A very painful accident befel Mrs. J. O. Fisher, wife of J. O. Fisher of the State Journal Co., Monday afternoon, while a passenger on 40, between Culbertson and McCook. In passing John Farley's place, just east of town, one of the boys, who was engaged in digging a well near the track, thoughtlessly threw a clod at the passing train, unfor-A number of the young people were tunately striking the window where Mrs. Fisher was sitting. The stone passed through the window and hit the lady in the eye, cutting quite a gash. Eleven smaller gashes were made by pieces of glass, two pieces ledging in her eye. Upon reaching this station medical aid was summoned, and the particles of glass extracted from face and eye. Mrs. Fisher's nerves were considerably shattered for the time by the accident. > It appears to be somewhat uncomfortable to life and limb to be found out late, these nights, without being able to give a satisfactory (?) account of one's self-and to do it in a hurry. Last Thursday evening, an individual whose business requires his being out at almost all hours of the night, happened to come down one of our public streets behind a young couple, (male and female were they) and being accosted by the male as to his particular business, and failing to give a satisfactory response, the male proceeded to polish off the first-named individual in the highest style of the pugilistic art-stretching the f. n. i. on the ground and tramping on him. An eye-witness to the affair gives our reporter the facts, and further deposes that the assailant was rather previous in his conclusions and his attack on the individual, whom he accused Knights of Pythias Anniversary. To-day is the 21st anniversary of the Order of Knights of Pythias. The first Lodge of the Order having been instituted February 19th, 1864, in Temperance Hall in the city of Washington, D. C.

The Order is strictly of American origin, founded on American soil at a time when a terrible civil war was waging, and the need of an organization having for the foundation of its principles Friendship, Charity, and Benevolence, was very apparent. The rise and progress of the Order of Knights of Pythias is a modern wonder in the so cial world; it being now the third Order of its class in numercial strength in the world, having a membership in round numbers of 175,000. The Lodges of the Order are in all states and territories of our nation, and have been wafted across the waters of the Pacific to the Hawaiian Islands and crossed the borders and found lodgement in the British provinces.

Hon. Jno. Van Valkenburg, Supreme Chancellor of the world, has declared this Pythian Day at the World's Exposition in New Orleans; and in an address to the Order desires to have as many members present as possible. Numer ous lodges over the country have been making elaborate preparations to celebrate the event.

Concerning the Order, the Manual and Text Book contains the following: We strive in the battle of life to uplift the fallen; to champion humanity; to be the true friend of man; to be his guide and hope; his refuge, shelter and defence; softening down the asperities of life; subduing party spirit; and, by the sweet and powerful attractions of friendship, charity, and benevolence, binding in one harmonious brotherhood men of all classes and all opinions. The Order is the hand maid of Religion; and "Like a tree planted by the rivers of water that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall pros per." It embraces all that tends toward peace on earth, and good will toward A KNIGHT.
