appetite. Indiges-tion, Lack of Strength, etc., its use is marked with immediate and wonderful results. Bones, muscles and nerves receive new force. Enlivens the mind and supplies Brain Power. LADIES peculiar to their sex will find ha DE, HARTER'S IRON TONIC a safe and speedy curre. It gives a clear and healthy complexion. The strongest testimony to the value of Dr.

fumped up and paid the barber, an

About three years ago Miss Rose Haverman, a bright and good-looking young lady of Greensburg, Pa., was engaged to wed a young gentleman of Middletown, Pa., by the name of Fox. He died three days before the ceremony. Stricken with grief, the young lady for a A correspondent who was a passenger on a Michigan Central train bound west from Detroit the other day says that at a from Detroit the other day says that at a small station near Kalamazoo astrapping youth boarded the train, leading by the hand a blushing rustic maid. Taking his stand in full view of everybody, he orated: "Ladies and gentlemen, this is my wife, Mrs. Heuffer. Ain't she a dai-sy!" He proudly exhibited his prize to the amused observers through a fifty-mile ride with an exemplification of the en-ticements he had used to win her. Ar-rived at Buchanan, the happy pair alighttime lived in retirement, but recently her time lived in retirement, but recently her heart and hand were again sued for and successfully won by a promising young man of 22, named David Price. They were engaged to be married, and Mr. Price removed to Latrobe, where, re-cently he lost his life while bathing, just three weeks before he hoped to be united in marriage to Miss Haverman. Upon hearing the news of her affiance d's sud-den death she left immediately for Lahearing the news of her athanced's sud-den death, she left immediately for La-trobe to attend the funeral, only to dis-cover that he had been interred the previous day, the news having been de-layed in reaching Greensburg.—Greens-burg Post. ticements he had used to win her. Ar-rived at Buchanan, the happy pair alight-ed in the presence of a large crowd as-sembled to greet them. Again the groom announced: "Ladies and gents, my wife. Ain't she a darling!" As the train moved out the passengers waved their handker-chiefs and applauded, and the happy-and-not-ashamed-for-everybody-to-know-it pair were left to their rare and singular felicity.

Perverted Proverbs.

Hunger is the best sauce, hence street boys are naturally saucy. Many men have many minds, but one woman frequently has more than all of them.

They who dance leave the host to pay the fiddler.

What can not be cured supports the doctors.

Speak of the devil and he is sure to call for copy.

A fair exchange would ruin the stock market.

Marriages were invented in Heaven, but unfortunately the process was not patented. If wishes were horses we should all be ruined in boarding-stable bills. Fair play is a jewel, but bluff takes Swallowing a Trombone.

"Wall, neow, will you look at that fel-ler," said a gentleman from the country, laying one hand affectionately on the shoulder of the scribe, and pointing with the other to the trombone player. "I kin take my affidavy I saw him run three foot o' that ere brass thing down his throat not half a minute ago; there he goes again; he shoved a yard of that thing into himself then, sir, if it was an inch; he must be frightful holler inside." "It's long practice that enables him "It's long practice that enables him to do that," said the reporter. "When he get's done playing on that instrument he will swallow it entire." "He won't have no more brass in him than you've got, if he does, sonny," said the rustic, perceiving the guile of the scribe as the latter fled from the wrath to come.

-Smoking has become so prevalent in South Australia that a measure has been introduced in the Legislature to check the practice in youth. It imposes a fine of 5s. to £5 upon any person under eighteen who shall smoke a pipe, cigar or cigarette Jumped up and paid the barber, and again had my face wiped off, and struck for the depot and got the train just as it was moving. People on the train looked at me and then turned away and whis-pered. They thought I was an escaped lunatic. I want a close shave, please, and take your time to it. I'm going to make up for this helter-skelter business in the morning."—Exchange. About three years ago Miss Bose is taken up. The gentleman who wants his name to appear in the local paper calls on the editor and says : "Killed the biggest mad dog this morning you ever saw. Better make a local to that effect as it might serve as a warning to the people of the neighborhood. You needn't say that I killed him. Just say that a very large mad dog was killed the other day by—well, you can put my name in. I don't care."

The President of the Lime-Kiln Club on Matrimony.

"I understand," began the President, as the meeting opened in due form, "dat quite a number of de members of dis club am gwine to be mar'ied doorin' dis season. Dat's all right, an' I wish 'em much joy, an' shall be glad to witness de obsequies of each an' ebery one. But, I want to say a few words in gineral. In de fust place am you gwine to mar'y fur I want to say a few words in gineral. In de fust place, am you gwine to mar'y fur love or fur a sort of business partner-ship? If you answer fur love, let me warn you to be sartin dat you doan' mis-take de sentiment. Many a young man who thought his heart torn by love has plunged into matrimony to diskiver dat he simply had admiration fur a $30 set of false teeth an' a high instep. If you answer fur a sort of bizness partyou answer fur a sort of bizness part-nership, let me warn you not to expect too much. You won't love de woman, an' she won't trust you. It will be a sort o' hoss trade, in which both parties will be cheated, and both continer to be mad about it. You kin get along arter a fach. about it. You kin get along arter a fash-ion, an' people who see her on your arm at a circus won't know how you fight at home

"If you mus' marry, let common sense have a show in de transackshun. Doan' go off yer feet bekase you meet a gal who kin sing like a robin, smile like gal who kin sing like a robin, smile like a rose an' jump off a street-kyar widout boderin' de driver to stop. A wife will have much to do besides singin' an' cul-tivatin' dimples. If you am gwine to marry ax yerself how fur $10 per week will go when divided up fur clothes an' pervishuns an' house rent an' fewel an' incidentials. Befo' you fall in love wid a gal who looks too sweet fur any thin' in incidentials. Befo' you fall in love wid a gal who looks too sweet fur any thin' in a red plush sacque kinder figger on how many sich duds your income would afford her. Befor' you am all broke up ober a gal who plays de pianner, talks French, paints landscapes an' reads poetry jist sit down an' figger who am to cook yer meat an' taters, patch yer cloze, darn yer socks an' help ye make $12 buy $15 worth of things. Befo' ye let a pa'r o' flashin' eyes an' a cunnin' dimple captivate ye look aroun' a little an' see if de owner has got a temper like a wildcat. Marriage am a lottery simply bekase people take each odder unsight an' unseen. Let us now prognosticate to bizness."

A Recipe For Making Cake.

Lumber, Lime, Cement, Sash, Doors, Blinds, Hard and Soft Coal.

YARDS AT McCook, Indianola, Cambridge, Arapahoe, and Oxford.

O-SIS THE PLACE FORSE O

Ice Cold Lemonade, Ginger Beer, Pop, Nuts.

in his profanity at times. Mr. Hayes swore only in his mind, and then only in the absence of his wife. Expounding the Scriptures.

Little Sammy Peterby went to church last Sunday and did not behave himself as decorously as he should have do e. His father, who is an Austin editor, re buked him for his levity, but the little fellow insisted that he listened to every thing the preacher said.

"Then, Sammy, I suppose you re-member the text."

"Of course I remember the text. I don't remember the words, pa, but I know pretty near what it was."

"What was it, then ?"

"If a man smites you on the right cheek, smite him on the left, and of such is the kingdom of Heaven."

-A happy family : "I suppose," sait the man in the easy chair, "that my wi

President Lincoln did not use profane language. Andy Johnson could swear and did swear, roundly and fluently So did Mr. Stanton and Mr. Seward. So also, Mr. Fessenden. Henry. Wilson, when his feelings were wrought up, as they were, for example, when Colfax was nominated for Vice President at Chicago, would swear a little oath as though he were half ashamed of it. General Grant didn't swear, neither did Garfield. Mr. Randall does occasion-ally. Judge Kelley has been known to forget his early religious training. At-torney General Brewster can swear flu-ently in three languages. Eli Perkins says that Don Cameron was never known to utter a profane word, but then Eli Perkins was never known to tell the truth. Oliver P. Morton was determined in his profanity at times. Mr. Hayes the pile.

