A fine line of native Colorado Jewelry at McCracken's.

A number of emigrants detrain at this station every day.

Grand family matinee at the Opera Hall, Saturday afternoon.

The City Livery Stable, B. F. Olcott, proprietor, for fine teams.

Two span of mares for sale at Dunbar & Newton's livery and feed stable.

"Wind mills," says the Cheyenne Stock Journal, "are the hope of the range."

Miss Stevens is now prepared to do sewing and dress-making in private families. See adv.

In his march of improvement, H. W. Pike has purchased a fine span of mules for use in his yard.

"Imitation," says Colton, "is the sincerest of flattery." Wherefore we do feel flattered muchly.

Moss Agate, Amethyst, Topaz, and Moss Jasper in Pins, Sets, Scarf Pins and Charms at the Jewelry Store.

It will pay you to read the advertisement of E. M. Brickey & Co., in this issue, and then investigate what they say.

The managers of the Chicago Comedy Co. have requested J. F. Forbes to play the character of Knox in "Van."

Any parties wanting breaking done on their claims, can have the same contracted for at Dunbar & Newton's livery stable.

Stock boarded by the day or week at Olcott's barn, opposite Colvin House. Also, buys and sells stock on commission.

For first-class dental work call on Dr. Gibson at the Commercial House. The doctor has concluded to locate in McCook.

An excellent quality of sweet Michigan cider at City Bakery. Also, a carload of Apples which will be sold cheap by the bushel.

Has no one heard anything about the death of one, Frederick W. Butler, who died at this place, December 24th, 1884, aged 30 years?

Town was over-run with land seekers, Saturday. Train was crowded into this station. And still they come and will continue to come.

If you want a suit of cloths cut and made in first-class style, call on R. A. Cole, first door west of B. & M. Pharmacy, McCook, Neb.

Go and hear a style of entertainment that is new, novel and varied, at Opera Hall, Friday, March 6th. Donavin's Original Tennesseans sing.

FOR SALE—6,550 acres of Red Willow School Lands, in quarters if desired. For price call on or address CHILD & COLVIN, Arapahoe, Neb.

The seed wheat offered for sale in this issue averaged, the White Russian, 35 bu. per acre, and the California Wheat, 27 bu. per acre. Sample at this office.

About every third man at Indianola is hunting for some fellow to sell land to and at McCook the proportion of this class of speculators is even larger than at Indianola.—Faber.

Per the Blue Hill Times of which he was local editor, we learn that F. L. Watkins will move to Indianola to assume charge of the western branch of Watkin Bros.' real estate business.

For the best Flour in town call at City Bakery.

Large stock of new stationery just received. A handsome assortment of visiting cards, regret cards, etc.

Now it doth more agitate the souls of men as to whether it be profitable, than whether it be honorable.—Junius Jr.

"Van, the Virginian," at the Opera Hall, to-night, by the Chicago Comedy Co. For other plays, watch for programmes.

We are requested to announce that Rev. M. L. Custer will preach at the Congregational church, next Sabbath morning at 11 o'clock.

The Ludwick residence on the hill near the school house is now occupied by Prof. and Mrs. Webster. Mr. Ludwick has moved out on to his claim northwest of town.

The Building Association has contracts for the erection of two more residences, which will be put up as soon as the weather moderates sufficiently to allow carpenters to work.

We have it that Dr. J. S. Shaw will remove to McCook again, having dissolved partnership with his brother at Indianola. Also, that the doctor has contracted for the erection of a dwelling house.

To-morrow will be Longfellow's Day at the public school, and as many of the patrons of the school as possible ought to display their interest in the school and children by being present in the afternoon.

A new county has been organized, the same being a portion of the large unorganized county of Sioux. The Legislature offers Gov. Dawes a comp. by calling it Dawes county. But the Gov. ought to be satisfied with Saline.

We have this week executed some neat work for B. F. Olcott, who conducts the City Livery Stable, opposite the Colvin House. Parties wishing anything in his line will find Ben. obliging and ready to fit them out in first-class style.

NEW BANK—Frees & Hoeknell are putting up a building adjoining their lumber office, the same to be used as a temporary office, while their present quarters will be occupied by the McCook Banking Co. until their contemplated brick building is completed.

REAL ESTATE DEALS—Hiram Bacon and sons have purchased the McPherson tract of land situated about 4 1/2 miles west of town on the valley. They purpose improving and stocking the same. Mr. McPherson also disposed of 200 acres adjoining his large track to R. H. Trowbridge.

You may perceive a look of far-off, Solomonic wisdom suffusing itself over sundry and numerous countenances, these troublous times, as one and another citizen dives into his inside pockets for unheard of articles. The doctors have not satisfactorily diagnosed the case, but the symptoms are very like the itch.

We have just received a car load of that Grand Island Flour that has been such a great favorite with the people of McCook, and we are selling it at a sweeping reduction of 50 cents per hundred on all grades. We have also reduced the price on bread, and we now give four loaves for 25 cents. Pies, 10 cents a piece. PROBST BROS.

A party whose name we failed to ascertain lodged a No. 22 ball from a revolver in his hand, last Thursday afternoon, while engaged in forcing a load into the same. The ball (which was extracted) came in contact with a bone, and may yet occasion the man considerable trouble. Discretion seems to be a jewel so priceless that few have it.

This community will continue to be the Mecca of many disreputable characters so long as the laws are so loosely administered—so long as evil-doers know that they can enjoy immunity from punishment here. Where you find the law rigidly enforced against gambling, houses of ill-fame, and institutions of like ilk, from these places you will see those who engage in these unlawful pursuits fleeing like rats from a sinking vessel.

The Chicago Comedy Co. presented "Van, the Virginian or the Double Marriage," at Crawford's last night to a crowded house. This is one of Bartley Campbell's best plays, a blending of comedy and pathos true to nature. Miss Wells as "Kate Calvert" made many friends and was recalled three times. A compliment seldom paid to any one by a Topeka audience. The support was exceptionally good.—Daily Commonwealth, Topeka, Kansas.

The best paying investment we know of is a first-class hotel. The high prices demanded at the Eating House puts that house beyond the reach of any but millionaire commercial tourists, and the remaining two hotels are entirely inadequate to the public necessities, which will be greatly enlarged this spring. Let some one take this—a first-class paying investment in hand. There is more money in it than in a score of wild-cat speculations.

The Culbertson Sun is our authority for the statement that, "Joe Braun has disposed of his saloon and is about to retire to private life." We have some printed stationery at this office ordered by Joe, that we will sell at a discount, Herr Joseph not possessing, apparently, the manhood to come and pay for the same. When the stationery was delivered, it was refused by an individual by the name of Clyde, who does the beer slinging in the institution.

By reason (?) of the large number of lots recently sold by the Lincoln Land Co., and the number of fine buildings that have been erected, (thereby enhancing the value of adjacent lots,) the Land company has ordered an advance of 15 per centum on present prices. The price of lots in McCook is already unusually high, and the present raise puts them way out of sight. Probably the company, however, understand what they are about—the public certainly fails to appreciate it.

This town has had the misfortune to harbor more unadulterated dead-beats and scamps, recently, than is at all healthful to any community. One of the most contemptible of the above named class was H. P. Kelly, who runs the brick yard at this point. The story, (and we have no reason to doubt or question its veracity), told us, shows this man Kelly to be a miserable, cowardly rough, and it is a matter greatly to be regretted that the people of this town ever permitted him to act in as cowardly and brutal way as he no doubt did toward those whom he had in other days—probably happier days, ever alcohol sapped out his manhood—sworn to love, cherish and protect. We appeal to the manhood of the citizens of McCook to protect the weak and innocent—even though the necessity for saloons and bawdy houses is claimed to exist and to be imperative. Shall we appeal in vain, or will further transgressions receive their richly merited punishment.

One of our land attorneys has been engaged for some time looking into the facts in connection with the Phillips claim, which adjoins the town site on the northwest, and upon which proof was made some time since. The facts as related to us are to the effect that the claim was taken and proof made upon the same under the pre-emption law, and that the party so doing had already some 400 acres of land in his own proper name; in the face of that other fact that one who makes proof under said law makes an oath that he has not 320 acres of land in his name. The law makes it necessary to subscribe such an oath before advantage can be taken of the pre-emption law under any circumstances. Further, that sufficient proof had about been gathered, and the records at the U. S. Land Office were being scanned, when a consignment of patents from the government was opened and in it was found the patent for the claim in question. Upon which the matter, for lack of means, was allowed to drop, although the attorney is of opinion that the case can be successfully reached through the courts.

Last week we referred to a law suit as having transpired before Esquire Colvin between some of the German residents of Dry Creek, over the contract for some breaking. On Friday, a whole wagon load of them were in town, and the witnesses in the suit became quite wrought up over the fact that no allowance for mileage had been made for them. Before departing for home in the evening, the majority of the outfit were pretty comfortably full, and displayed the asinine nature of the intoxicated in driving through the streets, then starting on a run for home, only to return in a few minutes, dropping one and another of the more intoxicated out of the wagon at times. This performance was repeated a number of times, much to the amusement of a crowd, which had been attracted to the street by the yelling and merriment. This is one of many similar cases that might be cited in history, in which the costs of the suit were more than the amount involved in the litigation. The prosecuting parties paid $91 to get judgment for a little over $40. But there was bushels of fun connected with the affair.

Another case of mislocating parties occurred last week, in which Frederick W. Butler again figures as the real estate dealer, etc. The lady hailed from Beatrice, and though warned that Butler was not reliable, and though informed by Butler himself that neither his word nor bond were of any effect, the lady was foolish enough to have the fellow take her out to see claims south of town in the morning, and in the afternoon she filed papers on "A BEAUTIFUL" half-section—in the Devil's Gap region, paying Butler therefore $50. By the following morning, the woman became convinced that she had not filed on the land that had been shown her, but on the contrary that she had used her rights on very rough land, appeared at the Land Office and recounted her wrongs with the vehemency and rapidity of an excited woman, the meanwhile shedding tears most copiously. The matter was finally arranged at the Land Office, when the woman proceeded to give her undivided attention to Frederick W. Butler, Esq.; but that individual having spent the money in the "flowing bowl," she was unable to gain much satisfaction from that source. Finally, to those of our real estate men who desire to retain their good name and reputation, let us whisper, fire out every last stool pigeon and loafing mis-locator in your offices. They will drive away more business than they can ever bring you. LATER—We are informed that the woman has recovered all but $10.

A north Nebraska farmer has hired a hand to work for him this year on a schedule of wages beginning with a kernel of wheat the first day, two the next, four, eight, and so on, doubling the amount every day. We just want to say to the farmer that there hasn't been enough wheat raised since the flood to make seed for what he will owe at the end of the year.—Topics.

The Locomotive Fireman's Ball was a most successful and enjoyable occasion indeed. Notwithstanding the deep snow, the hall was crowded with the boys and their sweet hearts, and a pleasant time was the universal experience—except Fred Harris, who had the misfortune to fall on the pinnacle of his proboscis, with direful and painful results. Come again.

J. J. Dunbar has vacated the Pate building and the same will be occupied by Mrs. McNelus as a millinery store. Dr. Gibson has purchased the McNelus store room and will occupy the same in the practice of dentistry.

There will be a Gospel Temperance Meeting in the Opera Hall, Sunday afternoon, at 4:30, prompt. All are invited, especially those who may be wanting to break away from the power of strong drinks.

The safe—a first-class burglar proof—for The McCook Banking Co. has been snowed in somewhere on the road, and consequently delayed by reason thereof.

A FINE HORSE—W. W. Dunham has a fine blooded Hambletonian stallion that will do limited service, this spring.

The B. & M. Pharmacy has just received a spring stock of glass, paints, oils, dye stuffs, drugs, calomine, etc.

The Metropolitan Drug Store has secured the services of J. L. Taylor, a druggist of five year's experience.

A supply of fresh candy at the City Bakery. Tony has the cream of the candy trade.

J. W. DYER, County Clerk.

By order of County Commissioners.

Coming—Rare Musical Treat.

Donavin's Original Tennesseans are to give one of their musical entertainments in this place on Friday, March 6th. Judging from the high reputation the Tennesseans have maintained since their organization in 1873, and the unlimited praise accorded them by eminent musical critics and the public press wherever they have been it is not too much to predict that it will prove the best concert of vocal music ever given here. Their program embraces a large variety and wide range of singing, which cannot fail to please all.

Baled Hay.

I have baled hay for sale, in large or small quantities. B. F. OLCOTT.

PERSONAL POINTERS.

Sheriff Welborn was in town, Saturday.

Mrs. Albert Noren went to Lincoln, Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Maiken were in town on a short visit, Wednesday.

Mr. Price of Hastings participated in the dance, Monday evening.

M. Y. Starbuck and S. Plunkett of Indianola were in town, Saturday.

Lou Armacost, Treasurer of Hayes county, and cattleman, is in town, to-day.
