Tuesday evening marked the advent of the pay car on her monthly visit to the railroad boys.

A Mason & Hamblin organ has been ordered for use in the Grammar department of the public schools.

Car-load of Roller Process Flour from Superior Mills at from 80c. to $1.50 per sack. Wilcox Bros.

Any person wishing to invest about $1,500 in a good paying business will please call at this office for information.

At the City Bakery you will find the largest and most delicious California pears ever offered for sale in McCook.

Stockmen from the Willow were pretty well represented in town, Friday. Proof making drawing quite a number hither.

A sidewalk from Main to McDowell streets on the south side of Dennison street has been ordered built. See adv elsewhere.

An excellent quality of sweet Michigan cider at City Bakery. Also, a car-load of Apples which will be sold cheap by the bushel.

Just arrived, at the City Bakery, a car-load of the Cream and Fancy brands of Grand Island Flour. Also, a supply of corn meal.

The expectation that, with the opening of spring, another heavy emigration will set in Republican Valley—ward is generally entertained.

The nicest Maple Syrup and new White Clover Comb Honey you ever saw at Wilcox Bros., and New Sorghum only 50 cents per gallon.

If you want to drive a good bargain when you want a Heating Stoves, go to Lytle Bros., where you can purchase a heater from $3.00 up to $40.00.

We have it from Mr. Farley that he lost five cows and four calves during the late "tantrum." The loss was among stock that were being fed right along.

The familiar face of Howard Manning, of McCook, beamed in on us New Year morning. Howard came to see—as all of course.—Republican City Topic.

Lost—Between Wilcox Bros' store and Wm. Crockett's residence in West McCook, a lady's purse, containing a amount of money.—Finder please return to this office.

J. D. Newton of Wallace, Kansas, will move part of his herd of brood mares and a thoroughbred Cleveland Bay stallion to McCook soon. The stallion will stand at Dunbar & Newton's barn the coming season.

We don't all apprehend things through the same glasses: Bill Nye has it "that the mills of the gods grind slowly, but they most generally get there with both heels." With both heels up, he might have added.

We have it that the Lincoln Land Co. contemplates making more improvements to their water works in the spring. A brick engine house and more tanks on the hill. The tanks will be put up as soon as the weather will permit.

If there is anyone on the fair bosom of this footstool who needs the commiseration of a Dcity, it is the ill-natured crank, who constantly assays to give expression to would-be witticisms at the expense of the feelings of others.

The following persons became members of the Congregational Church, last Sunday morning: Mrs. Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. Root, Mr. and Mrs. Moody, by letter; and Mrs. Lee, Nellie Lee and Laura Ferguson, by profession of faith.

All the boys who are not railroad men are quite unanimous in the opinion that the most noticeable improvement in the Eating House under the new management is in the prices. The boys can't stand the raise and are scattering to the four winds.

D. Guernsey lost 20 head of calves, one night, during the late cold snap, by smothering. The little fellows huddled together too closely, with the above result. A gentleman at Alma is feeding the bunch which numbers about 500. They were shipped in from Michigan.

Good fortune, like misfortune, frequently turns the recipient's brain, and evil results follow. Such has been the case with our townsman, Stanta Rolla, who recently received a bequest from his native Poland. Stanta, in the intensity of his "ratification" came near being a candidate for celestial honors—climbing the golden stairs. Another monument.

This country seems to be thoroughly saturated with ambition. Why even jack rabbits are wont to dispute as to speed with the monarchs of the road. Jack holds his own for about three quarters of a mile, when the driver opens the throttle a little wider, and the fleet quadruped goes the way of all the ambitious.

Rumors of brick blocks and river bridges and grist mills and additions to be laid out and vacant places to be opened up and sundry and numerous improvements to be made and machine shops to be projected and things like are current. The $100,000 improvements of the past year will truly be a drop in the bucket in comparison with the proposed and projected.

D. P. Rogers of Fort Worth, Texas, who sold horses in McCook, last season, will ship a choice lot of Texan mares and mare colts, one and two years old, to McCook, early in the spring. All the above stock are from Texan mares and well bred horses. All parties who purchased horses from Mr. Rogers, last year, were pleased with his horses and he will have no trouble in disposing of his bunch in the spring.

Eighteen thousand dollars have been paid into the County Treasury within the past two weeks. The opinion prevails most generally that the act making taxes payable January 1st is working a great hardship to tax-payers, especially as two year's taxes are made payable at once. Eighteen thousand dollars would make quite an item to our merchants in this county at this important juncture.

The number of letters of inquiry received by our local land officials has increased ten-fold during the past few weeks. And we might add just here that, current comment to the contrary, there are fully two million acres of government land subject to entry in this district. Though most of the desirable land in this county has been entered, Hitchcock, Dundy, Chase, Hayes and Frontier counties, afford many acres subject to entry. Red Willow also contains many claims that are contestable.

The present facilities for handling stock are entirely inadequate and put us at a great disadvantage when compared with provisions made for this important interest at other and much smaller towns. The present yard ought to be enlarged and scales put in, so that the stockmen on the Willow who sell a small bunch of heaves to one of our butchers will not be compelled to drive to Culbertson to have them weighed and driven to this point. Enlarged stock yards would be a great acquisition and advantage to our town.

Rock candy, Moses' cough candy, Lyons worm confections, arnica tooth soap, chlorate potash, globules, globe pills, atomizers, Espeys' cream balm, tooth brushes, nail brushes, hair brushes, paint brushes, etc., at Metropolitan Drug Store.

We have just received a car load of that Grand Island Flour that has been such a great favorite with the people of McCook, and we are selling it at a sweeping reduction of 50 cents per hundred on all grades. We have also reduced the price on bread, and we now give four loaves for 25 cents. Pies, 10 cents a piece. PROBST BROS.

Messrs Rider, Leland and Danbar have petitioned the Board of Trustees to order vacated, as by law provided, the alley running north and south through Block 30, of which they are owners. The matter is now in the hands of the committee on streets and alleys, who will in all probability report favorably. This will give an additional 20-foot lot on Dennison street.

A private "Blue Book" is now published which gives the names of all Nebraska citizens holding United States offices, together with their salaries, expirations of commissions and also lists of salaries in all government departments at Washington, classification of clerks, civil service rules, applications for appointments, and all about public offices and how to obtain them. Send 50 cents to Col. Geo. E. Earle, 1427 F street, room 4, Washington, D. C. (Washington correspondent Omaha Herald).

One of the important actions taken by the Colorado Stock Association at their recent meeting, held in Denver, was the forming of a higher scale of prices to govern the amount owners are to receive for stock, in their different grades, killed along the line of railroads. The scale was incorporated in a bill, which will doubtless become a law in Colorado at the next sitting of the legislature. This will be advantageous to our stockgrowers, who are members of this association. The B & M. people are satisfied—as the advance in scale prices is only in a just ratio with the advance in the price of cattle since the last scale was formed.

The people of McCook will have the pleasure of hearing Ella June Meade, the elocutionist, sometime early in February. Prof. Webster is arranging to have her here about that time, and other attractions will follow shall the receipts warrant it. The fund from these entertainments will be expended in getting an organ and in purchasing apparatus for the public school. We give an endorsement from the St. Louis Republican: A large audience assembled at Pickwick theater, last evening, to witness the entertainment given by the Knights of Honor. The program was made up almost entirely by Ella June Meade, and it is said to have taken all by storm. She has a voice capable of producing almost any desired effect.

We give below a few interrogations from Rosecrans & Son that are self-explanatory:

Ed. TRIBUNE: Can you inform us why the contract for furnishing material and building sidewalks was allowed to the highest bidder, Mr. J. F. Collins, for 75c. per lineal foot, when Rosecrans & Son's bid was but 70c., and when they stood ready to give references and bonds should they be required? What was the object in advertising for bids? Why should tax-payers be compelled to pay 5c. more per foot than is necessary to construct said sidewalks? It would have been officially correct had the difference between the highest and lowest bids been taken, but we are not certain that tax-payers will accept this view of the question. ROSECRANS & SON, Contractors and Builders.

The masquerade carnival at the Palace rink, Friday evening, called together a crowded house, both the skating arena and the space devoted to spectators being uncomfortably full-occupied. Between 50 and 75 couples were on the floor and judging from the receipts of the evening, there must have been between two and three hundred spectators present. Costumes varied widely in elegance and character, from the beautiful white fairies to the homely sons of Ham. The air was redolent with mirth and fun—sometimes rather hilarious, as one circumstance seemed to be funnier than another, but with a few exceptions, all was in good humor and in good taste. The only thing that could have added to the pleasure of a most enjoyable evening, is music. A few of the young men were a little forgetful in some of their gyrations, which were intended to be humorous, but happily no evil results followed. The management are to be congratulated on the success of their initial carnival.

BEAVER BITS.

EDITOR TRIBUNE:—The cold weather and snow drifts of the past few days have seriously interfered with our mails; week before last we received but one mail.

Our school is progressing finely and all seem well satisfied with Mrs. Thompson's teaching.

Rev. Towne of McCook has been holding a series of meetings here. He closed his labors for the time, last Sunday evening. And next will be Rev. Meecham of Wilsonville, who will preach to us in the near future, time not known to the writer. Rev. Mason will preach regularly every three weeks. His next appointment will be two weeks from last Sunday.

The M. E. Quarterly Conference for this District will be held at the Danbury school house on the Fourth Saturday and Sunday of this January. The Presiding Elder is expected to be in attendance.

An attempt is being made to make the Lyceum again interesting. We took in the Danbury Lyceum, last Saturday night. Found a full house—full to the utmost. The exercises were good. Program complete. The singing and the music by Johnson's string band hard to beat.

On last Thursday evening, at the residence of B. F. Bradbury, Esq., a number of our always cheerful and happy people assembled for a good time. The singing by Mrs. C. H. Smith, Miss Bradbury, Mrs. Townley and Mr. Devoe, with Mrs. Smith as organist, was good; and there being lots of it, was appreciated. Mrs. Bradbury's is the place to go to have a way up time.

We learn indirectly that some parties east of this place 15 or 20 miles have lost heavily in cattle by their dying in the last storm. Cattle should have shelter and feed in such weather.

Judson Remington had a valuable colt badly injured by a wire fence. Its entire recovery is quite doubtful.

A very fine horse belonging to Mr. B. Lehn has been quite sick. Mr. L. lost a horse not long since worth about $150.

A CARD.

McCook, January 9th, 1885.

To MR. AND MRS. JOHN SANDERS:—The undersigned, members of the McCook Lodge, U. D. A. F. & A. M., desire to express to you our appreciation of your worth as citizens and friends; and as members of this Lodge to extend to you our thanks for your kindness, zeal and generosity in opening your house and kindly caring for our guests on the occasion of our first festival, December 25th, 1884, recognizing that to your efforts were largely due the pleasure and success of that gathering.

Commending you both to the kind offices of all good people everywhere, we are in behalf of the members of this Lodge, your friends, G. L. LAWS, W. M., S. L. GREEN, S. W., Z. L. KAY, Treas., W. W. FISHER, J. W., T. G. REES, Sec., A. J. WILLEY, S. D., A. M. KELLY, J. D., JOHN ROXBY, Tyler.

The death of Mrs. G. W. Daniels, which occurred at the residence of her husband, Sunday afternoon, is surrounded with some of the most touching and pathetic scenes imaginable. Life and death, hope and despair, hung so long in the balance, that when the final dissolution approached, the parting of fond husband and loving wife was most sad and affecting. Mr. Daniels left with the remains, Monday morning, for Hamburg, Iowa, whither the father of the deceased had proceeded him, one day, to make arrangements for placing the remains in their last resting place on earth. The sincerest sympathy of many friends is extended to the bereaved husband in his sad affliction.

Some people don't know how to take care of cattle. About six weeks ago, we took a weak calf out of the herd, placed it in a warm stable, and fed it up in fine shape. The other night it died from pure grief, thinking of the hard time the calves outside were having.—Ludell Settler.

For 30 Days

Will sell Ash Extension Tables for $1.00 per foot, Kitchen Safes for $50, Carpets 35c. per yd. Windmills way down, Sewing Machines cheap for cash. A large and complete stock of Furniture 15 per cent. cheaper than can be sold by any other dealer.

J. S. PHILLIPS, Indianola, Neb.

Tribune Job Department.

We take especial pride in our job facilities, and now have in stock a full line of stationery of all kinds. Ball programs, invitations, etc. And with new type, presses, cutter, etc., we are prepared to do good work. Give us a trial.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to return our thanks to Messrs. Frank Harris, Fred Harris, George Chenery, W. E. Fry, Chas. Fisher and F. L. McCracken for kindness shown us in our late affliction.

CARL ROESLER, HERMAN ROESLER.

FOR SALE.

Quarter section of land, timber and water, 3 1/2 miles, and a 37-acre parcel, 1/2 miles from McCook. Both deeded. Call on or address, EATON BROS., 27 McCook, Neb.

Rooms for Rent.

I have a number of furnished rooms in the Church House for rent. Call at Colvin House. S. H. COLVIN.

Apples! Apples!

I have a fine lot of assorted winter apples for sale at very reasonable figures. S. H. COLVIN.

Wilcox Bros. Sell

Mrs. L. B. Stiles and sister, Miss Reilly, came in from the east on 39, Tuesday.

Representative Hoeknell spent Sunday at home. He returned to Lincoln, Monday morning.

Mort. Doyle, W. J. McKillip and others from the Willow were in town, Friday, on land business.

Ed. Lawton of Culbertson, one of the old-time cattlemen of the valley, was in town on business, Friday.

Tom Teas, Indianola's singing blacksmith, was among the many county-seat people in town, Saturday.

John Gordon came up from Arapahoe, Friday evening, to take in the masquerade at the Palace rink.

James Lyon was in town, Tuesday. He was on his way down from the range, and reports cattle in good condition.

Attorney Robinson of Bloomington came up to town, Friday, and spent a number of days in our thriving burg.

Messrs. Brickey & Co. of Creston, Iowa, have rented the old band hall, and will stock the same with clothing, etc., next week.

J. C. Arbuckle, who recently moved into his handsome residence on the hill, dropped in and subscribed to THE TRIBUNE, Wednesday.

J. B. Meserve returned from a meeting of the Colorado Stock Association, held at Denver, the latter part of last week, Sunday evening.

Uncle Jake Haigler and John McEvoy were in town, Sunday. Mr. Haigler leaves, shortly, for the south, where he has extensive stock interests.

Jas. M. Morris of Benkelman was in town, Monday. James will shortly go to New Orleans, and thence to Arizona, where he will invest and sojourn.

Miss Carrie Ashmore came up to attend the masquerade, Friday evening. She remained in town a few days, the guest of her cousin, Nellie Fisher.

Co. Com. E. J. Allington made a visit to the metropolis, Saturday, the first in months. He noted the great improvement made in our town since his last visit.

Mike Sullivan returned from an extended visit in Pennsylvania, Monday night, and reports himself as having had a most enjoyable visit in the old Keystone state.

Commissioner Green was absent the first of the week in attendance at a meeting of the county commissioners, who were engaged in settling with the Treasurer, etc.

Representative Hoeknell came home on No. 1, Wednesday night, in response to an important telegram. An heir apparent now graces the Hoeknell mansion. Usual weight, 10 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. McCartney, Misses Shaw, Ashmore and Calvin, J. W. Maiken, O. H. Shaw, Thos. Crumbaugh, A. A. Prehm, Mr. Vandellinder and others represented Indianola at the masquerade, Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sanders, who have presided over the B. & M. Eating House since its opening, left for Kearney, the latter part of last week. We expect to hear that John is back in the hotel business before long.

W. H. Hayden made his accustomed pilgrimage to McCook, Saturday. Mr. Hayden is considering the advisability of adding thirty feet to his store building, occupying the entire lot, to make room for his immense stock.

Mr. Beresford from Iowa has been in town, all week, with the view of locating here in the practice of law. He has, after thoroughly looking into the matter, decided to remain and be one of us. We welcome him to our coterie of professional men.

The old skating rink building is being put in shape for store rooms.

DIED.

ROESLER—Sunday morning, January 11th, 1885, at the residence of her husband, in South McCook, Mrs. Dora Roesler, wife of Carl Roesler, aged 60 years and 7 days.

DANIELS—At the residence of her husband in McCook, Neb., January 11th, 1885, Mrs. Angie Daniels, wife of G. W. Daniels.

IN MEMORIAM.

Mrs. Daniels was the daughter of S. P. Beckstead of Hamburg, Iowa, and was born July 19th, 1821.

She was married to Mr. G. W. Daniels November 18th, 1841. This is the short and simple annals of a brief, but beautiful life:

In the morning, when the dew was on the heather, the lark was in the sky chanting a hymn of praise and promise, and the breezes' balmy breath swept backward from her placid brow those golden locks, and kissed the roses of blooming health upon her cheeks, a dark shadow fell across her pathway, and startled her from the sweet dream of life and the fond reverie of hope.

She heard the voice, clear and distinct, ringing out from among the stars, "like some lone spirit o'er the plain," summoning her to the spirit land, and she meekly answered it with life.

She was a noble woman, full of all loveliness, and hers was a beautiful character. Meek and amiable in disposition, tender as a child, and gentle as a dove.

Her mind was rich in thought and filled with lofty aspirations and noble purposes; brilliant in wit, yet subdued and fascinating in manner; so that she was the light of home, the life of her friends and the charm of every circle. As a wife she was all that heart could wish, bestowing tenderly the deep wealth of her affection upon him she loved and honored. To him she was wonderfully tender and devoted, twining herself so gracefully around his kind and noble heart, and so deftly weaving his affections around her own as to seem the warp and woof of a single life.

She bore her afflictions with Christian resignation and sublime patience. Not a word of murmuring ever fell from her lips; nor a look of impatience shadowed her brow, but serene and tranquil in deepest suffering, she abided in faith the final hour. And when the death-damp was on her brow and the death-chill benumbed her body, she called her relatives to her bedside, and in Christ-like language, spoke of her home in heaven and requested them to meet her there, and then she would slowly lift her beautiful eyes upon her husband and child and then pleasantly turn to her watching friends around her bedside, with her face wreathed in angelic glory, as if to say, "I am finished; I have fought a good fight; I have finished my course."

Oh! it seems too bad—it is so sad—that one so young, so lovely, so promising, should die so early. And yet there is something charmingly beautiful about such a death as this; it is a sweet indication of a Christian life and a glorious triumph of the Christian faith over death. So let me die the death of the righteous.

She leaves behind her a bright-eyed, fair-headed little girl of tender years; bereft of a fond mother's watchful love and guardian care. Oh, Heaven! Guard her little life with deep solicitude and direct her tender feet into the beautiful paths trod by her sainted mother; so shall she escape the ills of earth and live a charmed life.

Husband, father, sisters, brothers and loved ones, weep not for Angie; for with a "crown on her head and a palm in her hand" she is safely anchored "in that far away home of the soul." But strive though the mercies of Christ "to meet one another again."
