> The people of the Republican Valley have much to be thankful for. The past season has been a successful one, and now, while business seems to be stagnant at all points and business centers east and west, here we are enjoying a reasonable amount of prosperity and plenty, although capital is rather coy and difficult to get one's hands on.

Col. Cramer's new residence received close call from fire Monday evening. It seems that a fire had been built in the fire-place of one of the upper rooms, and that through a defect in the construction under the hearth, a joist was set on fire. When discovered the fire had progressed about fifteen feet across the room and was getting under good ing, on business connected with the in headway. All haste was made not yet determined as to what business to produce vomiting and Dr. Shaw was sent for. The stomach pump was freely used, but all effort seemed of no avail for some time, as convulsion after convulsion succeeded each other in rapid succession. Yet the doctor labored and after a time succeeded in getting the patient under control, and hope again returned. By night Mr. Baxter was somewhat better, and Monday morning found him able to resume his business with but the inconvenience of a sore throat.

McCook Public School.

The winter term of the McCook publie school opened with a good attendance, on Monday, January 5th, notwithstanding the fact that an uncertainty was quite prevalent as to whether the term would open on that day, or a week later. We respectfully suggest that parents send their pupils promptly and regularly in order that they may become thoroughly interested in their studies, and the highest degree of enthusiasm be maintained. It shall be our aim to conduct the school in such a manner as that pupils will consider it a pleasure to attend and that an absence will be a loss. The erection of our school building speaks well for the public spirit of the citizens of McCook, but it will soon prove inadequate to our wants, as more room will have to be provided in the near future to accommodate the rapidly increasing attendance. We are negotiating for a series of lectures, clocutionary entertainments, etc., the proceeds of which will be devoted to the purchase of an organ, library, lithological cabinet, and chemical and philosophical apparatus.
