

NEBRASKA.

One hundred and seven teachers attended the institute recently held at Geneva.

The watermelon patch is now holding out strong inducements for the small boy.

The street improvements of Omaha this year in the way of paving and grading, will cost $400,000.

Difficulties of Union Pacific workmen have been amicably settled, and all have returned to work.

There is considerable hog cholera in the vicinity of Ashland, several farmers having suffered losses.

Beatrice's canning factory is about ready to commence operations. About 100 women have been employed.

The first shipment of cattle to the Omaha stock yards arrived on the 13th. There were five hundred head.

The Catholic school building at West Point will be completed and ready for occupancy sometime next month.

Five thousand people attended a picnic at Auburn last week, given under the auspices of the Catholic society.

The Omaha stock yards are now ready for the handling of stock. The first arrival consisted of thirty car loads.

A young married woman of Columbus left that town a few days ago, leaving a one-year old baby with her husband.

A new postoffice building is about to go up in Kearney, the contract having been let and the material placed on the ground.

An Omaha family were made quite sick by partaking of coffee that had been poisoned in the process of giving it a nice color.

Clarence H. Wilder, of Adams county, was caught in the rod of a threshing machine and was horribly mutilated. He will die.

Ellsworth Murphy, of Buffalo county, while monkeying with a gun shot Mrs. H. M. Porter, of Cherry creek. She was not fatally hurt.

The state fair grounds are rapidly being put in condition for the exhibition which opens on the 5th of September, continuing until the 12th.

The Presbyterian society of Nelson has broken ground for a church edifice, and the improvement will be completed as soon as possible.

The Beatrice canning company, which began operations a few days ago, employ eighty people. The managers expect to put up 10,000 cans daily.

Rev. Dr. Potter, of Hobart college, N. Y., is on a visit to the state. He has not yet reconsidered his declination of the bishopric of Nebraska.

A. O. Henry, of Wayne, stole $125 from J. F. Shebban, brick manufacturer of that place. Henry was arrested and bound over in the sum of $500.

The leader of the Indiana colony, which settled this spring in the country 100 miles west of Valentine, reports the colony in a satisfactory condition.

Nat Ross, son of Capt. Ross, of Fort D. A. Russell, was quite severely hurt at Omaha a few days ago by falling under the wheels of an ambulance.

A. Bianchi, a fourteen-year old boy of Sarpy county, was bitten by a rattlesnake, his foot swelling to enormous proportions. Physicians think he may recover.

The Fremont creamery averaged 1,745 pounds of butter per day during July, or over 47,000 pounds. During the same period it turned out 691 cheeses.

The winter wheat crop in Saline county is turning out well. Where the crop was well put in, and not damaged by storms, the yield is 25 to 30 bushels per acre.

Confidence men have been operating on Union Pacific trains. Several of the gang were arrested a few days ago, and their crooked work will be investigated.

In an altercation at North Platte recently Ernest Sorenson received a severe cut in the breast. Lorenzo Wiser being his assailant. The wound is not necessarily dangerous.

Two hotels are among the many valuable improvements that are being made in Doniphan the present season. Two churches are also in course of erection in that village.

There is a great demand for butter of the Waterloo creamery, and there are more orders than can be filled. All doubt about the institution being a paying investment has vanished.

Ex-Marshal Guthrie, of Omaha, has thirty days grace from the date of his conviction before he is compelled to don the striped clothes and do duty for the state at the pen near Lincoln.

Tom Lowrey, of Lincoln, "big fat Tom Lowrey," as he is familiarly called, gave Elder Howe, of the capitalist city, an order for fifty loads of corn cobs to be distributed among the poor.

Mrs. Newby, wife of Louis Newby, living near Tobias, was severely burned by the explosion of a coal oil can, and is considerably indisposed, though she is said to be slowly gaining.

Citizens of Clay and adjoining counties who formerly lived in Fulton and McDonough counties, Illinois, will hold a reunion on the second day of Clay county fair, September 13th, 1884.

Max Grimm, of Omaha, promised to marry Margaret Klensch, but at the time appointed for the ceremony failed to put in an appearance, and now the girl will sue for $10,000 damages.

An Omaha officer, a few nights ago, found a deserted infant on the steps of the St. Mary's avenue convent, placed there by some heartless wretch. It was cared for by the sisters of the institution.

It was estimated this spring that $30,000 would be expended this year in buildings, in Wayne. Those already completed and under way will cost considerably more than that sum, and it will probably reach $80,000.

Treasurer Jackson, of Nance county, has received since the first of January to August 1, inclusive, $11,722.57 of the taxes of 1883, $854.84 of the taxes of 1882, and $64.90 of the tax of 1881, making a total of $12,642.40 taxes collected.

From a young farmer who resides near Tobias, the Tribune learns that a gentleman now in the east contemplates the erection of a cheese factory there this fall or next spring. He will require about 500 pounds of milk daily to carry on his business.

Elk precinct, Nuckolls county, has had two elopements and barely escaped another. The daughter of Mr. Buck and a fifteen year old daughter of Mr. Job Allen were discovered before the well laid plans were carried into execution, and so was detained.

H. E. Cady, of the Chicago lumber company, has ordered the lumber for the cattle sheds to be erected at the distillery in Nebraska City.

It will require 175,000 feet or thirteen cars of lumber to build the sheds, and will accommodate 700 head of cattle, and will cost over $4,000.

The Columbus Journal says that several cows of the Schuyler herd having died mysteriously, one of the carcasses was examined, and it was found that the stomach had been clogged with mud from drinking muddy water. The herd had had no access to water except such as was stagnant on the prairie.

An old man named Verley was arrested at Ord by the United States officials, and arraigned before Judge Dundy at Omaha for selling whisky without a license. He pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs. Verley is said to be a decidedly hard case, and that this is not his first offense of the kind.

Charles B. Henry, who was ordered shot by Lieut. Greely, of the Arctic expedition, was a young German from Lincoln, in this state. His friends tried to dissuade him from going with the expedition, but his spirit of adventure was aroused by tales of Arctic exploits, and he determined to go. Driven to despair by his frightful hunger, Henry saw an opportunity to steal a little more than his share of rations, and he made the attempt. He was found out and shot for the crime.

Bishop Willard F. Mallalineu, D. D., of Boston, Mass., who is to preside at the three Nebraska conferences this fall, will come to the state in time to hold six educational conventions before the conferences open. One will be held in each district as follows: York, Wednesday, August 27; Lincoln, Thursday, August 28; Beatrice, Friday, August 29; Nebraska City, Saturday and Sunday, August 30 and 31; Red Cloud, Monday, September 1; Kearney, Tuesday, September 2. The presiding elder in each district will preside at the convention held for his district.

The Omaha hotels are making extensive preparations for taking care of the vast crowd that is expected on the occasion of the state fair from September 5th to 12th. It is determined that all shall be well fed and given places in which to sleep and rest. Among others, the Metropolitan, corner of 12th and Douglas streets, which last year comfortably took care of more fair visitors than any other hotel in the city, expects next month to be prepared to increase its capacity over that of 1883, besides serving all who come at the regular rates.

E. O. Ferrel, who burglarized the B. & M. depot at Franklin, Neb., on the night of May 7, securing about $500, broke jail at Bloomington July 31, and is now wanted by the authorities at that point. J. W. Deary, sheriff of Franklin county, offers a reward of $75 for his apprehension, and describes him as follows: About 25 to 28 years of age, 5 feet 9 inches high, slim build, thin features, fair complexion, dark eyes and hair, no beard, dark brown mustache (thin), has three fingers on the right hand off at second joint, wore dark blue clothes and carried his head high when walking. Ferrel is a school teacher by occupation, and it is expected that he is even now teaching the young idle how to shoot in some of the outlying counties.

CAPITAL BRIEFS.

The assistant United States Treasurer at New York has been instructed to substitute United States notes for gold certificates where possible in paying clearing house business.

The acting secretary of the interior has declined to grant the motion of Robert Carrick, for reconsideration of the decision refusing to order a survey of Arsenal island opposite St. Louis.

The values of the exports of domestic bread stuffs for July, 1884, was $12,052,970; for the same month last year, $10,313,673; for the seven months ended July 31, $79,547,251; for the same period last year, $75,430,916.

The original papers comprising the record of Greely's Arctic search and most interesting relics of that expedition were delivered into the custody of Gen. Hancock, on Governor's island, by Lieut. Sebree, of the Thetis.

A delegation of Comanche, Kiowa and Wichita Indians were at the interior department a few days ago to ascertain the proper course to be pursued in leasing their lands. They desire to lease between two and three million acres in the Indian territory to cattle men.

The Indian bureau will send a special agent to the Indian territory to learn the opinion of the majority of the Kiowa, Wichita and Comanche Indians relative to the leasing of their lands to the cattle men. It is understood by the Indian commissioner that a majority of the Indians oppose the lease.

It is understood that the vessels of the Greely relief expedition will be put out of commission in a few days and the officers and crews detached and placed in waiting orders. The supply ship Alert will probably be returned to the English government, as the object for which she was donated has been accomplished.

The treasury department has informed the British minister, through the department of state, that Patrick Carney, now detained on Ward's Island, N. Y., as a pauper, will be sent back to the port from which he sailed. Carney is the person of which the British minister wrote to the state department a few days ago.

The chief signal officer has secured the consent of the postmaster general to hoist a cold wave flag on the postoffice buildings throughout the country to signal for the benefit of farmers and others on the approach of cold waves. The flag is white, with a black center. It will remain in position twenty-four hours after being hoisted.

In order to avert as much as possible the continued decrease in the gold reserve, which now amounts to a little over $117,000,000, as compared to $148,000,000 on the 1st of May, it has been decided to restrict further payment of gold certificates from the treasury, and where possible to make payments in other funds than gold or its immediate paper representative.

Acting Secretary of the Interior Joslin has directed the commissioner of Indian affairs to write a letter for the delegation of Kiowa, Wichita and Comanche Indians to take to the Indian territory, advising their tribes to lease portions of their lands for a few years. The Indians expressed the opinion that leasing their lands to cattle men will not only yield them an income, but be the means of teaching them how to graze and care for cattle.

The British Grain Trade.

The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the corn trade, says: Intense dry tropical heat has prevailed since August 1. Harvest work proceeded rapidly. Grain matured in exceptionally good form. All the earliest wheat is now in perfect milling condition. Barley and oats vary. In some districts they are excellent and in others poor. Beans appear to be an absolute failure. The potato crop is unlikely to prove large, but will be freer from disease than for many years. Throughout the past week new wheat has made its appearance in various markets in a condition described as somewhat phenomenal.

The Missouri democrats nominated Gen. Marmaduke for governor, and then completed the state ticket as follows: Lieutenant governor, A. P. Moorehouse; secretary of state, Michael K. McGrath; for treasurer, James M. Siebert.

The Iowa democratic and greenback state central committee held a secret session at Des Moines, and after a stormy session decided to make a fusion on the electoral ticket the greenbackers taking six and the democrats seven of the candidates for electors.

BRIEFLY TOLD.

A fire at Erie, Pa., destroyed property worth $200,000.

The democrats of Missouri nominated Gen. Marmaduke for governor.

Forty-five distillers met at Peoria and formed a Western Export association.

Pneumo-pneumonia is reported to have broken out among the cattle at Elmhurst, Ill.

Robert Knight, of Grand Falls, was killed by the explosion of a dynamite blasting cartridge.

A congressional committee are about to investigate affairs of the soldiers' home at Milwaukee.

At Arlington, Texas, R. A. Lindsey cruelly murdered his stepfather and stepister. The murderer escaped to the woods.

George W. Jacoby & Son, one of the largest firms of marble dealers in Philadelphia, have assigned. Liabilities at present not known.

The international association of traveling passenger agents have just held their annual meeting at Denver. The next meeting will be in Boston.

The Texas & Pacific railroad has notified the transcontinental association that it will withdraw from the association ninety days from July 31st.

Anton Baccifco, of Cincinnati, indicted for murder in the second degree for killing Adam Dorer, October, 1882, was found guilty and sentenced to imprisonment for life.

Louis Taylor, a farmer near Sycamore, Ill., shot and killed Kittie Mitchell, aged 17. No cause assigned. The neighbors, after two hours' search, found him crouching in the river.

James B. Parke, a prominent merchant of Buffalo, N. Y., mysteriously disappeared in July. The family and friends are still in the greatest distress regarding his whereabouts and condition.

A meeting of coal producers was held in Chattanooga for the purpose of taking preliminary steps toward forming a pool. The pool will be expected to fix the price for all the southern states.

Union Pacific shophmen at Denver, Cheyenne and other points, struck on the 13th against a reduction of wages. Matters have not been adjusted yet, and the disaffection promises to spread all along the line.

K. O'Kura and M. Yokoyama, members of the Japanese chamber of commerce, have been spending several weeks in this country, obtaining a more thorough knowledge of the tea and silk markets of the United States.

Three children on a farm near South Perry, Ohio, named Robert Wood, Louie D. Wood and Kate Shaw, all under ten years, were burned to death in a barn, having gone there to smoke, and in so doing set the building on fire.

Mrs. Langtry, who has arrived in London, declares she is thoroughly pleased with her visit to America. She will probably return in the autumn, but says she has no idea of building a theatre in New York, as has been mentioned.

Judge Suit, of Indianapolis, in the habeas corpus proceedings, reduced the bail of J. C. S. Harrison, the defaulting banker, from $20,000 to $10,000, and he owes his release to his brother-in-law, Nicholas McCarty, becoming his bondsman.

A startling interest was excited at Lincoln, Neb., by the story of Henry being killed and eaten by the Greely party. His real name was Boek. His sister and other friends in Lincoln, where Boek also formerly lived, will push investigations.

Members of the bar of the Fifth judicial district of Illinois, tendered a banquet to Hon. Charles A. Zane, of Springfield, the newly appointed chief justice of Utah, Senator Cullom, General John M. Palmer, Hon. Blufford Wilson, and others were toast masters.

The American bankers' association, in session at Saratoga, resolved "that it is the sense of the American bankers' association that the coinage of standard silver dollars of 42 1/2 grains is against the welfare of the country, and recommend to congress the discontinuance of such coinage."

Only two cases of pleuro-pneumonia and Texas fever among the cattle are reported to the state authorities of Pennsylvania. Nothing serious is said to exist, and as soon as the report was received by the secretary of the board of agriculture had it attended to by dispatching a surgeon to the place designated.

In Platte county, Kansas, J. Daniels, who separated from his family during the winter, but who has been boarding with them for the last month, dressed himself, took a revolver, went to the bed where his wife was sleeping, and deliberately blew her brains out. After this he shot and wounded his daughter, and then killed himself.

At the coroner's investigation of the United States Hotel accident at Washington, testimony was given showing that Belding, the proprietor of the hotel, had known for a long time that the building was unsafe, yet never gave a word of warning to the boarders. The owners of the building were aware of its dangerous condition, but took no steps for its improvement.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Gen. Logan arrived at Albany on the 10th and was given an enthusiastic reception.

Gen. Butler's law partner writes that he will support the former for the presidency.

Gen. Logan, republican candidate for vice president, was given an enthusiastic reception at Watertown, N. Y., on the 14th.

Ex-Mayor Edward Cooper, chairman of the New York democratic state committee, has resigned. He assigns ill-health as the cause.

Republicans of the 7th Ohio district nominated ex-Gov. Foster for congress by acclamation. He was chairman of the convention and declined.

The Georgia democratic state convention, after nominating state officers, adopted a resolution strongly endorsing Cleveland and Hendricks and predicting their election.

Arrangements are perfected for two grand political rallies, one republican and the other democratic, at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, during the central Iowa fair, which occurs September 9 to 12, inclusive.

Congressman Holmes was renominated by the republicans of the Tenth Iowa district. There was no controversy. Judge Miracle, of the Eleventh district, was renominated for circuit judge by acclamation.

James G. Blaine has instructed attorneys to commence suit against the publishers of the Indianapolis Sentinel for slander. Political slanderers, he says, may go unnoticed, but his wife's honor must be protected.

The Missouri democrats nominated Gen. Marmaduke for governor, and then completed the state ticket as follows: Lieutenant governor, A. P. Moorehouse; secretary of state, Michael K. McGrath; for treasurer, James M. Siebert.

The Iowa democratic and greenback state central committee held a secret session at Des Moines, and after a stormy session decided to make a fusion on the electoral ticket the greenbackers taking six and the democrats seven of the candidates for electors.

They refused to change the date of the democratic convention at Davenport to a date not interfering with the state fair.

The following was put in circulation among the greenback clubs of Chicago: "Greenbackers, attention—Since we issued the call for a state convention to be held at Bloomington, August 19, 1884, A. H. McKeighan, who is not supporting Butler, nor acting in accord with the party, has issued a counter call for a state convention to be held at Bloomington, August 27, 1884. Feeling and knowing that to hold two state conventions the same year and for the same purpose would be detrimental to our cause we cordially invite, and urge all delegates appointed under the McKeighan call to attend, and take part in the convention to be held August 19. Reduced rates have been received on all railroads. The circular is signed by Z. Waters, chairman of the anti-monopoly state committee; James Freeman, secretary of the greenback state committee, and Jesse Harper, of the national committee.

FOREIGN NOTES.

Advices from India reports the crop prospects of lower Bengal bad, owing to drought.

Two regiments of marines and three more iron clad are being placed in readiness for China by the French.

Two men, believed to be French officers, were arrested at Coblenz while engaged in sketching the fortifications.

The German admiralty has authorized the German fishermen in the North sea to use fire arms should English officers molest them.

Chinese dispatches state Patenottré, the French minister to China, declares the French have no intention of interfering at Shanghai.

Bismarck and Count Kalomky are making arrangements to take common action towards France and England on the question of harboring active anarchists.

A dispatch from Brighton says the duke of Wellington dropped dead there as he was entering a train for London. The great archeologist, Dumont, is also dead.

Vienna is almost in a state of panic in consequence of a large number of serious fires that have recently occurred; hardly a day now passes without some notable conflagration.

At the medical congress at Copenhagen Dr. John S. Billings, assistant surgeon-general of the United States army, in behalf of the American medical association, invited the congress to hold its next meeting at Washington, in 1877.

The whole of the Gordon relief expedition will be pushed forward to Wady Halfa speedily. It proceeds direct from Semneh to Dongola. There are plenty of boats on the Nile below and above the cataracts for the transport of troops.

The fear now prevails that Marseilles has not seen the worst of the plague. The increased mortality is ascribed to the hasty return of emigrants, coupled with the unbearable heat. The general aspect in Marseilles is improving. Business, however, is at a standstill.

The English receive with some concern the news of American mediation between France and China. English diplomatists have long since been aware of the present American minister's views of the possibility of greatly enlarging American influence in the eastern seas. This suspicion that Mr. Young means to seize this occasion to strike a blow at English political and commercial supremacy in China.

A CAPTURED BRUTE.

A Scoundrel From Iowa Overhauled at Omaha Herald.

Marshal Cummings received a circular recently describing one James Augustus Phillips, a man who had committed a criminal assault upon a little girl a few miles west of Council Bluffs, and had escaped. A photograph of the fellow was enclosed, with the "pointer" that he traveled with a red-headed woman who sold electric belts.

Yesterday morning a woman came to the police station to ask help in recovering two electric belts which she had left as security for a loan at the saloon corner of Eleventh and Harney streets. Deputy Marshal Gordon remembered the Phillips case, and sent the woman to the marshal, who also recollected it upon seeing her. The marshal and a police officer accompanied the woman to the saloon where her difficulty was adjusted. The marshal called the saloonkeeper aside and showing him Phillips's photograph, learned that the original of the picture had been seen in the city with the woman. The marshal set a trap, and shortly afterward the man appeared and was taken and jailed.

In the afternoon the marshal crossed to Council Bluffs, and left word of the arrest of the scoundrel to the police. He was arrested this morning at the Phillips place. It is reported that there is $100 reward offered but even if there is not, our police like to catch such a scoundrel, as this one is reported to be, for the fun of the thing.

MURDERING MORMONS.

Recruiting Elders Roughly Dealt With in Tennessee.

A dispatch from Centerville corroborates the report of a murder of Mormons in Lewis county, Tenn., by masked men numbering about forty. Thirteen of these attacked the house of Martin Condon, where a Mormon meeting was in progress. Forcing open the door, they were encountered by young Martin Condon, armed with a gun. In the efforts to disarm him one of the raiders was struck with the gun, unmasking him, but he drew a pistol and shot Condon in the bowels, and after staggering a few feet he was shot again by one of the party with buckshot, killing him instantly. The same instant another of the attacking party fired upon the Mormon elder, and the wife of the man, who was partly hidden behind the wife of old man Condon, killing Gibbs, and severely wounding Mrs. Condon in the thigh. He then fired three remaining loads in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he got out of the house, J. R. Hudson fired and killed Dave Hinson, one of the masked men. One of Hinson's party stood over a remaining load in the gun at a Mormon elder named Berry, hiding behind the bed, killing him instantly. Another Mormon elder in the house ran out by the back door, and was pursued by two of the attacking party stationed outside, who fired on him as he ran, but it is not known whether he was killed or not. After killing Berry the three men started, and just as he