The large quantity of ammonia used in the so-called leading Baking Powders is poison. Leis' German Baking Powder contains none of the injurious ingredients. Sold by C. H. Rogers

Our Bondville correspondent says that the need of that locality is more workers. We have a number who might be induced to fill the bill hanging around this town, that we will loan.

Dr. Johnson sold his office, last week, to A. C. Towne, who has been occupying desk room in the same for some time. It makes an advantageous location for the real estate business.

To accommodate their large business, the Lytle Bros. have built a considerable addition to their store, this week. This gives them a commodious and convenient store room and repair shop.

Still another little deal in real estate. Jos. Dudek has sold his homestead southeast of here to his brother John Dudek of Wilber, Saline county. Joseph has rented the land for two years.

There are a number of cases of intermittent fever in town, and a few cases of a typhoid-malarial character. Due attention to the laws of hygiene will go far in keeping fever out of your homes.

Another party was in town, last week, looking into the prospects for a brick making establishment. The gentleman has claims in this neighborhood, and thinks seriously of opening a yard here, this fall.

Those 'as-gentle-as-old-cows' ponies of which Cal. Reed is the proud proprietor, demonstrated a contrary idea for a minute, last week. Damages, nominal. Moral: Don't bank too much on the festive broncho.

A little nine-month's old child of the Kings, who recently arrived in McCook, died Tuesday night at the Churchill House. The infant was in delicate health in its eastern home and was brought here with the hope of recovery.

The streets of our town seem to afford exceptional facilities for breaking wild horses and exhibitions of a like character. It may be that that is the purpose for which they are intended, if such is the case, good use is being made thereof.

Nights of restlessness is often caused by eating adulterated food. Baking Powder that contains ammonia or alum are poisonous, and should not be used. Leis' German Baking Powder is free from any adulterations. Sold by C. H. Rogers.

A few of McCook's needs: A cooler. A fire company. More enterprise. A few more ordinances regulating peddling, hawking, etc. A more rigid enforcement of a number of ordinances already passed and approved. More concern for the general good of our town, and less for self. A man to buy grain.

Although the clerical force at the U. S. land office has been increased to three, the work at that office has been accumulating, by reason of the great rush of the past few weeks. Land is being filed on for many miles in all directions. Another year like the present one is likely to interfere with the large ranges.

We note a little improvement in the condition of J. W. Howell, who has been assisting in the station for some time. Mr. Howell has had a severe tussle with typhoid fever, but his ultimate recovery can now be expected. Wm. Fruin, who has also been a bed the past two weeks, with intermittent fever, is improving rapidly.

Let us observe that the Colvin House has probably the most superlative coterie of musical celebrities in McCook. Particularizing, we would like to know who excels "Herb." in vocalization, or surpasses the fair son of Sunny Italy in manipulating the mouth organ. Not to mention the genial host in his Arbuckle-Levy solas tenore.

I have prosecuted pension, increase of pension and other war claims against the government from 1862 to the present time, and any soldier, soldier's widow or heirs of soldiers who desire to have a claim prosecuted, or make inquiries, will please address me at McCook, Red Willow county, Neb., P. O. box 60, with stamp enclosed.

E. M. FARNSWORTH.

The following is the report of the doings of the U. S. land office for August: No. of pre-emption filings, 124; homestead, 235; soldier's filings, 7; timber culture, 254; final proofs, homesteads, 13; cash, $8,821.60; total receipts, $15,943.42. It will be seen that Uncle Sam has made over $15,000 clear out of this office, this month. We have, since receiving the above report, made overtures to Uncle Sam for an exchange of franchises, but don't feel very sanguine of success—on account of the amount of "boot" we ask.

Another restaurant is materializing. The colored gentleman who has been cooking for the Circle Ranch is making arrangements for opening up one in the Wilson building on Main avenue.

Neither alum or ammonia are natural products, and should not be used in articles for our daily food. Leis' German Baking Powder is free from any of the above articles. Sold by C. H. Rogers.

THE TRIBUNE force enjoyed a large and luscious watermelon at the hands of W. Coleman, who resides on the "big flat" northwest of McCook. The melon crop is just simply immense this year, although not of superior grade.

As an example of how widely two men differ in their estimates of this county and its future, commend us to a granger and a stockman—the one is the antipodes of the other every time. But the granger estimate seems to be the more popular this year.

Orleans Press: On Saturday we had a pleasant call from Charles Caffrey, who is a large stock and land owner in Fairfield township. Charley at present has charge of a section on the B. & M. west of McCook, near Stratton, and came down from there to visit his family and look at his stock over Sunday.

The pavement along the lots of J. Beaver, W. C. LaTourette and D. Kendall on Main avenue need attention. Walking along those lots is unpleasant and dangerous, not taking into account the appearance. Mere direction of attention to this matter ought to call forth immediate action. They need repairing badly.

Mrs. Vincent of Arapahoe is preparing her different music classes up the valley to give a musical entertainment in McCook, the end of the present month. It is proposed that a number of each of her classes in the different towns east of here come up to McCook and assist the class at this point in their entertainment, and the same program is to be carried out in all the towns in which Mrs. Vincent has classes.

Culbertson Sun: We learn that an M. D. of McCook will open a drug store in Culbertson in a short time. There are pleasant whispers in the air that Culbertson will have a bank in the near future. We feel sure that it will be a paying institution. We learn that several valuable branches of business will be opened at this place in the near future. There will be several dwelling houses erected here, this fall. The town is booming as it never boomed before.

The report of a large transaction in stock and real estate, in which W. N. McCandlish was one of the principals and Mr. Worth of Middleton, Connecticut, the other, comes to our ears. Mr. McCandlish's ranch is situated on Driftwood, about 20 miles from this point, and comprises 1600 acres of fine deeded land, in one of the most picturesque localities in this western country. His ranch is stocked with about 225 head of cattle and 150 head of horses, all of which, with the ranch and appertaining improvements, have been purchased by Mr. Worth. Mr. McCandlish, we are further informed, will move to McCook, and build on his lot immediately north of J. F. Rawlings residence.

Communicated.

TO THE EDITOR:—Friday, the 28th ult., being the 35th anniversary of Mr. John Modrel's birth, a number of his friends and neighbors assembled at his residence, 5 miles north of McCook, to celebrate the day. A fine dinner was served by Mrs. Modrel and assistants, to which all did ample justice. During the afternoon the juvenile portion of the company gave a very pleasant entertainment, consisting of songs and recitations. After which Mr. M. regaled his guests with melons of such quality, and in such quantity, as to make glad the heart of lovers of the luscious fruit. Not 'til the sun was sinking low in the west did the company disperse, all wishing the genial host many returns of the day. Mr. Modrel is an energetic and successful farmer, a fact to which his abundant crops, and over 500 beautiful young trees growing on his place, will testify. When he builds a new residence, which he intends doing in a few years, his place will be one which he and family can with pride call home. Sept. 3d, 1884. A GUEST.

BONDVILLE.

Workers are what we want here. Town is lively; people busy and business rushing.

A merry crowd of base ballists passed through town, Friday, enroute for Indianola.

Mr. James Lyons and wife of Culbertson were down, last week, looking after their ranche here.

The tide of emigration still continues. New arrivals every day. Among them are Mr. John Stockton and wife, late of Hancock county, Ill., Mr. A. Griffin of Wisconsin, and Mr. Al. Prelin of Burlington, Iowa. The latter is an old friend of Frank Vore, and they expect to open up a store at Indianola. Success to their efforts in the far west.

Our "school marm" departed. Miss Irma Phillips, having resolved to "flee the wrath to come," stepped down and out of single blessedness, Thursday, August 28th, and became a wearer of the hymeneal halter in partnership with Mr. Chester Dow. May happiness ever attend them as they advance along the rugged steeps of life.

The dedication services were held at the new M. E. Church on Ash Creek, last week. Quite a number were present. Among whom were Revs. Lemon, Mann, Moore and Jones, Messrs. Teas, Mott and family, Ward and family from Indianola, W. S. Stilgebouer of Danbury, Indianola M. E. Sabbath school came out as a picnic and were found by the Star of the Divide.

A society known as the Alpha Beta Literary Society was organized, last week, to meet every Saturday evening at the new church, with the following officers: President, Frank Vore; Vice President, Mrs. K. Furr; Secretary, Jennie Jamison; Treasurer, Lettie Boughton; Marshal, W. O. Bond. As the name implies the society is still in the alphabet of the forensic and oratorical arts, therefor an invitation is extended to all who enjoy such labors to come over and help. It is the intention of the society to commence a series of entertainments, the proceeds of which are for the benefit of the church.

A gentle zephyr floats out on the balmy August air from Indianola bearing the tidings: Two more maidens have made their debut into society; two more have come to share the ills and pleasures of this unfriendly world. They have taken up their abode with W. E. Rollings, and there will remain until some gallant lord of creation shall ask them to share his house and home. Remember smokers two Havanas this time. MOTHER'S SON.

For Sale.

I will sell my brown mare very cheap. Warranted to haul a buggy in 3 minutes. Only reason for selling I am away from home so much, cannot take care of her. J. B. MESERVE.

Special Meeting.

There will be a special meeting of the Southwestern Nebraska Stock Growers Association at Benkelman on Monday, September 8th at 2 P. M. F. A. WEBSTER, Secretary.

WOMEN are women. That is one creditable thing that can be said about them. No matter where they may be or what the conditions that surround them, they will flee from a spider and scream at the sight of a mouse. There are but few of them who do not think their sex is greatly underestimated and unfairly criticised by the men, yet they criticise each other unsparingly. They seem to have no charity for one of their own sex who may step beyond the prescribed limits in which they are required to walk, and apparently take special delight in kicking those who happen to get down. Their love and pity is all for the sterner sex. For them they have the broadest charity, forgiving again and again offenses they would not once forgive in one of their own. Their troubles are all about men, not business or affairs of state; their solicitude for his comfort and success, and their tears for his woes. A man can not be thus because he is a man. A woman is so because she is a woman.—Ex.

The plain velveteen skirt will assert itself as soon as fall fashions are announced.

Greater variety than ever prevails in the outlines of garments, dresses, wraps, jackets, and mantels this fall.

The fashionable hat this fall will be made of coarse black or brown straw, with a pointed front and back, and a rolled rim.

Among fall wraps come short jackets fitted in to the figure in the back, loose, flared Fedora fronts, lace bordered and with shoulder knots of ribbon loops.

It was a sneaking reporter of the New York Times that made the first publication concerning the mode by which the unfortunate survivors of the Greely expedition prolonged their lives until they were discovered and rescued by vessels sent out for the purpose. The Times deserves the execration of Christendom for its ghoul-like tunneling into the graves of the dead and the sad secrets of those who suffered the last extremities in the frozen regions of the north. It was a dastardly deed to uncover the bones of the men who perished for the purpose of gloating over the mortification of the living. No greater misfortune can overtake a civilized man than to be tormented and crazed by hunger until his animal instincts drive him to the horror and despair that cannibalism means to men reared in the United States. No decent and humane man desires the veil to be withdrawn and a public spectacle made of such things.—Journal.

An account of one of the most dastardly deeds comes from Savannah, Mo. Two young girls, 7 and 9 years old respectively, were on the 31st inst., outraged and murdered, while on their way to Sabbath School. The suspected fiend is an 18 year-old son of a respectable farmer. The account indicates the affair as being one of the darkest deeds ever perpetrated.

Leather belts are extensively worn with all kinds of toilet.

Brown in a variety of shades will be very much worn this fall.

The trimmed jersey is as popular in Paris and London as it is in New York.

Gordon blue and Little Duke green come among a host of new colors for fall wear.

"For Consumption of the Lungs, I know of no medicine that stands higher than MARSH'S GOLDEN BALSAM. It will cure where cures are possible."—H. L. Smith, Fort Scott, Kans.
